Nation's Monetary Policy Discussed At Conference

MORGENTHAU MEETS WITH ROOSEVELT

No Change Anticipated in Government Program as Result of Conferences

CRITICISM IS IGNORED

General Hugh Johnson to Call on President Later in Day, Reports Say

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 24.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today prepared to give full consideration to all angles of the nation's highly complex monetary problems in the first of a series of conferences with Henry Morgenthau jr., acting secretary of the treasury, who came here from Washington.

Although the conferences came while a lively debate between experts and economic bodies favoring and disapproving of the government's gold buying program was raging, they were not believed to be harbingers of a change in monetary policy.

Outwardly unmoved by criticism of his program for commodity price raising, Mr. Roosevelt's discussions were watched with intense interest in all quarters but repeated pronouncements have been made by his advisers that nothing unusual would develop.

No Retreat

Furthermore, it was added, alarmist expressions of a rapid drift toward currency inflation on the part of the administration, were not having the slightest effect on determining future policies. It was reiterated, there was no likelihood of a retreat by the president from the present monetary policy.

Morgenthau will remain at Warm Springs with Mrs. Morgenthau until after Thanksgiving. While here it was believed that both he and the president would find ample opportunity to survey the financial situation from every viewpoint.

Johnson Calls

Another caller of importance today was to be General Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator. Johnson, who made an NRA speech in Atlanta last night was coming to Warm Springs to outline to the president the progress of the recovery program and to discuss important codes of fair competition still awaiting final action in Washington.

Other visitors to Warm Springs in the next few days will be Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, who also is public works administrator; Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, and William C. Bullitt, newly appointed ambassador to Russia.

BOOTLEGGER HANGS

McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 24.—(UP)—Earl Quinn, debonair Kansas City bootlegger, was electrocuted at the state penitentiary here at 12:07 a. m. today for the murder of Jessie Griffith, 24-year-old Blackwell, Okla., teacher, more than two years ago.

STOCK MARKET ADVANCES IN FACE OF SHARP DOLLAR GAIN

DR. WYNEKOOP CONFESSES TO KILLING GIRL

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—(UP)—Police said today that Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, 67-year-old grey-haired woman physician, confessed she chloroformed her daughter-in-law and shot her to death.

"I took her down to the operating room and gave her chloroform," they quoted the elderly woman as confessing. "Then I shot her. It was about 2 p. m. I was alone in the house."

The aged woman, broken under the strain of hours of grilling questioning, was quoted by police as giving a complete confession of the crime.

"Rheta was an invalid. She was unbalanced and could not live long," they quoted Dr. Wynekoop as saying. "So I killed her. I placed the blanket over her and walked away."

'My son lost all love and affection for the young woman within a month after he married her. She was anemic,' the officers' said the physician told them.

While the statement was being taken, a detail of police was dispatched to the dismal Wynekoop home to bring several articles mentioned by Dr. Wynekoop in her confession to the police station.

"Well boys," said Stege, "the case is solved. Dr. Wynekoop has told us the whole story."

Father Present

Brudine H. Gardner, father of Rheta, whose body was reported found by her mother-in-law on the operating table in the basement of the gloomy house Tuesday night, was present when the confession was announced.

A detailed statement was given police by the aged doctor.

"Rheta was down in the basement weighing herself on the scales in the operating room. I came down and stood in the doorway. Rheta complained of bad pains in the plevic region. I told her to get up on the operating table and I would examine her.

"Rheta had her clothes off as she always did when she weighed herself. I started to examine her. Then I gave her chloroform. She lost consciousness. For 25 minutes I worked over the girl. I looked at the pupils of her eyes. I was certain that she would not come out of the anaesthetic.

"I was confronted with a terrible problem. My whole life seemed to flash before me. I felt certain Rheta was going to die. Suddenly I remembered the revolver in the desk in the other room.

ACQUIT NURSE OF CHARGES IN GRACE MURDER

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Nov. 24.—(UP)—Miss Frieda W. Weltz, titian-haired nurse, freed of murder charges by a jury verdict of acquittal, planned today to leave the scene of her trial ordeal "as soon as possible."

She was to go to San Francisco later in the day with her sister, Miss Meta Weltz, and her brother, William Weltz, who came here from Connellsville, Pa., to be with their sister during the trial. Their future plans were indefinite.

The jury of 11 men and one woman returned its verdict late last night after 10 hours and 25 minutes deliberation. The state had asked that the defendant be hanged for the slaying of Francis J. M. Grace, her former employer. The defense sought her freedom on the grounds that she did not intentionally shoot Grace, whom she had accused of criminally attacking her.

When the verdict was read by Mrs. Ruby Enemark, the foreman, the two women clung together, weeping and whispering, for almost five minutes. Courtroom spectators applauded the jury's decision.

A. B. M'ILVAIN OF SANTA ANA ENDS HIS LIFE

NEWTON, Kan., Nov. 24.—(UP) A. B. McIlvain, Santa Ana, Calif., Shot himself fatally aboard a Santa Fe passenger train, No. 24, yesterday afternoon just as the train was leaving Newton.

The train was stopped and he was rushed to a hospital but died half an hour later.

McIlvain fired two shots into his head with a .45 caliber pistol, throwing the other passengers in the coach into a panic. M. L. Ozier, Liberty, Mo., and Mrs. Ozier were sitting across the aisle from McIlvain when he began to shoot.

Harry Koops, New York, sitting a few seats away, rushed to McIlvain and wrenched the gun away. Other passengers fled into other coaches.

McIlvain had a ticket from Los Angeles to St. Louis. A knife bearing his name and "West Liberty, Ohio," at first led authorities to believe that he was from that place. He also had a 50-share certificate of stock in the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

Miss Marion Baier, Los Angeles, en route to Kansas City for the funeral of her mother, heard the shots in the woman's lounge and collapsed when she opened the door and saw the blood flowing from McIlvain's wounds. She said she noticed him walking nervously in the aisle the night before.

McIlvain was well known in Santa Ana and resided at the Roosmore hotel. He was a brother of Harry McIlvain and uncle of Howard McIlvain, of Santa Ana, proprietors of the Blue Ribbon dairy and was a retired banker. The family said today that he left here Monday and was going to West Liberty, Ohio, his former home, on a busines trip, and the body would be sent there awaiting funeral arrangements.

McIlvain had lived in Santa Ana for the past seven years and was considered an expert on investments, stocks and financial matters. He was an active trader on the stock market and was in close touch with financial developments.

GOLD PRICE TODAY REMAINS THE SAME

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(UP)—The government today fixed its price on newly mined American gold at $33.76 an ounce, unchanged for the fourth consecutive day.

Most Issues Jump Ahead, Wheat Soars

Early Rise Loses Part of Strength Just Before Close of Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(UP)—The stock market firmed up today in the face of one of the sharpest gains in the dollar in several years, a gain based on growing strength of Anti-inflation forces.

The anti-inflation sentiment was given a great spur before the close of the market when Former Governor Alfred E. Smith in a statement favored return to the gold dollar. The statement resulted in the market for United States government securities extending its gain, while foreign currencies slipped off further in reflation to the dollar. Stocks lost some of the 1 to almost 3 points gain they had recorded in earlier transactions.

Wheat closed strong on the basis of reports that Smith's strtement would be favorable to the commodity market. The grain market closed before the statement was published.

The stock market took its leadership from utilties, the first time in months this group has assumed leadership on an upswing. Reports the government might change its attitude towards the utility companies plus an oversold condition in the market were chiefly responsible for the strength in this group. Consolidated Gas shot up to 39 3-4 for more than 2 points gain and held most of it. North American spurted almost 2 points. Public Service of New Jersey gained 3 points to 36 and then eased a point. United Corporation and United Gas Improvement were

OIL LABOR BOARD ANNOUNCED TODAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(UP)—Estbalishment of an oil labor board was announced today by oil Administrator Ickes to study and recommend differentials between wages for skilled and unskilled labor.

Ickes said the differentials, when established, would be retroactive to Sept. 2. Nathan R. Margold, chairman of the petroleum administrative board, was made chairman of the labor board.

Dr. George W. Stocking, University of Texas, was chosen as one of the labor representatives, along with H. C. Freming, president of the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers, and Charles C. Jones, of Bayonne, New Jersey.

CITY OFFICIALS OF COUNTY RESUBMIT PROJECTS TODAY ON CIVIL WORKS PROGRAM

CITY ENGINEERS and city officials of Orange county were scheduled to meet with Welfare Director Byron V. Curry late this afternoon to resubmit projects under the new Civil Works program so that 2454 unemployed men in the county can go to work within a few days.

Announcement of the meeting was made last night at a meeting sponsored by the League of Orange County Municipalities, attended by 115 officials of Southern California, including Earl Thomas, Palo Alto mayor, and president of the California League of Municipalities.

All men employed on R. F. C. projects in Orange county will be laid off tonight, it was learned, but will be reemployed under the new setup at least by Wednesday morning, according to Curry.

Wages for the men have not yet been set but the price set up in the Civil Works commission are 45 cents an hour for unskilled labor and $1.10 an hour for skilled labor, it was reported. There are a number of problems in connection with the wages, which include dealing with prevailing wage scales and wages paid by the state on highway projects.

Higher Wage

If the prevailing wage is higher than the figures named, these must be used, Harold Pomeroy, mayor of Southgate and contact man for the California League of Municipalities with the Civil Works commission, told the officials last night.

Curry will be the director of the works program in Orange county, working under the county Civil Works commission, which was appointed yesterday. This commission has for its members the same Orange county men who were members of the local board of the state emergency relief committee. J. K. McDonald heads the commission and other members are Oscar Heying and R. B. Newcom.

Pomeroy explained the set up under the new Civil Works program, pointing out that it is a federal agency to provide full time jobs for unemployed men on public works and to employ them quickly.

He explained that the projects, which must be desirable from a public benefit standpoint, can be approved by the local commission

PROBE REVEALS MORE DETAILS OF FOX CRASH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(UP)—"Mind-your-own-business" message, allegedly sent in December, 1929, to President Hoover by Albert H. Wiggin, head of the Chase National bank, was related today in senate stock market investigation by William Fox.

Fox said the message was conveyed by Wiggin to Claudius Houston, who was chairman of the Republican National Committee during part of the Hoover administration.

Houston and James Francis Burke, general counsel of the Republican National Committee, had been attempting to aid Fox against what he alleges was a bankers' conspiracy. Houston had Christmas dinner in December, 1929 with Wiggin and appealed to him in behalf of Fox.

"After that dinner," Fox said, "Houston told me Mr. Wiggin told him to tell the President of the United States to mind his own business and not to interfere with what the bankers were doing down in New York. They could take care of their own business and they resented Mr. Hoover's interference in this matter."

The message incident came after Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, had announced that the committee would subpoena records from 11 banks to show whether Fox, who charged the banks conspired to force his movie empire into bankruptcy, was right in his assertions.

In a letter to Wiggin and all other interested bankers, Fox said he had been informed that unless loans were paid at once the bank-

SARRAUT VOTED OUT OF OFFICE WITH CABINET

PARIS, Nov. 24.—(UP)—A national coalition government or dissolution of parliament seemed imminent today as President Albert LeBrun sought a successor to Premier Albert Sarraut, whose government was overthrown by the chamber of deputies in the early morning hours.

Camille Chautemps, Sarraut's minister of interior; Georges Bonnett, his finance minister and Edouard Daladier, whom Sarraut succeeded only four weeks ago today, were mentioned as possible successors.

Sarraut's government met its defeat at the end of a stormy 17 1-2 hours debate in the chamber of the bitterly controversial issue of pay for civil servants.

HEARINGS ON STATE BARBER CODE ENDED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24. —(UP)—Additional hearings on the barber code will be prohibited for the present by lack of state recovery administration funds, Governor Rolph advised local barbers.

Journeymen had asked for inclusion of fixed prices in the permanent code, with a scale of 65 cents in San Francisco and 50 cents elsewhere in the state. Rolph said Attorney General U. S. Webb has been asked for an opinion as to where additional state recovery funds may be obtained.

DYING WINDS BRING HOPE FOR RELIEF

HUNDREDS FIGHT FIRE

BULLETIN

PASADENA, Nov. 24.—(UP)—After devastating nearly 5000 acres of valuable brush land and consuming more than a score of homes, a fire which ravaged the Tujunga-La Crescenta footbill district for 60 hours, was brought under control today, William V. Mendenhall, Angeles forest supervisor announced.

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 24. —(UP)—Dying winds brought hope of relief today to a wearied army of firefighters, struggling to control a gigantic brush fire that has spread a wide path of destruction in the populated foothills of the Sierra Madre mountains.

A score of homes lay in ruins and more than 3000 acres of valuable watershed were devastated as firemen sought to check the fire along a 5-mile front. Property damage was estimated between three and five million dollars.

A night long battle to prevent the flames from roaring into the Arroyo Seco, Pasadena's principal watershed, was rewarded early today when the fire was blocked at the Angeles Crest higaway on the west ridge. Several hundred civilian conservation corps men were massed along the highway to keep the fire from dealing a stunning blow to Pasadena's water supply.

The situation in this sector as in most others was described by the U. S. Forestry station as "very good.

Homes Menaced

A number of palatial homes were menaced when the fire leaped into Earl canyon after burning over a 25-mile area. The district was partially evacuated. A skilfully-planned backfire turned the blaze before it could reach the residential area. A favorable wind aided firemen.

Homes in this district include those of Mae Marsh, film actress; E. M. Hoag, chain store millionaire; E. K. Potter, wealthy oil man; Rush Blodgett, oil company attorney; William Slavens McNutt, the writer; and E. Manchester Boddy, Los Angeles publisher.

The fire, which has been burning since Tuesday night, lapped back toward the thickly populated San Gabriel valley but here too it was checked by a backfire along a ridge. Rampaging flames then turned toward Altadena and La Canada but fire wardens halted them before the towns became endangered.

Fifty Casualties

Many scenes of desolation were left in the fire's wake. More than 50 minor casualties also were reported from the ranks of firefighters. First aid stations were

AN INVESTMENT WE SHOULD MAKE, NOT AN EXPENSE

(AN EDITORIAL)

There will be a number of bond issues before the people of Santa Ana and of Orange county, in the election on the 19th of December.

There is grave danger of the people not exercising much discrimination, in voting upon these bonds, and yet the thinking man and woman will examine into these questions with extremely great care and be judicious in the use of their ballots, as possibly never before in the history of the county.

These bonds, upon which the people of Orange county will vote, will furnish a portion of the money that is required to complete Newport Harbor, with the main channel 20 feet deep, at low tide, 500 feet wide, from the entrance to Newport Boulevard and all the rest of the area at least 10 feet deep.

This improvement will cost, in round figures $1,800,000.

Owing to the desire by the Federal government to have all public improvements possible inaugurated and carried on right now, two-thirds of this money can be furnished by the Federal government, and will be, while only one-third would be placed against the county, and that one-third, the Federal government will loan to the county at the low rate of interest of four per cent, and give 30 years for the payment of the principal.

Whatever we may think of other bonds, in our judgment, this deserves our favorable consideration.

In the first place, it is nothing but an investment, and an investment upon which we will receive returns upon nearly two millions of dollars, while we only need to expend $600,000.

It is an investment which will immediately insure such an increase in the actual assessed valuation of property in the Newport Beach area, primarily of water craft of all kinds, including unquestionably some of the finest yachts on the Pacific, as will in itself very nearly take care of the entire increase of taxes due to this venture itself.

The increase of the value of property outside of Newport, due to this venture, will more than make up on their tax duplicates this addition.

This is not only so, but it means that Orange county will have such a development on its South coast at Newport Beach, as to attract thousands of people all over the United States to this county, which will mean the enhancing of the value of real estate in every community in the county.

Not only so, but the identifying of the Federal government with the harbor at Newport Beach, through their engineers taking control of its building, will give it a degree of prominence and importance in the whole Federal government for the future, as to bring out in bold relief its natural and strategic importance from every point of view to the Federal government itself, and thereby insure further development.

This means a clear co-operation with the President in his program, and a favorable vote will evidence that the people of Orange county appreciate what is being done and are willing to do a little, at least, toward co-operating with the government in the development of our own county.

It means not only the activity and the employment of workers of this two million dollars worth at once, but everyone knows that this amount of money paid out directly, will multiply as it proceeds through the various hands which receive it, in return for food and clothing and shelter, into other hands, so that it will continue to do its effective work many times over as it passes from hand to hand.

The increased values in Orange county, during the past few years have largely come from our coast.

Only 14 years ago, there were paid in taxes from the Coast to the county, $63,286.

Today, in 1933, there was paid in taxes from the Coast, $438,200.

In Newport Beach and Costa Mesa, the assessed valuation 14 years ago was $2,018,165, and the taxes paid into the county were only $20,000.

Today, in 1933, the tax valuation is $7,648,465, and the taxes paid are nearly six times as much as they were 14 years ago, namely, $118,550.

The increased valuation of property, it is very apparent, will leap by a completion of the harbor in such a manner that it will not need this yearly expenditure that has had to be placed upon it heretofore.

This is not money spent to run in debt.

It is money being spent for us to get out of debt.

It is an investment that insures returns.

It insures the returns immediately but more in the years to come.

Under normal conditions Newport Beach and Costa Mesa could afford to do this themselves, without the aid of the county.

Under normal conditions, Santa Ana could afford to do it without the aid of the county.

In normal conditions, the county could afford to do it without the aid of either.

Certainly combining our interest for this relatively small amount, when compared with the total amount that will be used for expenditure, we can join in for this great community enterprise, which is uniting the county in one magnificent activity, such as has not seen the county united for several years.

The most conservative men in our communities, in the voting of bonds, in the main recognize that this one case is an outstanding exception to the rule which should govern the careful citizen.

Let us give Newport Beach, Santa Ana and the county itself the opportunity to accept this great boon from the Federal government.

Wages for the men have not yet been set but the price set up in the Civil Works commission are 45 cents an hour for unskilled labor and $1.10 an hour for skilled labor, it was reported. There are a number of problems in connection with the wages, which include dealing with prevailing wage scales and wages paid by the state on highway projects.

Higher Wage

If the prevailing wage is higher than the figures named, these must be used, Harold Pomeroy, mayor of Southgate and contact man for the California League of Municipalities with the Civil Works commission, told the officials last night.

Curry will be the director of the works program in Orange county, working under the county Civil Works commission, which was appointed yesterday. This commission has for its members the same Orange county men who were members of the local board of the state emergency relief committee. J. K. McDonald heads the commission and other members are Oscar Heying and R. B. Newcom.

Pomeroy explained the set up under the new Civil Works program, pointing out that it is a federal agency to provide full time jobs for unemployed men on public works and to employ them quickly.

He explained that the projects, which must be desirable from a public benefit standpoint, can be approved by the local commission

PROBE REVEALS MORE DETAILS OF FOX CRASH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(UP)—"Mind-your-own-business" message, allegedly sent in December, 1929, to President Hoover by Albert H. Wiggin, head of the Chase National bank, was related today in senate stock market investigation by William Fox.

Fox said the message was conveyed by Wiggin to Claudius Houston, who was chairman of the Republican National Committee during part of the Hoover administration.

Houston and James Francis Burke, general counsel of the Republican National Committee, had been attempting to aid Fox against what he alleges was a bankers' conspiracy. Houston had Christmas dinner in December, 1929 with Wiggin and appealed to him in behalf of Fox.

"After that dinner," Fox said, "Houston told me Mr. Wiggin told him to tell the President of the United States to mind his own business and not to interfere with what the bankers were doing down in New York. They could take care of their own business and they resented Mr. Hoover's interference in this matter."

The message incident came after Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, had announced that the committee would subpoena records from 11 banks to show whether Fox, who charged the banks conspired to force his movie empire into bankruptcy, was right in his assertions.

In a letter to Wiggin and all other interested bankers, Fox said he had been informed that unless loans were paid at once the bank-

SARRAUT VOTED OUT OF OFFICE WITH CABINET

PARIS, Nov. 24.—(UP)—A national coalition government or dissolution of parliament seemed imminent today as President Albert LeBrun sought a successor to Premier Albert Sarraut, whose government was overthrown by the chamber of deputies in the early morning hours.

Camille Chautemps, Sarraut's minister of interior; Georges Bonnett, his finance minister and Edouard Daladier, whom Sarraut succeeded only four weeks ago today, were mentioned as possible successors.

HEARINGS ON STATE BARBER CODE ENDED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24. —(UP)—Additional hearings on the barber code will be prohibited for the present by lack of state recovery administration funds, Governor Rolph advised local barbers.

Journeymen had asked for inclusion of fixed prices in the permanent code, with a scale of 65 cents in San Francisco and 50 cents elsewhere in the state. Rolph said Attorney General U. S. Webb has been asked for an opinion as to where additional state recovery funds may be obtained.

DYING WINDS BRING HOPE FOR RELIEF

HUNDREDS FIGHT FIRE

BULLETIN

PASADENA, Nov. 24.—(UP)—After devastating nearly 5000 acres of valuable brush land and consuming more than a score of homes, a fire which ravaged the Tujunga-La Crescenta footbill district for 60 hours, was brought under control today, William V. Mendenhall, Angeles forest supervisor announced.

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 24. —(UP)—Dying winds brought hope of relief today to a wearied army of firefighters, struggling to control a gigantic brush fire that has spread a wide path of destruction in the populated foothills of the Sierra Madre mountains.

A score of homes lay in ruins and more than 3000 acres of valuable watershed were devastated as firemen sought to check the fire along a 5-mile front. Property damage was estimated between three and five million dollars.

A night long battle to prevent the flames from roaring into the Arroyo Seco, Pasadena's principal watershed, was rewarded early today when the fire was blocked at the Angeles Crest higaway on the west ridge. Several hundred civilian conservation corps men were massed along the highway to keep the fire from dealing a stunning blow to Pasadena's water supply.

The situation in this sector as in most others was described by the U. S. Forestry station as "very good.

Homes Menaced

A number of palatial homes were menaced when the fire leaped into Earl canyon after burning over a 25-mile area. The district was partially evacuated. A skilfully-planned backfire turned the blaze before it could reach the residential area. A favorable wind aided firemen.

Homes in this district include those of Mae Marsh, film actress; E. M. Hoag, chain store millionaire; E. K. Potter, wealthy oil man; Rush Blodgett, oil company attorney; William Slavens McNutt, the writer; and E. Manchester Boddy, Los Angeles publisher.

The fire, which has been burning since Tuesday night, lapped back toward the thickly populated San Gabriel valley but here too it was checked by a backfire along a ridge. Rampaging flames then turned toward Altadena and La Canada but fire wardens halted them before the towns became endangered.

Fifty Casualties

Many scenes of desolation were left in the fire's wake. More than 50 minor casualties also were reported from the ranks of firefighters. First aid stations were

AN INVESTMENT WE SHOULD MAKE, NOT AN EXPENSE

(AN EDITORIAL)

There will be a number of bond issues before the people of Santa Ana and of Orange county, in the election on the 19th of December.

There is grave danger of the people not exercising much discrimination, in voting upon these bonds, and yet the thinking man and woman will examine into these questions with extremely great care and be judicious in the use of their ballots, as possibly never before in the history of the county.

These bonds, upon which the people of Orange county will vote, will furnish a portion of the money that is required to complete Newport Harbor, with the main channel 20 feet deep, at low tide, 500 feet wide, from the entrance to Newport Boulevard and all the rest of the area at least to feet deep.

This improvement will cost, in round figures $1,800,000.

Owing to the desire by the Federal government to have all public improvements possible inaugurated and carried on right now, two-thirds of this money can be furnished by the Federal government, and will be, while only one-third would be placed against the county, and that one-third, the Federal government will loan to the county at the low rate of interest of four per cent, and give 30 years for the payment of the principal.

Whatever we may think of other bonds, in our judgment, this deserves our favorable consideration.

In the first place, it is nothing but an investment, and an investment upon which we will receive returns upon nearly two millions of dollars, while we only need to expend $600,000.

It is an investment which will immediately insure such an increase in the actual assessed valuation of property in the Newport Beach area, primarily of water craft of all kinds, including unquestionably some of the finest yachts on the Pacific, as will in itself very nearly take care of the entire increase of taxes due to this venture itself.

The increase of the value of property outside of Newport, due to this venture, will more than make up on their tax duplicates this addition.

This is not only so, but it means that Orange county will have such a development on its South coast at Newport Beach, as to attract thousands of people all over the United States to this county, which will mean the enhancing of the value of real estate in every community in the county.

Not only so, but the identifying of the Federal government with the harbor at Newport Beach, through their engineers taking control of its building, will give it a degree of prominence and importance in the whole Federal government for the future, as to bring out in bold relief its natural and strategic importance from every point of view to the Federal government itself, and thereby insure further development.

This means a clear co-operation with the President in his program, and a favorable vote will evidence that the people of Orange county appreciate what is being done and are willing to do a little, at least, toward co-operating with the government in the development of our own county.

It means not only the activity and the employment of workers of this two million dollars worth at once, but everyone knows that this amount of money paid out directly, will multiply as it proceeds through the various hands which receive it, in return for food and clothing and shelter, into other hands, so that it will continue to do its effective work many times over as it passes from hand to hand.

The increased values in Orange county, during the past few years have largely come from our coast.

Only 14 years ago, there were paid in taxes from the Coast to the county, $63,286.

Today, in 1933, there was paid in taxes from the Coast, $438,200.

In Newport Beach and Costa Mesa, the assessed valuation 14 years ago was $2,018,165, and the taxes paid into the county were only $20,000.

Today, in 1933, the tax valuation is $7,648,465, and the taxes paid are nearly six times as much as they were 14 years ago, namely, $118,550.

The increased valuation of property, it is very apparent, will leap by a completion of the harbor in such a manner that it will not need this yearly expenditure that has had to be placed upon it heretofore.

This is not money spent to run in debt.

It is money being spent for us to get out of debt.

It is an investment that insures returns.

It insures the returns immediately but more in the years to come.

Under normal conditions Newport Beach and Costa Mesa could afford to do this themselves, without the aid of the county.

Under normal conditions, Santa Ana could afford to do it without the aid of the county.

In normal conditions, the county could afford to do it without the aid of either.

Certainly combining our interest for this relatively small amount, when compared with the total amount that will be used for expenditure, we can join in for this great community enterprise, which is uniting the county in one magnificent activity, such as has not seen the county united for several years.

The most conservative men in our communities, in the voting of bonds, in the main recognize that this one case is an outstanding exception to the rule which should govern the careful citizen.

set up to administer to burned hands and scorched faces.

Many escapes were reported. K. Feenstra, an invalid, awoke to find the fire sweeping toward his cabin. A corrugated iron garage offered himself, his wife and daughter refuge as the flames enveloped their cabin and raced on.

An element of humor developed when C. F. McIntyre, member of the University of California at Los Angeles English department, was found seated in his car near his home. Awaiting approach of the flames with him were a burro, several chickens, two cats, a dog and several other pets which he had piled in the back seat. The fire was turned before reaching his home so the professor calmly unloaded.

Mrs. Frank Hyder returned to the smoking ruins of her home to find a roasted leg of lamb in the ice box. The freshly cooked meat was served to hungry firemen.

and are only reviewed by the state commission, which is headed by R. C. Branion, director.

Types of projects which will be approved include roads, streets, flood control, water conservation, reconstruction or remodelling of public buildings, parks, playgrounds and projects submitted by boards of education or other civic groups, he said.

Women Get Aid

An attempt will be made under the new program to supply unemployed women with work, Pomeroy stated, in giving them work along juvenile lines, in libraries, in sewing groups and similar activities.

Materials may be purchased where it is necessary, he said, and prices of these should be included in the projects submitted. The boards will handle no money directly, the men who are employed being federal employes and paid directly. Their pay will not be subject to garnishee, he declared.

The speaker stressed the point that the work is not welfare relief and men will work just as if they are working for contractors. After December 1 the men can be fired or hired just as if working for contractors. In Orange county men will be taken first from the county welfare rolls. Work must be carried out by force account. Men will work 30 hours a week.

Earl Thomas spoke briefly at the meeting, outlining activities of the California League of Municipalities. A letter from him to the Orange county group was read, answering questions and criticism directed by the Orange County League against the state organization.

Open Offices

J. W. Charleville, Pasadena, new executive-secretary of the California League, announced that offices of the state organization will be opened in Los Angeles on January 1.

Election of officers and adoption of by-laws, scheduled for last night, was postponed until the next meeting because af the lateness of the hour of adjournment last night. The next meeting will be held in Fullerton.

H. H. Cotton, federal public works director, who was scheduled to speak, was not able to be present, having found it necessary to go to San Francisco.

Mayor Paul Witmer presided as program chairman while Councilman Leo J. Sheridan, president of the Orange county league, presided at the business session.

Entertainment for the meting was furnished by the famous Santa Ana Elks double quartet, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Armstrong. The quartet, which sang during the dinner hour, was enthusiastically received and encored repeatedly.

WELFARE DIRECTOR MAKES STATEMENT

"Effective today all work relief programs will be discontinued and from the list of those working on relief projects 30 days preceding November 22, will be selected 2454 names and to those people will be mailed federal assignments to federal jobs directing them where and when to report for work and the rate of pay to be received," Welfare Director Curry said today.

"In order that the change may be made completely from the work relief to the civil work program it has been deemed advisable to begin the civil works program Wednesday morning. All men will receive their assignments effective as of that date.

"Each community will be given a pro rated share of men under the program, based on the ratio of population in the 1930 census to the total number of men assigned.

"Men assigned to projects under the civil works program will continue to work at a regular rate of pay and for a stipulated number of hours each week for so long as the program continues. On and after December 1 assignment to civil work jobs to fill vacancies and for the additional man-power that may be authorized will be made through the federal reemployment service.

"For the moment men on the work relief program who cannot be assigned to civil works projects under quota given may apply to the welfare department for assistance if such be necessary."

John Duggan jr., Pittsburgh attorney who assisted in the defense, issued a statement in which he thanked Santa Cruz county authorities for their kindness to his client and himself.

"Anyone knowing this girl as well as I have known her for the past 15 or 20 years would know that she was incapable of the act with which she was charged," Duggan said.

District Attorney J. Francis Murphy had no comment. He had asked for the death penalty in his closing argument. He claimed that Miss Weltz had gone to the retired shipper's home for the purpose of killing him because of his refusals to aid her. The defense maintained that the nurse had planned to commit suicide and that the gun had been discharged accidentally.

I got the gun and fired one shot into Rheta's back, holding the gun about five inches from the body. Then I covered her with a blanket and went out of the house. I walked up and down Madison street for a long time wondering what to do."

Sensational Case

The confession of the woman who was once one of the city's best known child and women's specialists climaxed such a murder case as Chicago had not seen in years.

Dr. Wynekoop, a person of steel nerves and rigid composure, reported the death to police at 10 p. m. Tuesday. Development followed development as discrepancies were discovered in her story and the stories told by other witnesses.

Today her son, Earle, husband of the slain girl admitted his suspicions of his mother and confessed to widespread acquaintanceship with other women.

In her formal confession to police, Dr. Wynekoop placed the time of the slaying at between 1:30 p. m. and 2 p. m. This conflicted with the story of a neighbor that she had seen Rheta at 3 p. m.

"Rheta was going to go down town to buy some music," Dr. Wynekoop explained, "Before she went down town she went to the basement to weigh herself. I followed her there. While she was weighing herself she complained of these pains.

Offers Medical Aid

"I said, 'Rheta, I think I can do something to ease these pains for you.' Rheta said that was fine and I told her to undress and get on the operating table.

"I told her I would give her chloroform to ease the pain and the girl was agreeable. I had no thought of killing. Then I saw she would not come out of the chloroform."

After the statement, the physician asked and received permission of police to tell the story to her family, one of the most prominent medically in the city, in her own words.

The confession made no mention of the fact that Dr. Wynekoop had been named beneficiary of Rheta in a double indemnity life insurance policy for $5000 which had been issued only a few days before, nor that two members of the Wynekoop household were named beneficiaries of a second accident policy of $1000 issued about the same time.

However police had disclosed that Dr. Wynekoop was in financial straits and had been for some since the death of her husband, who was a well known physician himself.

Doubt Story

Police announced a belief that the whole and true story of the killing had not yet been revealed. They doubted Dr. Wynekoop's statement that the chloroformed the girl and shot her afterward.

"The girl was alive when she was shot," said Capt. Stege. "Medical examination shows this without doubt. We believe more blood exuded from the wound that would have had she been shot while unconscious."

Police mentioned that another young woman whose name has not yet been revealed was involved in some manner.

"Wynekoop had promised absolutely to marry this third girl within a few months," one officer said. "Other developments may lead to this angle."

"She gave the story with great coolness," said Stege. "Occasionally she would stop and correct herself on some detail.

The German situation, disarmament, bad trade relations with England and other nations, attack on French currency allegedly by speculators, and the budget question, which involves making up a 6,000,000,000 franc ($384,000,000) deficit for 1934, pointed the urgency of the problems to be faced by some government soon.

President LeBrun was regarded as likely, in his talks today to emphasize the seriousness of the financial position and seek a line up in which the center parties could cooperate with the Daladier-Chautemps-Edouard Herriot moderate lefts.

United States Steel, after an easier opening, jumped to 46 for more than a point gain and then eased back to around its previous close of 44 7-8. American Telephone gained more than a point to above 120.

'MIDSHIPMAN JACK' STARTS RUN TODAY

"Midshipman Jack," a story of Annapolis, starring Bruce Cabot and Betty Furness, comes to the Broadway theater today, to play through Saturday night. It takes the place of "Footlight Parade," which ended its Santa Ana run yesterday.

Filled with action, the story concerns a midshipman who sacrifices his all at the navy college for a friend, but who wins the girl of his dreams by so doing. Much action, accidents and wild maneuvers of the fleet mark the picture.

Frank Albertson, Florence Lake, Purnell Pratt and Arthur Lake also have important roles in the production.

"In order that the change may be made completely from the work relief to the civil work program it has been deemed advisable to begin the civil works program Wednesday morning. All men will receive their assignments effective as of that date.

"Each community will be given a pro rated share of men under the program, based on the ratio of population in the 1930 census to the total number of men assigned.

"Men assigned to projects under the civil works program will continue to work at a regular rate of pay and for a stipulated number of hours each week for so long as the program continues. On and after December 1 assignment to civil work jobs to fill vacancies and for the additional man-power that may be authorized will be made through the federal reemployment service.

"For the moment men on the work relief program who cannot be assigned to civil works projects under quota given may apply to the welfare department for assistance if such be necessary."

John Duggan jr., Pittsburgh attorney who assisted in the defense, issued a statement in which he thanked Santa Cruz county authorities for their kindness to his client and himself.

"Anyone knowing this girl as well as I have known her for the past 15 or 20 years would know that she was incapable of the act with which she was charged," Duggan said.

District Attorney J. Francis Murphy had no comment. He had asked for the death penalty in his closing argument. He claimed that Miss Weltz had gone to the retired shipper's home for the purpose of killing him because of his refusals to aid her. The defense maintained that the nurse had planned to commit suicide and that the gun had been discharged accidentally.

I got the gun and fired one shot into Rheta's back, holding the gun about five inches from the body. Then I covered her with a blanket and went out of the house. I walked up and down Madison street for a long time wondering what to do."

Sensational Case

The confession of the woman who was once one of the city's best known child and women's specialists climaxed such a murder case as Chicago had not seen in years.

Dr. Wynekoop, a person of steel nerves and rigid composure, reported the death to police at 10 p. m. Tuesday. Development followed development as discrepancies were discovered in her story and the stories told by other witnesses.

Today her son, Earle, husband of the slain girl admitted his suspicions of his mother and confessed to widespread acquaintanceship with other women.

In her formal confession to police, Dr. Wynekoop placed the time of the slaying at between 1:30 p. m. and 2 p. m. This conflicted with the story of a neighbor that she had seen Rheta at 3 p. m.

"Rheta was going to go down town to buy some music," Dr. Wynekoop explained, "Before she went down town she went to the basement to weigh herself. I followed her there. While she was weighing herself she complained of these pains.

Offers Medical Aid

"I said, 'Rheta, I think I can do something to ease these pains for you.' Rheta said that was fine and I told her to undress and get on the operating table.

"I told her I would give her chloroform to ease the pain and the girl was agreeable. I had no thought of killing. Then I saw she would not come out of the chloroform."

After the statement, the physician asked and received permission of police to tell the story to her family, one of the most prominent medically in the city, in her own words.

The confession made no mention of the fact that Dr. Wynekoop had been named beneficiary of Rheta in a double indemnity life insurance policy for $5000 which had been issued only a few days before, nor that two members of the Wynekoop household were named beneficiaries of a second accident policy of $1000 issued about the same time.

However police had disclosed that Dr. Wynekoop was in financial straits and had been for some since the death of her husband, who was a well known physician himself.

Doubt Story

Police announced a belief that the whole and true story of the killing had not yet been revealed. They doubted Dr. Wynekoop's statement that the chloroformed the girl and shot her afterward.

"The girl was alive when she was shot," said Capt. Stege. "Medical examination shows this without doubt. We believe more blood exuded from the wound that would have had she been shot while unconscious."

Police mentioned that another young woman whose name has not yet been revealed was involved in some manner.

"Wynekoop had promised absolutely to marry this third girl within a few months," one officer said. "Other developments may lead to this angle."

"She gave the story with great coolness," said Stege. "Occasionally she would stop and correct herself on some detail.

The German situation, disarmament, bad trade relations with England and other nations, attack on French currency allegedly by speculators, and the budget question, which involves making up a 6,000,000,000 franc ($384,000,000) deficit for 1934, pointed the urgency of the problems to be faced by some government soon.

President LeBrun was regarded as likely, in his talks today to emphasize the seriousness of the financial position and seek a line up in which the center parties could cooperate with the Daladier-Chautemps-Edouard Herriot moderate lefts.

For a time utilities were almost alone in their strength by this afternoon a better tone came into the entire market with motors staging a sharp upturn. Chrysler advanced almost 2 points to 49 3-8 and eased only slightly. General Motors crossed 33 for a point gain. Nash gained a point.

United States Steel, after an easier opening, jumped to 46 for more than a point gain and then eased back to around its previous close of 44 7-8. American Telephone gained more than a point to above 120.

Repeal stocks, battered down in the last few days, came back sharply with National Distillers crossing 25 for more than a point gain.

'MIDSHIPMAN JACK' STARTS RUN TODAY

"Midshipman Jack," a story of Annapolis, starring Bruce Cabot and Betty Furness, comes to the Broadway theater today, to play through Saturday night. It takes the place of "Footlight Parade," which ended its Santa Ana run yesterday.

Filled with action, the story concerns a midshipman who sacrifices his all at the navy college for a friend, but who wins the girl of his dreams by so doing. Much action, accidents and wild maneuvers of the fleet mark the picture.

Frank Albertson, Florence Lake, Purnell Pratt and Arthur Lake also have important roles in the production.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Oftentimes it looks as though life is made up of experiences which appear to have nothing in common. Joy and sorrow, pleasure and pain, victory and defeat, confidence and questionings might be mutually exclusive.

At length you discover the message which each brings to make up the sum total of the lesson you are to learn which is that nothing is beyond the reach of God's care and love. Each leads you nearer to Him.

TEACHER BREAKS ARM

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24. — Francis J. Dell, seventh grade teacher in Westminster school, had the misfortune to break his left arm this week while directing games on the school grounds. Mr. Dell returned to his duties in the school room the same afternoon.

NEW OIL SUITS ASK DAMAGES OF $1,600,000

Further carrying out the threat of Attorney General U. S. Webb that the state would file further suits in an effort to halt alleged whipstocking of wells and the tapping of the state tidelands oil pool, Webb Shadle, attorney for the division of state lands in the department of finance, late yesterday filed six more suits against two oil companies in the Huntington Beach field.

The six actions were against the Wilshire Oil company and the Ambassador Petroleum company, hitherto not involved in the tideland drilling litigation.

Actions filed yesterday demanded damages aggregating $1,600,000 in addition to permaennt sealing of the wells, an accounting of production and an injunction against further alleged trespass upon the state's oil pool by means of crooked holes. The suits were aimed at five wells operated by the Wilshire company and one owned by the Ambassador.

Immediately after filing the suits Shadle left for San Diego where he planned to ask Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine to issue temporary restraining orders against operation of the wells pending hearing of the cases. Judge Turrentine has been hearing the Termo Oil company suits involving the same issue and is expected to hear all such actions filed by the state. The Termo suits are scheduled for hearing in Orange county superior court next Monday.

While Shadle planned to seek temporary restraining orders and is believed to have received them, the orders had not been filed with the Orange county clerk at a late hour today.

Five of the suits filed naming the Wilshire company demand $1,400,000. The suit against the Ambassador company is asking damages amounting to $200,000.

Wells involved in the litigation are:

H .B. Well 18, $500,000, it being estimated that this well has a daily of 4800 barrels of oil and 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas; H. B. Well 19, $300,000, production being estimated as 3000 barrels of oil and five million cubic feet of gas daily; H. B. Well 17, $200,000, production being 3000 barrels of oil and from two to five million cubic feet of gas; H. B. Well 7-A, $200,000, production being 2000 barrels of oil and two to five million cubic feet of gas; H. B. Well 33, $200,000, production being 1500 barrels of oil and two to five million cubic feet of gas. The Ambassador suit asks $200,000 damages on account of H. B. well 8-A, estimated to produce 3000 barrels of oil and two to five million cubic feet of gas daily.

The Wilshire wells are said to be located in the first block from the ocean, the Ambassador wells are in the second block, 1000 feet from the tideland.

Besides the principal defendants, all actions name most of the same defendants that are included in the Termo suits, such as the Standard Oil company, Huntington Beach company, Pacific Electric Railway company, Pacific Electric Land company, City of Huntington Beach, H. John Eastman Ltd., R. H. Garrison, N. C. Nickle, D. K. Weaver and various John Does.

4TH DISTRICT SCHOOL GROUP HOLDS DINNER

Members of the fourth district California Scholarship Federation were guests at a banquet given last night at the Garden Grove grammar school, about 75 being present. Representatives of the Fullerton, Anaheim, Brea-Olinda, Excelsior and Garden Grove high schools were in attendance. Dinner was served by mothers of Garden Grove students.

Addresses of welcome were given by Miss Lucille Wade, president of the Garden Grove society and by LeRoy Doig, principal of the high school. Solos were given by Joshua Brady, who was accompanied by Mrs. Otile Feamster, head of the music department of the Garden Grove High school.

Group singing was led by Richard Keele and a reading was given by Frances Merchant. An enjoyable feature of the meeting was a puppet show presented by Walter Kring and Milford Carman of the Santa Ana Junior college.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Marian Williams, advisor of the Garden Grove society; Mr. and Mrs. William McClain and Miss Abbie Chapman. The Excelsior school with 20, had the largest number present.

Ttaken to the state supreme court on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, as a test case arising from county prosecution of 13 gun glubs for alleged violation of the county water ordinance, the writ was discharged and the validity of the county ordinance was upheld, according to word received here today.

The case was taken into supreme court by Harold Maas, secretary of the West Coast Rod and Gun club following a justice court verdict finding the club and officers of the organization guilty of wasting water. Maas and other officers were fined $25 each and the club ordered to pay a fine of $250.

As a test Maas reported to the jail and was later released under bond pending hearing on the petition to the higher court. Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton who had filed charges against the West Coast Rod and Gun club and 12 other clubs in Orange county was notified this morning that the writ was discharged and Maas remanded to custody of the sheriff.

Following filing of the 13 suits it was decided to take one to trial and test the validity of the county ordinance through the higher courts, before proceeding with the other cases. Menton indicated this morning that with the county ordinance upheld in supreme court prosecution of the 12 other clubs will follow.

PARK PROJECT IS BACKED BY LEGION

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 24. — The Garden Grove American Legion post went on record at the meeting held in Legion hall Wednesday evening as endorsing the program of the chamber of commerce for securing a federal appropriation for improvement of Garden Grove park. The secretary was instructed to write a letter to the chamber pledging the post's co-operation.

R. S. Norton of Newport Beach, county chairman of child welfare of the American Legion, spoke on child welfare and also of the harbor bonds to be voted upon at the December 19 election.

A joint meeting will be held with the Orange post at Silverado canyon December 7. A lunch was served at the close of the meeting to 30 members.

WOMAN INJURED AS CAR HITS PORCH STEPS

Two women were hurt and four persons narrowly escaped injury in two wrecks reported to officers today, one involving Willard Smith jr., 19, son of Supervisor Willard Smith of Orange.

The Smith accident, although happening at 1:15 a. m. Tuesday, was not reported until 11 a. m. today. Smith explained to California Highway patrolmen that an Orange officer told him a report would be made in the highway office and he did not realize a report had not been made until notified this morning.

Smith, with Mrs. Vernon Gallagher, 24, 716 Kilson drive, Margaret Garrett, 1116 South Van Ness street and Glen Miles of Orange, as pasengers, was driving south on Prospect avenue in a dense fog, he told officers. Unable to see the end of the road, he drove his car across a ditch and crashed into the front steps of the home of Perry Grout on Fairhaven avenue. Mrs. Gallagher received severe scalp wounds which required 10 stitches to close the wounds. She was also cut and bruised from being thrown through the windshield. The others were shaken up and slightly bruised.

Mrs. Katherine Reinau, Costa Mesa, was hurt in the other accident, which occurred on South Main street near St. Andrews place last evening. Her car and a machine driven by Conrad A. Musch, 58, 139 North Los Angeles street, Anaheim, collided while passing.

H. B. Educator On N.E.A. Committee

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 24. —Clarence B. Baldwin, district superintendent of schools of this city, has been appointed a member of the national committee on education according to word received today from Paul C. Stetson, president of the department of superintendence of the National Education association. This committee will meet and report at the Cleveland convention of the department of superintendence, February 24-March 1, 1934.

The appointment of this committee is an important item in a fundamental reorganization of the convention plan followed by the educational leaders in their national professional organization for many years, it is stated. The change was made to extend greater responsibility to individual members in the department's attempt to plan more effectively for meeting the current crisis in education.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Oftentimes it looks as though life is made up of experiences which appear to have nothing in common. Joy and sorrow, pleasure and pain, victory and defeat, confidence and questionings might be mutually exclusive.
At length you discover the message which each brings to make up the sum total of the lesson you are to learn which is that nothing is beyond the reach of God's care and love. Each leads you nearer to Him.

FELLOWS—In Santa Ana, November 24, Rose May Fellows, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Fellows of Cypress. Services will be held Saturday, November 25, 1933, at 11 o'clock at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale, under the auspices of the Winbigler Funeral home.

TEACHER BREAKS ARM

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24.—Francis J. Dell, seventh grade teacher in Westminster school, had the misfortune to break his left arm this week while directing games on the school grounds. Mr. Dell returned to his duties in the school room the same afternoon.

NEW OIL SUITS ASK DAMAGES OF $1,600,000

Further carrying out the threat of Attorney General U. S. Webb that the state would file further suits in an effort to halt alleged whipstocking of wells and the tapping of the state tidelands oil pool, Webb Shadle, attorney for the division of state lands in the department of finance, late yesterday filed six more suits against two oil companies in the Huntington Beach field.

The six actions were against the Wilshire Oil company and the Ambassador Petroleum company, hitherto not involved in the tideland drilling litigation.

Actions filed yesterday demanded damages aggregating $1,600,000 in addition to permaennt sealing of the wells, an accounting of production and an injunction against further alleged trespass upon the state's oil pool by means of crooked holes. The suits were aimed at five wells operated by the Wilshire company and one owned by the Ambassador.

Immediately after filing the suits Shadle left for San Diego where he planned to ask Superior Judge L. N. Turrentine to issue temporary restraining orders against operation of the wells pending hearing of the cases. Judge Turrentine has been hearing the Termo Oil company suits involving the same issue and is expected to hear all such actions filed by the state. The Termo suits are scheduled for hearing in Orange county superior court next Monday.

While Shadle planned to seek temporary restraining orders and is believed to have received them, the orders had not been filed with the Orange county clerk at a late hour today.

Five of the suits filed naming the Wilshire company demand $1,400,000. The suit against the Ambassador company is asking damages amounting to $200,000.

Wells involved in the litigation are:

H .B. Well 18, $500,000, it being estimated that this well has a daily of 4800 barrels of oil and 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas; H. B. Well 19, $300,000, production being estimated as 3000 barrels of oil and five million cubic feet of gas daily; H. B. Well 17, $200,000, production being 3000 barrels of oil and from two to five million cubic feet of gas; H. B. Well 7-A, $200,000, production being 2000 barrels of oil and two to five million cubic feet of gas; H. B. Well 33, $200,000, production being 1500 barrels of oil and two to five million cubic feet of gas. The Ambassador suit asks $200,000 damages on account of H. B. well 8-A, estimated to produce 3000 barrels of oil and two to five million cubic feet of gas daily.

The Wilshire wells are said to be located in the first block from the ocean, the Ambassador wells are in the second block, 1000 feet from the tideland.

Besides the principal defendants, all actions name most of the same defendants that are included in the Termo suits, such as the Standard Oil company, Huntington Beach company, Pacific Electric Railway company, Pacific Electric Land company, City of Huntington Beach, H. John Eastman Ltd., R. H. Garrison, N. C. Nickle, D. K. Weaver and various John Does.

4TH DISTRICT SCHOOL GROUP HOLDS DINNER

Members of the fourth district California Scholarship Federation were guests at a banquet given last night at the Garden Grove grammar school, about 75 being present. Representatives of the Fullerton, Anaheim, Brea-Olinda, Excelsior and Garden Grove high schools were in attendance. Dinner was served by mothers of Garden Grove students.

Addresses of welcome were given by Miss Lucille Wade, president of the Garden Grove society and by LeRoy Doig, principal of the high school. Solos were given by Joshua Brady, who was accompanied by Mrs. Otile Feamster, head of the music department of the Garden Grove High school.

Group singing was led by Richard Keele and a reading was given by Frances Merchant. An enjoyable feature of the meeting was a puppet show presented by Walter Kring and Milford Carman of the Santa Ana Junior college.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Marian Williams, advisor of the Garden Grove society; Mr. and Mrs. William McClain and Miss Abbie Chapman. The Excelsior school with 20, had the largest number present.

LA HABRA, Nov. 24.—The regular meeting of the Welfare league will be held at the Washington school Monday evening, according to the announcement made by I. E. Wiede, secretary.

Ttaken to the state supreme court on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, as a test case arising from county prosecution of 13 gun glubs for alleged violation of the county water ordinance, the writ was discharged and the validity of the county ordinance was upheld, according to word received here today.

The case was taken into supreme court by Harold Maas, secretary of the West Coast Rod and Gun club following a justice court verdict finding the club and officers of the organization guilty of wasting water. Maas and other officers were fined $25 each and the club ordered to pay a fine of $250.

As a test Maas reported to the jail and was later released under bond pending hearing on the petition to the higher court. Assistant District Attorney W. F. Menton who had filed charges against the West Coast Rod and Gun club and 12 other clubs in Orange county was notified this morning that the writ was discharged and Maas remanded to custody of the sheriff.

Following filing of the 13 suits it was decided to take one to trial and test the validity of the county ordinance through the higher courts, before proceeding with the other cases. Menton indicated this morning that with the county ordinance upheld in supreme court prosecution of the 12 other clubs will follow.

PARK PROJECT IS BACKED BY LEGION

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 24.—The Garden Grove American Legion post went on record at the meeting held in Legion hall Wednesday evening as endorsing the program of the chamber of commerce for securing a federal appropriation for improvement of Garden Grove park. The secretary was instructed to write a letter to the chamber pledging the post's co-operation.

R. S. Norton of Newport Beach, county chairman of child welfare of the American Legion, spoke on child welfare and also of the harbor bonds to be voted upon at the December 19 election.

A joint meeting will be held with the Orange post at Silverado canyon December 7. A lunch was served at the close of the meeting to 30 members.

WOMAN INJURED AS CAR HITS PORCH STEPS

Two women were hurt and four persons narrowly escaped injury in two wrecks reported to officers today, one involving Willard Smith jr., 19, son of Supervisor Willard Smith of Orange.

The Smith accident, although happening at 1:15 a. m. Tuesday, was not reported until 11 a. m. today. Smith explained to California Highway patrolmen that an Orange officer told him a report would be made in the highway office and he did not realize a report had not been made until notified this morning.

Smith, with Mrs. Vernon Gallagher, 24, 716 Kilson drive, Margaret Garrett, 1116 South Van Ness street and Glen Miles of Orange, as pasengers, was driving south on Prospect avenue in a dense fog, he told officers. Unable to see the end of the road, he drove his car across a ditch and crashed into the front steps of the home of Perry Grout on Fairhaven avenue. Mrs. Gallagher received severe scalp wounds which required 10 stitches to close the wounds. She was also cut and bruised from being thrown through the windshield. The others were shaken up and slightly bruised.

Mrs. Katherine Reinau, Costa Mesa, was hurt in the other accident, which occurred on South Main street near St. Andrews place last evening. Her car and a machine driven by Conrad A. Musch, 58, 139 North Los Angeles street, Anaheim, collided while passing.

H. B. Educator On N.E.A. Committee

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 24.—Clarence B. Baldwin, district superintendent of schools of this city, has been appointed a member of the national committee on education according to word received today from Paul C. Stetson, president of the department of superintendence of the National Education association. This committee will meet and report at the Cleveland convention of the department of superintendence, February 24-March 1, 1934.

The appointment of this committee is an important item in a fundamental reorganization of the convention plan followed by the educational leaders in their national professional organization for many years, it is stated. The change was made to extend greater responsibility to individual members in the department's attempt to plan more effectively for meeting the current crisis in education.

NOTED EDUCATOR STRESSES NEED FOR STATESMANSHIP AND WORLD COOPERATION

Emphasizing the need for increased statesmanship and the urgent necessity for co-operation among world nations, President Rufus B. von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California spoke last night before more than 200 U.S.C. alumni and guests at the Trojan club banquet in the Ebell clubhouse.

Dr. von KleinSmid, speaking on "The New Diplomacy" following a varied entertainment program of the Trojan band and dance-poems by Miss Bettina Whitney, of Anaheim, discussed at length his trip through Europe this summer, results of the economic conference in London, the withdrawal of Germany from the League of Nations, developments in education brought about by the depression and new theories, and the changes being made in diplomatic relations between nations.

"During the past two years, all countries have grown more individualistic and nationalized than during the past decade," the educator said. "Society was beginning to slowly realize the true worth of internationalism and appreciation of world problems but is now gradually losing it. There is a possible hope in the new diplomacy of sitting around the table as nations and considering mutual problems. Nationalistic as we may be, there are certain problems that demand unity of effort and action.

NRA Experiment

"The National Recovery Act is a wide departure from anything we even dared to think to try in past years. Europe is now saying that if the United States, the most individualistic nation in the world, can succeed with this new unified program, a similar plan will succeed across the waters. The world has suffered as a world and is groping for a way out. If the United States can offer a solution, other nations can attempt to follow. National barriers must be broken down, statesmen must be trained, haphazard methods of choosing international ambassadors and ministers must be corrected and harmonious relations must be fostered and encouraged."

The Trojan educator pointed out that one reason why the United States has dropped into nationalism is not because of its form of government but rather that inexperienced politicians have been permitted to operate it. He offered a challenge to colleges and universities to prepare their brightest minds for government service and break down the prevalent idea that all politics must be tainted. He declared that a new day is coming when students will train to be statesmen and create a new type of diplomat to replace the muddling majority now in office.

Dr. von KleinSmid eulogized those educators who were adopting the new attitude regarding the purpose of colleges and universities and introducing more efficient and practical curricula. He cited experimental work at his own university to show that new ideas had entered education. Extravagances, frills, abstract courses and time-worn institutions have been discarded to make way for new schools of research, new innovations in graduate study, new divisions where the student without sufficient recommended high school units may secure college training, and consolidation of allied groups.

Change Emphasis

"The adult, graduate and professional phases of education are being stressed," he said. "No longer is college being considered a four year country club for relaxation and loafing. Personal service and study is being given to each student in order that he may profit by university training and become a valuable member of society upon graduation. Athletics, no more than any of the professions or arts, is a valuable part of this process and all are adapting themselves to the new conditions of today for the betterment of the country."

Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, acted as toastmaster for the evening and introduced Wayne Harrison, president of the Orange County Trojan Men's club and Miss Beryl Kennedy, president of the Orange County Trojan Women's club, joint sponsors of the banquet. Lewis Gough, executive director of the U. S. C. Alumni association, outlined details of the annual Homecoming Week from December 4 to 10 and invited all Trojans to return to the campus.

Others introduced at the meeting were Ralph "Dutch" Wilcox, alumni field secretary, Mrs. von KleinSmid, who spoke briefly, John "Sky" Dunlap, county publicity director for the clubs, Hal McCormac, Dr. Charles Schutz and Warren Schutz, former members of the Trojan band living in Orange county, and Raymond Thompson of Fullerton and Gordon Richmond of Orange, general committee members.

Harold William Roberts conducted the famous Trojan band in three numbers, being assisted by John T. Boudreau, band instructor who offered xylophone solos. Miss Whitney, former Trojan coed and professional dancer, offered a group of dance-poems as a feature of the program. Decorations and dinner arrangements were in charge of the women's club while members of Junior Ebell served as waitresses.

As a gift from the Trojan clubs, the van KleinSmids were presented a crate of oranges after the meeting.

SANTA ANA FORUM DATE IS CHANGED

The meeting of the Santa Ana Forum scheduled for tonight in the Frances Willard junior high school has been postponed until Monday night at 7:30 p. m.

The forum will be presided over by Dr. C. J. Ruley and will discuss the talk delivered last Tuesday night in Fullerton by Sen. Robert LaFollette.

Court Notes

Pat Tulley, 56, charged with intoxication, entered the county jail yesterday to serve a 12½ day jail sentence imposed by Judge Chris Pann of Huntington Beach.

Earl Emerick, serving a sentence for drunk driving in the county jail, was released yesterday after paying the $19 balance of his fine to Judge Halsey I. Spence of Fullerton.

Eddie Palmer, 28, colored, arrested yesterday afternoon by Motor Officer E. E. Lentz for speeding on North Main street, was committed to the county jail for four days yesterday after he failed to pay an $8 fine to Judge J. G. Mitchell.

Walker Harmon paid a $10 speeding fine in police court yesterday.

J. D. Dungan and A. A. Gomez each paid a $1 fine in police court yesterday for failing to make a boulevard stop.

Max Robinson, 47, Newport Beach fisherman, was sentenced to spend five days in the county jail by Judge Donald Dodge of Costa Mesa yesterday after Robinson failed to pay a $25 fine for violating the fish and game laws.

Police News

Said to be the only one of its kind in Southern California, a Graflex camera valued at $68.50, was stolen from Stein's Stationery store, 207 West Fourth street, some time Wednesday, it was learned by police yesterday. The camera is small enough to fit in the palm of the hand and was taken from a counter sometime during the day.

Carl Eltiste, 2239 South Broadway, reported to police yesterday that $14 in change was taken from a purse lying on a cedar chest in his home by a thief who reached through a window on November 10.

LIQUOR LICENSE REQUESTS TO BE REFERRED TO CITY COUNCILS FOR APPROVAL

Local zoning ordinances will be respected by the state board of equalization in granting permits to sell liquor, Earl Thomas, mayor of Palo Alto and president of the California League of Municipalities, told a group of 115 city officials from many cities in Southern California at a meeting last night in the Green Cat cafe sponsored by the League of Orange County Municipalities.

Thomas told of a conference with the state board, declaring that the board gave assurance that applications from residents of the various cities for selling liquor will be referred back to the cities for investigation before the licenses are granted.

Applications filed with the state board of equalization, he said, will be returned to cities so that the character of the applicant, the type of establishment planned, zoning, and other matters can be investigated thoroughly before the permit to sell liquor is granted. The board has prepared a rigid questionnaire regarding character of applicants, he said.

While no definite distance has been set up where liquor stores are established in regard to proximity to schools and churches, Thomas said that it is probable that the board will insist that no liquor stores be established within from 300 to 500 feet of such institutions. Local zoning ordinances will be respected by the board, he said.

County and municipal peace officers will be empowered to enforce the state liquor laws, the speaker declared in predicting that a chaotic condition will exist in regard to liquor control from the period December 8 to December 31.

Applications to sell liquor in a certain place must be accompanied by the signed permission of five property owners in the immediate vicinity, he said.

TAXPAYERS IN APPROVAL OF HARBOR BONDS

Orange county harbor development was endorsed as a sound business proposition which should appeal to all residents and property owners by a group of taxpayers, meeting at James' cafe last night to investigate the proposal which will be voted on December 19.

Starting their investigation with the idea that taxpayers should know all the facts, so that they could discriminate intelligently between various bond proposals in order to select those which are of substantial and paying value, the group heard a detailed explanation of the work to be done by R. L. Patterson, city engineer of Newport Beach, and what the harbor improvements would mean to residents and taxpayers of the county by J. F. Burke, J. C. Metzgar, and others.

Among those participating in the discussion were T. F. McDonnell, Fred Vollmer, F. L. Austin, W. T. Dorrance, C. W. Luken, A. G. Diehl, Fred Martin, J. T. Wilson, S. H. Pierson, F. R. Schweitzer, Lon Hudkins, W. G. Grigg, P. E. Dooley, W. A. Zimmerman, W. H. Aupperle, C. R. Nelson and R. C. Ewing.

It was brought out that boats making their home at Newport bay pay taxes into the county treasury, including yachts, fishing craft, and smaller commercial ships; that the harbor district bonds cannot be issued unless the government's promised contribution is made; and that increased taxation from the immediate harbor area will more than equal the cost, thus making it a paying investment from the standpoint of taxpayers in inland portions of the county.

Before adjournment, unanimous approval was given the harbor project by the individuals present as a means of getting $1,195,441 of government money spent in the county, as a means of creating new wealth, and re-establishing property values throughout the county.

The bonds will be financed by the government at 4 per cent and all work done will be in the direct charge of U. S. army engineers, assuring fair and impartial treatment throughout, it was pointed out.

Emphasizing the need for increased statesmanship and the urgent necessity for co-operation among world nations, President Rufus B. von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California spoke last night before more than 200 U.S.C. alumni and guests at the Trojan club banquet in the Ebell clubhouse.

Dr. von KleinSmid, speaking on "The New Diplomacy" following a varied entertainment program of the Trojan band and dance-poems by Miss Bettina Whitney, of Anaheim, discussed at length his trip through Europe this summer, results of the economic conference in London, the withdrawal of Germany from the League of Nations, developments in education brought about by the depression and new theories, and the changes being made in diplomatic relations between nations.

"During the past two years, all countries have grown more individualistic and nationalized than during the past decade," the educator said. "Society was beginning to slowly realize the true worth of internationalism and appreciation of world problems but is now gradually losing it. There is a possible hope in the new diplomacy of sitting around the table as nations and considering mutual problems. Nationalistic as we may be, there are certain problems that demand unity of effort and action.

NRA Experiment

"The National Recovery Act is a wide departure from anything we even dared to think to try in past years. Europe is now saying that if the United States, the most individualistic nation in the world, can succeed with this new unified program, a similar plan will succeed across the waters. The world has suffered as a world and is groping for a way out. If the United States can offer a solution, other nations can attempt to follow. National barriers must be broken down, statesmen must be trained, haphazard methods of choosing international ambassadors and ministers must be corrected and harmonious relations must be fostered and encouraged."

The Trojan educator pointed out that one reason why the United States has dropped into nationalism is not because of its form of government but rather that inexperienced politicians have been permitted to operate it. He offered a challenge to colleges and universities to prepare their brightest minds for government service and break down the prevalent idea that all politics must be tainted. He declared that a new day is coming when students will train to be statesmen and create a new type of diplomat to replace the muddling majority now in office.

Dr. von KleinSmid eulogized those educators who were adopting the new attitude regarding the purpose of colleges and universities and introducing more efficient and practical curricula. He cited experimental work at his own university to show that new ideas had entered education. Extravagances, frills, abstract courses and time-worn institutions have been discarded to make way for new schools of research, new innovations in graduate study, new divisions where the student without sufficient recommended high school units may secure college training, and consolidation of allied groups.

Change Emphasis

"The adult, graduate and professional phases of education are being stressed," he said. "No longer is college being considered a four year country club for relaxation and loafing. Personal service and study is being given to each student in order that he may profit by university training and become a valuable member of society upon graduation. Athletics, no more than any of the professions or arts, is a valuable part of this process and all are adapting themselves to the new conditions of today for the betterment of the country."

Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools, acted as toastmaster for the evening and introduced Wayne Harrison, president of the Orange County Trojan Men's club and Miss Beryl Kennedy, president of the Orange County Trojan Women's club, joint sponsors of the banquet. Lewis Gough, executive director of the U. S. C. Alumni association, outlined details of the annual Homecoming Week from December 4 to 10 and invited all Trojans to return to the campus.

Others introduced at the meeting were Ralph "Dutch" Wilcox, alumni field secretary, Mrs. von KleinSmid, who spoke briefly, John "Sky" Dunlap, county publicity director for the clubs, Hal McCormac, Dr. Charles Schutz and Warren Schutz, former members of the Trojan band living in Orange county, and Raymond Thompson of Fullerton and Gordon Richmond of Orange, general committee members.

Harold William Roberts conducted the famous Trojan band in three numbers, being assisted by John T. Boudreau, band instructor who offered xylophone solos. Miss Whitney, former Trojan coed and professional dancer, offered a group of dance-poems as a feature of the program. Decorations and dinner arrangements were in charge of the women's club while members of Junior Ebell served as waitresses.

As a gift from the Trojan clubs, the van KleinSmids were presented a crate of oranges after the meeting.

SANTA ANA FORUM DATE IS CHANGED

The meeting of the Santa Ana Forum scheduled for tonight in the Frances Willard junior high school has been postponed until Monday night at 7:30 p. m.

The forum will be presided over by Dr. C. J. Ruley and will discuss the talk delivered last Tuesday night in Fullerton by Sen. Robert LaFollette.

Court Notes

Pat Tulley, 56, charged with intoxication, entered the county jail yesterday to serve a 12½ day jail sentence imposed by Judge Chris Pann of Huntington Beach.

Earl Emerick, serving a sentence for drunk driving in the county jail, was released yesterday after paying the $19 balance of his fine to Judge Halsey I. Spence of Fullerton.

Eddie Palmer, 28, colored, arrested yesterday afternoon by Motor Officer E. E. Lentz for speeding on North Main street, was committed to the county jail for four days yesterday after he failed to pay an $8 fine to Judge J. G. Mitchell.

Walker Harmon paid a $10 speeding fine in police court yesterday.

J. D. Dungan and A. A. Gomez each paid a $1 fine in police court yesterday for failing to make a boulevard stop.

Max Robinson, 47, Newport Beach fisherman, was sentenced to spend five days in the county jail by Judge Donald Dodge of Costa Mesa yesterday after Robinson failed to pay a $25 fine for violating the fish and game laws.

Police News

Said to be the only one of its kind in Southern California, a Graflex camera valued at $68.50, was stolen from Stein's Stationery store, 207 West Fourth street, some time Wednesday, it was learned by police yesterday. The camera is small enough to fit in the palm of the hand and was taken from a counter sometime during the day.

Carl Ettiste, 2239 South Broadway, reported to police yesterday that $14 in change was taken from a purse lying on a cedar chest in his home by a thief who reached through a window on November 10.

LIQUOR LICENSE REQUESTS TO BE REFERRED TO CITY COUNCILS FOR APPROVAL

Local zoning ordinances will be respected by the state board of equalization in granting permits to sell liquor, Earl Thomas, mayor of Palo Alto and president of the California League of Municipalities, told a group of 115 city officials from many cities in Southern California at a meeting last night in the Green Cat cafe sponsored by the League of Orange County Municipalities.

Thomas told of a conference with the state board, declaring that the board gave assurance that applications from residents of the various cities for selling liquor will be referred back to the cities for investigation before the licenses are granted.

Applications filed with the state board of equalization, he said, will be returned to cities so that the character of the applicant, the type of establishment planned, zoning, and other matters can be investigated thoroughly before the permit to sell liquor is granted. The board has prepared a rigid questionnaire regarding character of applicants, he said.

While no definite distance has been set up where liquor stores are established in regard to proximity to schools and churches, Thomas said that it is probable that the board will insist that no liquor stores be established within from 300 to 500 feet of such institutions. Local zoning ordinances will be respected by the board, he said.

County and municipal peace officers will be empowered to enforce the state liquor laws, the speaker declared in predicting that a chaotic condition will exist in regard to liquor control from the period December 8 to December 31.

Applications to sell liquor in a certain place must be accompanied by the signed permission of five property owners in the immediate vicinity, he said.

TAXPAYERS IN APPROVAL OF HARBOR BONDS

Orange county harbor development was endorsed as a sound business proposition which should appeal to all residents and property owners by a group of taxpayers, meeting at James' cafe last night to investigate the proposal which will be voted on December 19.

Starting their investigation with the idea that taxpayers should know all the facts, so that they could discriminate intelligently between various bond proposals in order to select those which are of substantial and paying value, the group heard a detailed explanation of the work to be done by R. L. Patterson, city engineer of Newport Beach, and what the harbor improvements would mean to residents and taxpayers of the county by J. F. Burke, J. C. Metzgar, and others.

Among those participating in the discussion were T. F. McDonnell, Fred Vollmer, F. L. Austin, W. T. Dorrance, C. W. Luken, A. G. Diehl, Fred Martin, J. T. Wilson, S. H. Pierson, F. R. Schweitzer, Lon Hudkins, W. G. Grigg, P. E. Dooley, W. A. Zimmerman, W. H. Aupperle, C. R. Nelson and R. C. Ewing.

It was brought out that boats making their home at Newport bay pay taxes into the county treasury, including yachts, fishing craft, and smaller commercial ships; that the harbor district bonds cannot be issued unless the government's promised contribution is made; and that increased taxation from the immediate harbor area will more than equal the cost, thus making it a paying investment from the standpoint of taxpayers in inland portions of the county.

Before adjournment, unanimous approval was given the harbor project by the individuals present as a means of getting $1,195,441 of government money spent in the county, as a means of creating new wealth, and re-establishing property values throughout the county.

The bonds will be financed by the government at 4 per cent and all work done will be in the direct charge of U. S. army engineers, assuring fair and impartial treatment throughout, it was pointed out.

H. S. GIRLS PLAN HOLIDAY CHEER FOR S. A. NEEDY

Several families in Santa Ana will have their holidays made brighter this year because of the plans of the Girls' league of the Santa Ana High school to distribute baskets of food to those families of the community who would otherwise have little or nothing for their Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners, Miss Helen Kirkland, Girls' league adviser, said today.

The girls' organization, under the advisership of Miss Kirkland, announced their plans today and asked all students who could to bring to the school either canned food, staple food, or a monetary contribution.

The welfare work is an annual activity of the League at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The food will be distributed to individual families who are found otherwise unprovided for.

The program is in charge of the League's welfare committee with Jeanete Klatt and Roberta Tuthill in charge. They will have the baskets distributed Wednesday afternoon to that they may be used Thanksgiving day.

Miss Kirkland pointed out that because the auditorium at the school is closed it would be more difficult to bring the request to the students so forcefully as in the past, but she said that she hoped for as generous response as had been given to the league in past years.

BLAMES U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR HARD TIMES; URGES SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT

Speaking here last night at the People's Forum on "The N. R. A., United States Chamber of Commerce and Technocracy", Walter Thomas Mills charged that national business organization as being the body with the final determination of policies of several presidents before President Roosevelt.

"The United States Chamber of Commerce," he declared, "is opposed to the NRA because President Roosevelt has declined to allow it to determine his policies for him.

"Roosevelt has declared that he will not permit anyone in America to be cold or hungry this winter and he knows that this promise cannot be fulfilled if instructions from the United States Chamber of Commerce are followed by him.

"If we want to be prosperous and live in peace, don't follow the lead of the United States Chamber of Commerce! Follow President Roosevelt!

"Follow President"

"If there is anyone in America who can lead the people out of their difficulties and obtain the support of congress while doing it, it is President Roosevelt, and until he refuses to do so we should follow him."

Mills declared that Roosevelt is responsible for the NRA and that his reputation as a president and a statesman depends on the outcome of this program. The NRA is an effort to tell big business that if it wants another opportunity to drive the car it must first demonstrate its right to that privilege by getting it out of the ditch into which it has been driven.

Declaring that the information used in his address was obtained direct from the secretary of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Mills charged that the organization is trying to control America and that the world war gave the group an opportunity to move forward at a great speed and accomplish things that never could have been achieved otherwise.

German Precedent

The United States Chamber of Commerce, he declared, was patterned after the same organization in Germany. That group was originated by Napoleon when he conquered Germany and organized a group of men in that country to provide his troops with sustenance. Later when Napoleon withdrew and Germany was facing starvation these same men functioned to feed the nation.

Decision to form such an organization in America was reached, before the World war, when 60 delegates from the United States and Canada attended a convention in Berlin and found that the strong German group dominated the session.

They returned to the United States, Mills declared, determined to create a similar organization and today the United States Chamber of Commerce is the most efficient group of its kind in the world.

In Germany, Mills said, the Chamber of Commerce controlled the Kaiser and forced him into the World war to further business. Mills declared: "The German Chamber of Commerce gave us the World war and the United States Chamber of Commerce has given us four years of hard times."

The speaker charged that through the efforts of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Herbert Hoover was persuaded to return to the United States from his former home in London and take over the job of food administrator during the war. "He took over his office," Mills said, "and was functioning two weeks before the bill authorizing creation of his office was passed by congress."

Corn Meal Corner

He recalled that during the World war civilians could not buy wheat flour unless they purchased a stipulated amount of corn meal. The government, he charged, fixed the price of wheat flour but did not fix the charge for corn meal and he asserted that all the corn meal in the United States was owned by Julius Barnes, partner of Hoover and president of the United States Chamber of Commerce when Hoover was installed as food administrator.

Mills said that, at the time he interviewed him, the official of the United States Chamber of Commerce told him that "we have the facilities with which to reach any member of the congress or senate and even the president and have our message placed on the desk or desks ahead of anything else."

Mills said that while working with the Farmers' Non-Partisan League in the northwest he was arrested and charged with sedition because of his attacks on the national business group. He was released on an instructed verdict given the jurors by the trial judge.

Lauds Roosevelt

The secretary of this group, Mills said, told him that the one difficulty in the national program was that local chambers of commerce elected popular businessmen from their communities to the post of secretary and that these men would not follow the directions of the national group. To remove this difficulty the United States Chamber of Commerce adopted the policy that any Chamber of Commerce affiliated with the national group could not employ a resident of the city in which it was organized to serve as secretary.

Mills closed his address praising President Roosevelt for his action in opening Muscle Shoals and other moves to give cheap electrical power to the people. He declared "If he can do that to the power people, he can do something to give us food and provide work for the unemployed. He can turn idle resources into production of food, clothes, and shelter for those who need them."

Fulfilling a promise made last week Mills devoted the latter portion of his program to answering questions regarding Technocracy. These questions were written on slips of paper and answered from the platform.

Mesa Church In Dinner, Program On Next Tuesday

COSTA MESA, Nov. 24—A large crowd is expected to attend the annual Community church Thanksgiving dinner-program that is being arranged for Tuesday evening. It will be held in the church recreational hall and the Rev. E. Dow Hoffman of Fullerton will make the chief address. He will speak on the topic "Being Thankful." Mrs. Hoffman will sing "Thank God for All," by Huerter, and "Father, We Thank Thee" by Jewett. Several instrumental numbers are being arranged.

The dinner will be potluck. Roy Davis, president of the Men's brotherhood, will be in charge of the meeting.

2 DEFENDANTS GET TERMS OF INCARCERATION

That W. L. Hicks, who recently pleaded guilty to a statutory offense involving a seven-year-old girl will withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a new plea was indicated this morning in department two superior court when he was scheduled to appear in connection with a probation hearing.

Thomas McFadden, attorney for Hicks, requested Judge James L. Allen to continue the hearing until 1:30 p. m., saying that his client expected to withdraw his p. of guilty and submit a new plea to an amended complaint. The delay, McFadden said, was requested in order that the district attorney may file the amended complaint.

Donald McEuen, recently convicted on a charge of burglarizing a home in Newport Beach was granted probation for a period of five years providing he spend one year in the county jail.

Jose Cardena, who pleaded guilty to two counts of writing fictitious checks was denied probation and ordered confined to San Quentin prison. Sentences on both counts will run concurrently.

Retired Pastor To Give Address

LA HABRA, Nov. 24.—The Rev. Hugh Gibson, a retired minister of Huntington Park, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Methodist brotherhood Tuesday evening. This will be the Thanksgiving meeting of the Brotherhood. Gifts of canned food will be presented to the Welfare league.

H. S. GIRLS PLAN HOLIDAY CHEER FOR S. A. NEEDY

Several families in Santa Ana will have their holidays made brighter this year because of the plans of the Girls' league of the Santa Ana High school to distribute baskets of food to those families of the community who would otherwise have little or nothing for their Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners, Miss Helen Kirkland, Girls' league adviser, said today.

The girls' organization, under the advisership of Miss Kirkland, announced their plans today and asked all students who could to bring to the school either canned food, staple food, or a monetary contribution.

The welfare work is an annual activity of the League at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The food will be distributed to individual families who are found otherwise unprovided for.

The program is in charge of the League's welfare committee with Jeanete Klatt and Roberta Tuthill in charge. They will have the baskets distributed Wednesday afternoon to that they may be used Thanksgiving day.

Miss Kirkland pointed out that because the auditorium at the school is closed it would be more difficult to bring the request to the students so forcefully as in the past, but she said that she hoped for as generous response as had been given to the league in past years.

BLAMES U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR HARD TIMES; URGES SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT

Speaking here last night at the People's Forum on "The N. R. A., United States Chamber of Commerce and Technocracy", Walter Thomas Mills charged that national business organization as being the body with the final determination of policies of several presidents before President Roosevelt.

"The United States Chamber of Commerce," he declared, "is opposed to the NRA because President Roosevelt has declined to allow it to determine his policies for him.

"Roosevelt has declared that he will not permit anyone in America to be cold or hungry this winter and he knows that this promise cannot be fulfilled if instructions from the United States Chamber of Commerce are followed by him.

"If we want to be prosperous and live in peace, don't follow the lead of the United States Chamber of Commerce! Follow President Roosevelt!

"Follow President"

"If there is anyone in America who can lead the people out of their difficulties and obtain the support of congress while doing it, it is President Roosevelt, and until he refuses to do so we should follow him."

Mills declared that Roosevelt is responsible for the NRA and that his reputation as a president and a statesman depends on the outcome of this program. The NRA is an effort to tell big business that if it wants another opportunity to drive the car it must first demonstrate its right to that privilege by getting it out of the ditch into which it has been driven.

Declaring that the information used in his address was obtained direct from the secretary of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Mills charged that the organization is trying to control America and that the world war gave the group an opportunity to move forward at a great speed and accomplish things that never could have been achieved otherwise.

German Precedent

The United States Chamber of Commerce, he declared, was patterned after the same organization in Germany. That group was originated by Napoleon when he conquered Germany and organized a group of men in that country to provide his troops with sustenance. Later when Napoleon withdrew and Germany was facing starvation these same men functioned to feed the nation.

Decision to form such an organization in America was reached, before the World war, when 60 delegates from the United States and Canada attended a convention in Berlin and found that the strong German group dominated the session.

They returned to the United States, Mills declared, determined to create a similar organization and today the United States Chamber of Commerce is the most efficient group of its kind in the world.

In Germany, Mills said, the Chamber of Commerce controlled the Kaiser and forced him into the World war to further business. Mills declared: "The German Chamber of Commerce gave us the World war and the United States Chamber of Commerce has given us four years of hard times."

The speaker charged that through the efforts of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Herbert Hoover was persuaded to return to the United States from his former home in London and take over the job of food administrator during the war. "He took over his office," Mills said, "and was functioning two weeks before the bill authorizing creation of his office was passed by congress."

Corn Meal Corner

He recalled that during the World war civilians could not buy wheat flour unless they purchased a stipulated amount of corn meal. The government, he charged, fixed the price of wheat flour but did not fix the charge for corn meal and he asserted that all the corn meal in the United States was owned by Julius Barnes, partner of Hoover and president of the United States Chamber of Commerce when Hoover was installed as food administrator.

Mills said that, at the time he interviewed him, the official of the United States Chamber of Commerce told him that "we have the facilities with which to reach any member of the congress or senate and even the president and have our message placed on the desk or desks ahead of anything else."

Mills said that while working with the Farmers' Non-Partisan League in the northwest he was arrested and charged with sedition because of his attacks on the national business group. He was released on an instructed verdict given the jurors by the trial judge.

Lauds Roosevelt

The secretary of this group, Mills said, told him that the one difficulty in the national program was that local chambers of commerce elected popular businessmen from their communities to the post of secretary and that these men would not follow the directions of the national group. To remove this difficulty the United States Chamber of Commerce adopted the policy that any Chamber of Commerce affiliated with the national group could not employ a resident of the city in which it was organized to serve as secretary.

Mills closed his address praising President Roosevelt for his action in opening Muscle Shoals and other moves to give cheap electrical power to the people. He declared "If he can do that to the power people, he can do something to give us food and provide work for the unemployed. He can turn idle resources into production of food, clothes, and shelter for those who need them."

Fulfilling a promise made last week Mills devoted the latter portion of his program to answering questions regarding Technocracy. These questions were written on slips of paper and answered from the platform.

Mesa Church In Dinner, Program On Next Tuesday

COSTA MESA, Nov. 24—A large crowd is expected to attend the annual Community church Thanksgiving dinner-program that is being arranged for Tuesday evening. It will be held in the church recreational hall and the Rev. E. Dow Hoffman of Fullerton will make the chief address. He will speak on the topic "Being Thankful." Mrs. Hoffman will sing "Thank God for All," by Huerter, and "Father, We Thank Thee" by Jewett. Several instrumental numbers are being arranged.

The dinner will be potluck. Roy Davis, president of the Men's brotherhood, will be in charge of the meeting.

2 DEFENDANTS GET TERMS OF INCARCERATION

That W. L. Hicks, who recently pleaded guilty to a statutory offense involving a seven-year-old girl will withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a new plea was indicated this morning in department two superior court when he was scheduled to appear in connection with a probation hearing.

Thomas McFadden, attorney for Hicks, requested Judge James L. Allen to continue the hearing until 1:30 p. m., saying that his client expected to withdraw his p... of guilty and submit a new plea to an amended complaint. The delay, McFadden said, was requested in order that the district attorney may file the amended complaint.

Donald McEuen, recently convicted on a charge of burglarizing a home in Newport Beach was granted probation for a period of five years providing he spend one year in the county jail.

Jose Cardena, who pleaded guilty to two counts of writing fictitious checks was denied probation and ordered confined to San Quentin prison. Sentences on both counts will run concurrently.

Retired Pastor To Give Address

LA HABRA, Nov. 24.—The Rev. Hugh Gibson, a retired minister of Huntington Park, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Methodist brotherhood Tuesday evening. This will be the Thanksgiving meeting of the Brotherhood. Gifts of canned food will be presented to the Welfare league.

CLUB MEMBERS OF COSTA MESA IN CARD PARTY

COSTA MESA, Nov. 24.—Twenty-five friends and members of the Friday afternoon club were in attendance at a party given in the sun-room of the Woman's clubhouse Wednesday evening. The game of hearts was featured in the evening's entertainment. Six tables were in play. High honors for women were won by Mrs. Ruth Raymond and low by Mrs. Lola Anderson. High for men was won by W. H. Madeira and low by Charles TeWinkle.

Those in the party were the hostess, Mrs. Harry Thayer and Mr. Thayer; Mrs. C. G. Huston, Miss Alice Plummer, the Rev. and Mrs. W. I. Lowe and daughter, Judith; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Abrams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles TeWinkle, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Madeira, Mr. and Mrs. Henry King, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben M. Day, Mrs. Ruth Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy P. Anderson, Mrs. L. R. Baughenbaugh and daughter, Grace, and Mrs. F. E. Russell.

Room decorations were in the Thanksgiving motif. Refreshments included pumpkin pie and coffee. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. C. G. Huston and Miss Alice Plummer.

The club publicity chairman, Mrs. Day, announced that the music section of the club will meet in the home of Mrs. C. A. Custer Monday at 2 p.m. A study of the life and works of the composer, Ethelbert Nevin, will occupy the time.

Party Observes Seventh Birthday

TUSTIN, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Robert Korff entertained at a merry party in observance of the seventh birthday anniversary of her son, Dickie, Tuesday. Guests were classmates from Mrs. Viola Newell's first grade at the grammar school.

Lively games were played on the lawn and many birthday gifts were presented the honor guest. The children enjoyed refreshments of ice cream, marshmallow favors and two birthday cakes, one the gift of the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Mills, in Long Beach, and the other a gift from a friend, Mrs. Riley, of Santa Ana. Mrs. Korff was assisted in serving by Mr. Korff and Mrs. J. W. Means. All details of the afternoon party featured the Thanksgiving motif.

Grade Pupils Of H. B. Attend Tea

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 24 Miss Esther Funk and members of her first grade class in the elementary school entertained the mothers of the pupils at a tea Tuesday afternoon.

Refreshments of cakes, animal cookies and punch were served. Each guest was presented with a favor of a pottery nut cup made by the children during their study of the Indian project. Miss Funk was assisted by Mrs. Anna Arnold, room mother.

Sewer Work Expected To Start Soon

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 24.—Information received in Laguna Beach from private sources holds out hope that the federal government will take up the $180,000 Arch Beach sewer bonds and that probably will be started by the first of the year. The informants of city officials say that because of large allotments to California out of the public works fund that the administration was deluged with letters and telegrams from other states and it was decided to hold up further projects until a better balance of funds had been established.

Mayor Frank B. Champion, at the request of the chamber of commerce, recently sent a telegram to Washington urging immediate action on the local project, calling attention to the number of men who would be gainfully employed. No answer has been received as yet.

Bonds were voted for the Arch Beach sewer project and the application was considered by government officials to be a model of detail and form. Plans and specifications have been completed and work can start as soon as the contract is let.

BOARD CONSIDERS BUILDING MEASURE

LA HABRA, Nov. 24.—Members of the La Habra city council discussed the advisability of adopting an earthquake ordinance, providing for the construction of buildings as near quakeproof as possible, when they met this week. The matter was left to City Engineer J. B. Sanks, with instructions that he gather information from other towns having such ordinances and make a report to the council at a future date.

Resolution No. 199 was adopted, accepting a deed from the Redfern estate, for 10 feet of land at the rear of lots 1 to 8 for the purpose of constructing an alley between Cypress and Aldrich streets. An additional 10 feet will be needed and the city engineer will see property owners adjoining before making plans for such work.

Ordinance No. 80, amending the former license ordinance, was given its second reading and adopted at this meeting. William Patterson, garbage collector, was granted a contract for the month of December.

POST, AUXILIARY IN DINNER PARTY

Following the dinner a program of speaking and games was enjoyed. Chief of Police Roland Hodgkinson was the first on the program, giving a talk on the harbor project. A turkey shoot, with air rifles used, was held. Mrs. Alma Moore and Ross Hostetler making high scores and winning the turkeys. H. L. Sherman was in charge of the entertainment.

Ralph S. Norton, child welfare chairman, announced that the post is staging a paper drive to raise welfare funds. He also announced that toys may be turned into the fire department for repair.

Gus Tamplis, commander of the post, and Mrs. Alberta Timm, auxiliary president, were in charge of the meeting.

Garden Section To Meet Tuesday

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 24.—The garden section of the Woman's club will meet the afternoon of Nov. 28 at the home of Mrs. F. W. Parsons; it was announced at this week's meeting of the club. The program chairman for December will be Mrs. Roy Larson. The luncheon committee for the December 5 meeting will be Mesdames A. T. Smith, C. W. Mays, F. W. Parsons and Roy Larson.

INFLATION IS DISCUSSED IN CLUB ADDRESS

NEWPORT, Nov. 24.—"We are going to have inflation. We are having it now. But don't be afraid of it." This was the message brought to members of the Newport Harbor Service club at its weekly luncheon meeting by Homer Chaney, former economics lecturer, now a Santa Ana banker.

Chaney traced the varying economic systems of civilized nations historically. He divided them into three classes — feudal, capitalistic and communistic. The feudal system was the original system, suited to a backward, undeveloped economy. With inventions and the introduction of machinery into production came a new system, called capitalism, or the profit system.

Capitalism at first was allowed to develop without interference under the laissez-faire (or let-alone) policy. This was the policy of everybody for himself and "rugged individualism", which gradually changed, with necessary regulation and checks, begining in the United States in about the 70's of the last century.

Russia, according to the speaker, has all three systems to some extent, feudal, capitalistic and communistic, but the last mentioned dominates that country.

Capitalism in all countries had some inevitable effects — monopolies (eventually resulting from competition), nationalism and unstable money. These things were evident now in the U. S. and many other countries. A balance of production and consumption was necessary in order to even alleviate economic crises, he said.

The temper of this country at present, Chaney declared, was undoubtedly to back up President Roosevelt in his policies. The ultra-conservatives who want to go back to laissez-faire, were the best friends of communists and those who want to upset the entire system, he believed.

H. L. Sherman, who is leaving on a South Seas trip Saturday, spoke briefly, as did M. J. Johnson, another member of the club, who has just returned from a vacation in the northwest. Malcolm Reid, graduate of the local high school, sang, accompanied by Miss Ruth McDonough.

Beach Group To Hold Yule Party

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 24.—Members of the Junior auxiliary of the Newport Beach American Legion met in the Legion hut this week, with the first vice president, Miss Josephine Clouse, presiding. During the business session a report on the membership drive was given. The senior counselor, Mrs. Floramae Rogers, announced that the senior auxiliary will sponsor a Christmas tree and party for the younger group.

Much time was spent in making Christmas stockings and other small presents to be put into the baskets that the welfare department will distribute at Christmas time. A large doll was presented to the juniors by the older group. The doll will be sold by the juniors at the December 2 bazaar, and the money will be used for welfare work.

Hostesses were Miss Ardelle Kennell and Miss Betty Ann Rogers. Mothers of the hostesses assisted in serving refreshments. Miss Priscilla Webster is chairman to the junior organization.

Reports Given At Scouts' Meeting

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24. — Satisfactory reports on the standing of the Midway City Boy Scout patrol, six of whom represented the local troop at the recent camp in Limestone canyon, where the troop received a ribbon for having the cleanest camp, were made by Scoutmaster Francis J. Bell at this week's Scout meeting. The boys at camp included Dale Heil, patrol leader; Kenneth Slonacre, Forest Hart, Ralph Linker, Vester Hazleton and Harry Lee Schmidt.

The Barber City patrol reported that a cooked food sale given by the Barber City Woman's club as a patrol benefit netted them $3.10.

GAZETTE SOLD

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24.—The Westminster Gazette, owned by Mrs. Mary Boden, of Santa Ana, sister of Henry Schmitz, who passed away last week, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. J. Foran, of Los Angeles. B. L. Kirkham and Mrs. Edna Day will continue with the paper.

La Habrans' Library Site Deal Closed

LA HABRA, Nov. 24—Announcement of the completion of the deal whereby the Kiwanis club acquired property on East Erna avenue for a library site, was made at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday noon.

The property is located immediately adjoining the city property and is a portion of the Launer estate. In selling this property for the sum of $1000, Mrs. Anna C. Launer made a donation of another lot, making a complete frontage to this piece of property of 140 feet on East Erna avenue. It is the plan of the Kiwanis club, which purchased the one lot from its library fund, to offer the second lot to the American Legion post for a legion hall.

The property was deeded to L. H. Brewer, as president of the Kiwanis club and A. C. Earley, secretary, and it is the intention of the club to offer the lot purchased to the city as a gift, to be used for library purposes only.

"The Growth of Communism in Orange County" was the subject discussed by Dr. J. E. Waters, of Anaheim, when he spoke to the club during their meeting. In this connection he stated that the Santa Ana Junior college was strongly indoctrinated and ht at there were certain church denominations in Orange county which were following the communist doctrine under the guise of pacifism.

The Kiwanis luncheon next week will be held Wednesday noon instead of Thursday.

CHURCH LEADER'S TRIAL HELD DEC. 4

LA HABRA, Nov. 24. — B. F. Chambers, of La Habra, leader of the Pentecostal church here, will come up for trial before Judge H. A. Robinson in La Habra city court December 4, at 10 a. m. Chambers is charged with conducting meetings at the church in a noisy manner and the formal charge is that of disturbing the peace.

Residents near the old picture show building, which has been leased by the church people, complained that the meetings, held every night except Monday, disturbed the peace and quiet of the neighborhood.

Chambers has hired an attorney to represent him and it is expected that the trial will draw a large crowd of interested spectators.

MERCHANTS NAME YULE COMMITTEE

BREA, Nov. 24. — Fifteen of Brea's merchants met informally in the city hall Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing ways and means of stimulating business in the city, particularly during the Christmas holiday season.

Harry Ray presided as chairman of the meeting. Arriving at no definite arrangement of the advertising campaign and the decorating of the business section of the city, the group named Harlan LeGro, Frank Holly and George Folckemer as a committee to ascertain an estimate of the cost of wiring, lighting, hanging banners and decorating the lamp posts with Christmas greens. Another meeting will be held on Monday night.

The suggestion that the stores of Brea close on Friday afternoon so that merchants might attend the game between the Brea-Olinda varsity team and the Inglewood team at the latter city was not adopted.

Ms. Stella Keene Birthday Honoree

BREA, Nov. 24.—The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Stella Keene provided occasion for friends to surprise her on Tuesday afternoon at her home in the Casa Brea inn. They brought many lovely gifts and served refreshments following a merry afternoon of games and social good time.

The guest list included Mrs. R. W. Spensley, Mrs. Frances Davis, Mrs. O. S. Close, Mrs. W. D. Shaffer, Mrs. David Goodwin, Mrs. J. C. Gourley, Mrs F. J. Schweitzer, Mrs W. E. Fanning, Mrs. E. H. CHILD INJURED

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 24. — unusual accident caused injury, Tuesday, to Ruth Robertson, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson. Ruth and several neighborhood children were playing ball, using a hammer for a bat, when the head flew off the hammer, striking the little girl on the chin. Several stitches were required to close the wound.

Let $17,000 Contract At San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 24.—Contract for a street improvement job was signed this morning by Dan Mulherron for work to be done for Ole Hanson. Streets will be graded and finished with oiled macadam and sidewalks and curbing constructed on the tracts on the highway opposite the golf club. The amount of the contract is $17,000. Mulherron states that the work will be started about December 10, employing 20 San Clemente men.

WORK ON H. B. GRADE SCHOOL TO BEGIN SOON

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 24.—Announcement that the loan asked of the federal government for the Huntington Beach elementary school has been approved and will be available before the end of December, means early commencement of building operations on the new school to take the place of the one destroyed by earthquake last March, it was stated today. The elementary school board has applied for a loan of $140,000, according to John H. Eader, president of the board of education.

The new school plant will cost $200,000. Of this sum, Huntington Beach will receive $60,000 as a donation from the earthquake relief fund, it was stated. The federal loan of $140,000 will complete the needed amount. The former school plant represented a cost of approximately $375,000. The new school will be a better school than the old school in every way and at a much lower cost, because of reduced cost of construction work prevailing at the present time as compared with a few years ago, it was stated.

The school here has made a large reduction in operating costs and except for the earthquake damage would have liquidated all its obligations during the present year, it was stated.

Some of the elementary school children are provided quarters in the high school building, some are housed in the elementary school gym, and others are going to school in church bungalow buildings and using blocked off or closed streets for quarters. The Standard Oil company donated a large auditorium building for use of the school.

New Study Plan For Tustin High

TUSTIN, Nov. 24. — Beginning after the Christmas holidays, there will be a new system for the 20-minute study period which was decided upon in a recent high school teachers' meeting.

Every Monday at 12 o'clock there will be a 20-minute period in fifth period classrooms. This will be considered as a part of the fifth period class.

On Tuesday, there will be the usual chorus; Wednesday will be open for study or class and club meetings; Thursday will be used for assemblies and on Fridays there wil be no assemblies or study periods and school will let out at 2 o'clock

Pastor To Close Midway Services

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24.—The Rev. W. A. Matson, who has conducted services at the Midway City clubhouse for the past two months, will preach here next Sunday morning for the last time. The pastor is giving up his work as it conflicts with his work at the Wintersburg Methodist church.

The first Sunday school lesson study class for teachers of the Community Sunday school and others was held Wednesday evening at the home of the Bible class teacher, Dr. Russell I. Johnson.

P.-T.A. Members To Assist Needy

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 24.—The annual custom of filling Christmas baskets for the needy will be followed this year, according to plans of the Oceanview Parent-Teacher association, which plans a benefit dinner to earn the money for this project. Mrs. T. J. Holt, financial chairman of the P.-T. A., and her committee, Mrs. J. A. Murdy jr., and Mrs. J. R. Peterson are in charge of arrangements.

WESTMINSTER SHOWER

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24. — In honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ed. Daly, of Belmont Shore, former Westminster resident, Mrs. Levitt Daly entertained with a shower at her home on Cherry street Tuesday afternoon.

Bridge entertained and Mrs. W. R. Hanline won first prize. The honoree received many lovely gifts and the afternoon concluded with the serving of refreshments of ice cream and cookies.

HOPE TO BEGIN BEACH SCHOOL DURING WINTER

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 24.—With plans for the local school being studied by a RFC committee in Los Angeles, school authorities hope to have actual construction work under way by late winter, with the building ready for occupancy by next term.

Plans presented, drawn by local architects, depict a structure of 19 rooms, including a combination auditorium, cafeteria and playroom. Arrangements are being made to house 600 pupils. The plans meet with the approval of the state school house planning commissioner, Andrew P. Hill, it was stated by those in authority. The probable cost will be about $185,000. The plans have been approved by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, the P.-T. A. and the Ebell club.

HOST SEEKS GUEST ON FORGERY COUNT

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 24. — Howard Anderson, 20, adopted son of C. I. Anderson, railroad contractor of 154 Roycroft avenue, Long Beach, is being sought by the police of several states as the result of a complaint sworn to by David Balfour, 152 High drive, Laguna Beach, charging him with forgery.

The young man had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Balfour. Recently Balfour purchased a bill of groceries at the store of K. Carpenter on Coast boulevard. He presented in payment a check for $75. Carpenter did not have enough currency on hand to cash the check in total but gave the change for $25 and Balfour said he would wait for the remaining $50.

Tuesday evening, it is alleged by Russell Carpenter, son of the proprietor, Howard Anderson appeared at the store with a note, supposedly signed by Balfour, asking that the remaining $50 be paid to him. In the absence of his father and knowing that Anderson was a guest at the Balfour home, Russell says he paid the money. Later Balfour entered the store and was informed of the transaction.

Balfour signed a complaint and took it to Long Beach. He failed to find Anderson at the home of his parents. An alarm was sent out for the arrest of the youth.

New Patrol For La Habra Scouts

LA HABRA, Nov. 24. — A new patrol was formed at the Girl Scout meeting in La Habra this week. Girls in the new patrol are from the fifth grade and Joyce Priddis was appointed temporary patrol leader, with Dorothy Humborg as temporary scribe. Mrs. Nelson Launer is in charge of the group for the present.

The Fox patrol under the leadership of Miss Edith McClure, passed tests on cooking and compass, and made a further study of the Morse code.

Hold Card Party In La Habra Home

LA HABRA, Nov. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Stuart entertained a group of their friends with a bridge party this week. Thanksgiving decorations were used, carried out in the table covers and tallies and a two-course supper was served at midnight.

Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Norton Skinner, high, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Smith, low. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Proud, of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Clark.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it one-fourth pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing, rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Brotherhood Federation Meets Dec. 9

LA HABRA, Nov. 24. — I. E. Wiede announced today that the next meeting of the State Federation of Brotherhoods, will be held at the Baptist church in Fullerton December 9. Reservations for the evening banquet should be sent to E. W. Moore, of Fullerton, before December 7, he said.

The quarterly meeting of the board of directors will be held in the afternoon preceding the meeting of the brotherhood in the evening.

LAGUNA BEACH C. OF C. BACKS PORT PROJECT

LAGUNA EACH, Nov. 23.—Following a talk by Dr. Thomas Spencer Miller, who referred to Newport bay as "the port of Laguna Beach," the directors of the chamber of commerce Wednesday went on record as favoring the passage of the $640,500 Orange counuty harbor bonds at the election, December 19, by an unanimous vote.

On motion of Perry E. McCullough, vice president, the directors also unanimously endorsed the report of a special committee, headed by John Jahle, and went on record as favoring the establishment of a high school in this city by September, 1934, by using the present and temporary buildings and with recourse to a bond issue. Previously, a meeting of the members had accepted the report of the committee without a dissenting vote.

Dr. Miller, who is president of the Coast Council on Beautification, and an engineer of distinction, said he wanted to see Laguna Beach and Newport each linked together in every possible way and suggested that all advertising by the chamber of commerce should call attention to the harbor as the city's ... t. He expressed the belief that many yachtsmen will be attracted from other sections of the country and that many of them will choose Laguna Beach for a place of residence. He said he would put the harbor project before the proposed breakwater for Laguna Beach, recently sponsored by the Lions club, and added that the harbor at Newport would be of national and international importance.

Mrs. Ada E. Purpus called the attention of the directors to a benefit dance to be held at the Cabrillo ballroom on the night of December 2 for the Red Cross. Admission will be by tickets or by two cans of food. The hall has been donated by Messrs. Brown and Farrell and the music by "Cally" Holden's orchestra.

The directors voted to have Capt. George A. Portus, executive secretary, write a leter to Councilman C. R. Clapp, park commissioner, requesting that the beach be kept free of kelp during the winter months.

Plan New Church Club In La Habra

LA HABRA, Nov. 24.—Rex Barr, radio pastor, is organizing a club in La Habra. The first meeting was held at the home of the Rev. H. O. Simmons and those who attended were Marjorie Stevens, Harriett, Catherine and Paul Simmons, Nedra and Mildred Montgomery, Gracia Stearman, Raymond Burbank, Juen Wiede and Winifred Sutton.

CITES HISTORY OF INFLATION IN BREA TALK

BREA, Nov. 24.—Wilfred Taylor, Santa Ana banker, was the guest speaker at the Brea Lions luncheon Thursday, speaking on "Inflation." Taylor dealt with the subject from the viewpoint of the banker, reviewing history back to a point antedating the Christian era to cite the fact that the inflation of the monetary system is not a new experiment. Ralph E. Barnes presided.

Howard Robinson, one of the committee on reconstruction of business faith in Brea, reported that Brea has 41 concerns with a payroll, these figures not including firms practically managed by one person. The payroll of the period from November 1, 1932, to November 1, 1933, he said totaled $930,000. The major portion of the payroll, Robinson said, is made up in the schools of Brea.

Another member of this committee, W. E. Fanning, will report at the next meeting on the Brea schools and the following meeting will be featured by a report from W. A. Culp on housing conditions.

J. B. Phillips reported on arrangements for the annual football dinner which Lions will sponsor at the high school on the evening of December 5. The coach and several of the team from Loyola college will be present.

No meeting of the club will be held next Thursday. Twenty members made up by attending the county council meeting at Costa Mesa on Monday evening, a report of which meeting was made by Frank Wharton. Others will make up by going to Laguna Beach on Thursday night, when C. O. Harvey will install officers.

Chorus Planning February Concert

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24. — A concert is to be given the middle of February by the Westminster Community chorus, it was decided Tuesday evening at the regular weekly rehearsal at which 31 members were present. It is hoped to bring the chorus membership up to 40 before the concert date, and weekly rehearsals will be continued. The chorus is directed by Prof. Orion Bebermeyer of the Festminster school faculty.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation.

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be controlled. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the average person's bowels regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there's little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. All druggists, ready for use, in big bottles. Member N. R. A.

Party Observes Seventh Birthday

TUSTIN, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Robert Korff entertained at a merry party in observance of the seventh birthday anniversary of her son, Dickie, Tuesday. Guests were classmates from Mrs. Viola Newell's first grade at the grammar school.

Lively games were played on the lawn and many birthday gifts were presented the honor guest. The children enjoyed refreshments of ice cream, marshmallow favors and two birthday cakes, one the gift of the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Mills, in Long Beach, and the other a gift from a friend, Mrs. Riley, of Santa Ana. Mrs. Korff was assisted in serving by Mr. Korff and Mrs. J. W. Means. All details of the afternoon party featured the Thanksgiving motif.

Grade Pupils Of H. B. Attend Tea

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 24 Miss Esther Funk and members of her first grade class in the elementary school entertained the mothers of the pupils at a tea Tuesday afternoon.

Refreshments of cakes, animal cookies and punch were served. Each guest was presented with a favor of a pottery nut cup made by the children during their study of the Indian project. Miss Funk was assisted by Mrs. Anna Arnold, room mother.

Sewer Work Expected To Start Soon

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 24.—Information received in Laguna Beach from private sources holds out hope that the federal government will take up the $180,000 Arch Beach sewer bonds and that probably will be started by the first of the year. The informants of city officials say that because of large allotments to California out of the public works fund that the administration was deluged with letters and telegrams from other states and it was decided to hold up further projects until a better balance of funds had been established.

Mayor Frank B. Champion, at the request of the chamber of commerce, recently sent a telegram to Washington urging immediate action on the local project, calling attention to the number of men who would be gainfully employed. No answer has been received as yet.

Bonds were voted for the Arch Beach sewer project and the application was considered by government officials to be a model of detail and form. Plans and specifications have been completed and work can start as soon as the contract is let.

BOARD CONSIDERS BUILDING MEASURE

LA HABRA, Nov. 24.—Members of the La Habra city council discussed the advisability of adopting an earthquake ordinance, providing for the construction of buildings as near quakeproof as possible, when they met this week. The matter was left to City Engineer J. B. Sanks, with instructions that he gather information from other towns having such ordinances and make a report to the council at a future date.

Resolution No. 199 was adopted, accepting a deed from the Redfern estate, for 10 feet of land at the rear of lots 1 to 8 for the purpose of constructing an alley between Cypress and Aldrich streets. An additional 10 feet will be needed and the city engineer will see property owners adjoining before making plans for such work.

Ordinance No. 80, amending the former license ordinance, was given its second reading and adopted at this meeting. William Patterson, garbage collector, was granted a contract for the month of December.

POST, AUXILIARY IN DINNER PARTY

Following the dinner a program of speaking and games was enjoyed. Chief of Police Roland Hodgkinson was the first on the program, giving a talk on the harbor project. A turkey shoot, with air rifles used, was held, Mrs. Alma Moore and Ross Hostetler making high scores and winning the turkeys. H. L. Sherman was in charge of the entertainment.

Ralph S. Norton, child welfare chairman, announced that the post is staging a paper drive to raise welfare funds. He also announced that toys may be turned into the fire department for repair.

Gus Tamplis, commander of the post, and Mrs. Alberta Timm, auxiliary president, were in charge of the meeting.

Garden Section To Meet Tuesday

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 24.—The garden section of the Woman's club will meet the afternoon of Nov. 28 at the home of Mrs. F. W. Parsons; it was announced at this week's meeting of the club. The program chairman for December will be Mrs. Roy Larson. The luncheon committee for the December 5 meeting will be Mesdames A. T. Smith, C. W. Mays, F. W. Parsons and Roy Larson.

INFLATION IS DISCUSSED IN CLUB ADDRESS

NEWPORT, Nov. 24.—"We are going to have inflation. We are having it now. But don't be afraid of it." This was the message brought to members of the Newport Harbor Service club at its weekly luncheon meeting by Homer Chaney, former economics lecturer, now a Santa Ana banker.

Chaney traced the varying economic systems of civilized nations historically. He divided them into three classes — feudal, capitalistic and communistic. The feudal system was the original system, suited to a backward, undeveloped economy. With inventions and the introduction of machinery into production came a new system, called capitalism, or the profit system.

Capitalism at first was allowed to develop without interference under the laissez-faire (or let-alone) policy. This was the policy of everybody for himself and "rugged individualism", which gradually changed, with necessary regulation and checks, begining in the United States in about the 70's of the last century.

Russia, according to the speaker, has all three systems to some extent, feudal, capitalistic and communistic, but the last mentioned dominates that country.

Capitalism in all countries had some inevitable effects — monopolies (eventually resulting from competition), nationalism and unstable money. These things were evident now in the U. S. and many other countries. A balance of production and consumption was necessary in order to even alleviate economic crises, he said.

The temper of this country at present, Chaney declared, was undoubtedly to back up President Roosevelt in his policies. The ultra-conservatives who want to go back to laissez-faire, were the best friends of communists and those who want to upset the entire system, he believed.

H. L. Sherman, who is leaving on a South Seas trip Saturday, spoke briefly, as did M. J. Johnson, another member of the club, who has just returned from a vacation in the northwest. Malcolm Reid, graduate of the local high school, sang, accompanied by Miss Ruth McDonough.

Beach Group To Hold Yule Party

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 24.—Members of the Junior auxiliary of the Newport Beach American Legion met in the Legion hut this week, with the first vice president, Miss Josephine Clouse, presiding. During the business session a report on the membership drive was given. The senior counselor, Mrs. Floramae Rogers, announced that the senior auxiliary will sponsor a Christmas tree and party for the younger group.

Much time was spent in making Christmas stockings and other small presents to be put into the baskets that the welfare department will distribute at Christmas time. A large doll was presented to the juniors by the older group. The doll will be sold by the juniors at the December 2 bazaar, and the money will be used for welfare work.

Hostesses were Miss Ardelle Kennell and Miss Betty Ann Rogers. Mothers of the hostesses assisted in serving refreshments. Miss Priscilla Webster is chairman to the junior organization.

Reports Given At Scouts' Meeting

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24. — Satisfactory reports on the standing of the Midway City Boy Scout patrol, six of whom represented the local troop at the recent camp in Limestone canyon, where the troop received a ribbon for having the cleanest camp, were made by Scoutmaster Francis J. Bell at this week's Scout meeting. The boys at camp included Dale Hell, patrol leader; Kenneth Slonacre, Forest Hart, Ralph Linker, Vester Hazleton and Harry Lee Schmidt.

The Barber City patrol reported that a cooked food sale given by the Barber City Woman's club as a patrol benefit netted them $2.10.

GAZETTE SOLD

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24.—The Westminster Gazette, owned by Mrs. Mary Boden, of Santa Ana, sister of Henry Schmitz, who passed away last week, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. J. Foran, of Los Angeles. B. L. Kirkham and Mrs. Edna Day will continue with the paper.

La Habrans' Library Site Deal Closed

LA HABRA, Nov. 24—Announcement of the completion of the deal whereby the Kiwanis club acquired property on East Erna avenue for a library site, was made at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday noon.

The property is located immediately adjoining the city property and is a portion of the Launer estate. In selling this property for the sum of $1000, Mrs. Anna C. Launer made a donation of another lot, making a complete frontage to this piece of property of 140 feet on East Erna avenue. It is the plan of the Kiwanis club, which purchased the one lot from its library fund, to offer the second lot to the American Legion post for a legion hall.

The property was deeded to L. H. Brewer, as president of the Kiwanis club and A. C. Earley, secretary, and it is the intention of the club to offer the lot purchased to the city as a gift, to be used for library purposes only.

"The Growth of Communism in Orange County" was the subject discussed by Dr. J. E. Waters, of Anaheim, when he spoke to the club during their meeting. In this connection he stated that the Santa Ana Junior college was strongly indoctrinated and ht at there were certain church denominations in Orange county which were following the communist doctrine under the guise of pacifism.

The Kiwanis luncheon next week will be held Wednesday noon instead of Thursday.

CHURCH LEADER'S TRIAL HELD DEC. 4

LA HABRA, Nov. 24. — B. F. Chambers, of La Habra, leader of the Pentecostal church here, will come up for trial before Judge H. A. Robinson in La Habra city court December 4, at 10 a. m. Chambers is charged with conducting meetings at the church in a noisy manner and the formal charge is that of disturbing the peace.

Residents near the old picture show building, which has been leased by the church people, complained that the meetings, held every night except Monday, disturbed the peace and quiet of the neighborhood.

Chambers has hired an attorney to represent him and it is expected that the trial will draw a large crowd of interested spectators.

MERCHANTS NAME YULE COMMITTEE

BREA, Nov. 24. — Fifteen of Brea's merchants met informally in the city hall Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing ways and means of stimulating business in the city, particularly during the Christmas holiday season.

Harry Ray presided as chairman of the meeting. Arriving at no definite arrangement of the advertising campaign and the decorating of the business section of the city, the group named Harlan LeGro, Frank Holly and George Folckemer as a committee to ascertain an estimate of the cost of wiring, lighting, hanging banners and decorating the lamp posts with Christmas greens. Another meeting will be held on Monday night.

The suggestion that the stores of Brea close on Friday afternoon so that merchants might attend the game between the Brea-Olinda varsity team and the Inglewood team at the latter city was not adopted.

Ms. Stella Keene Birthday Honoree

CHILD INJURED

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 24. — unusual accident caused injury, Tuesday, to Ruth Robertson, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson. Ruth and several neighborhood children were playing ball, using a hammer for a bat, when the head flew off the hammer, striking the little girl on the chin. Several stitches were required to close the wound.

Let $17,000 Contract At San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 24.—Contract for a street improvement job was signed this morning by Dan Mulherron for work to be done for Ole Hanson. Streets will be graded and finished with oiled macadam and sidewalks and curbing constructed on the tracts on the highway opposite the golf club. The amount of the contract is $17,000. Mulherron states that the work will be started about December 10, employing 20 San Clemente men.

WORK ON H. B. GRADE SCHOOL TO BEGIN SOON

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 24.—Announcement that the loan asked of the federal government for the Huntington Beach elementary school has been approved and will be available before the end of December, means early commencement of building operations on the new school to take the place of the one destroyed by earthquake last March, it was stated today. The elementary school board has applied for a loan of $140,000, according to John H. Eader, president of the board of education.

The new school plant will cost $200,000. Of this sum, Huntington Beach will receive $60,000 as a donation from the earthquake relief fund, it was stated. The federal loan of $140,000 will complete the needed amount. The former school plant represented a cost of approximately $375,000. The new school will be a better school than the old school in every way and at a much lower cost, because of reduced cost of construction work prevailing at the present time as compared with a few years ago, it was stated.

The school here has made a large reduction in operating costs and except for the earthquake damage would have liquidated all its obligations during the present year, it was stated.

Some of the elementary school children are provided quarters in the high school building, some are housed in the elementary school gym, and others are going to school in church bungalow buildings and using blocked off or closed streets for quarters. The Standard Oil company donated a large auditorium building for use of the school.

New Study Plan For Tustin High

TUSTIN, Nov. 24. — Beginning after the Christmas holidays, there will be a new system for the 20-minute study period which was decided upon in a recent high school teachers' meeting.

Every Monday at 12 o'clock there will be a 20-minute period in fifth period classrooms. This will be considered as a part of the fifth period class.

On Tuesday, there will be the usual chorus; Wednesday will be open for study or class and club meetings; Thursday will be used for assemblies and on Fridays there wil be no assemblies or study periods and school will let out at 2 o'clock.

Pastor To Close Midway Services

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24.—The Rev. W. A. Matson, who has conducted services at the Midway City clubhouse for the past two months, will preach here next Sunday morning for the last time. The pastor is giving up his work as it conflicts with his work at the Wintersburg Methodist church.

The first Sunday school lesson study class for teachers of the Community Sunday school and others was held Wednesday evening at the home of the Bible class teacher, Dr. Russell I. Johnson.

P.-T.A. Members To Assist Needy

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 24.—The annual custom of filling Christmas baskets for the needy will be followed this year, according to plans of the Oceanview Parent-Teacher association, which plans a benefit dinner to earn the money for this project. Mrs. T. J. Holt, financial chairman of the P.-T. A., and her committee, Mrs. J. A. Murdy jr., and Mrs. J. R. Peterson are in charge of arrangements.

WESTMINSTER SHOWER

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24. — In honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ed. Daly, of Belmont Shore, former Westminster resident, Mrs. Levitt Daly entertained with a shower at her home on Cherry street Tuesday afternoon.

Bridge entertained and Mrs. W. R. Hanline won first prize. The honoree received many lovely gifts and the afternoon concluded with the serving of refreshments of ice cream and cookies.

HOPE TO BEGIN BEACH SCHOOL DURING WINTER

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 24.—With plans for the local school being studied by a RFC committee in Los Angeles, school authorities hope to have actual construction work under way by late winter, with the building ready for occupancy by next term.

Plans presented, drawn by local architects, depict a structure of 19 rooms, including a combination auditorium, cafeteria and playroom. Arrangements are being made to house 600 pupils. The plans meet with the approval of the state school house planning commissioner, Andrew P. Hill, it was stated by those in authority. The probable cost will be about $185,000. The plans have been approved by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, the P.-T. A. and the Ebell club.

HOST SEEKS GUEST ON FORGERY COUNT

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 24. — Howard Anderson, 20, adopted son of C. I. Anderson, railroad contractor of 154 Roycroft avenue, Long Beach, is being sought by the police of several states as the result of a complaint sworn to by David Balfour, 152 High drive, Laguna Beach, charging him with forgery.

The young man had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Balfour. Recently Balfour purchased a bill of groceries at the store of K. Carpenter on Coast boulevard. He presented in payment a check for $75. Carpenter did not have enough currency on hand to cash the check in total but gave the change for $25 and Balfour said he would wait for the remaining $50.

Tuesday evening, it is alleged by Russell Carpenter, son of the proprietor, Howard Anderson appeared at the store with a note, supposedly signed by Balfour, asking that the remaining $50 be paid to him. In the absence of his father and knowing that Anderson was a guest at the Balfour home, Russell says he paid the money. Later Balfour entered the store and was informed of the transaction.

Balfour signed a complaint and took it to Long Beach. He failed to find Anderson at the home of his parents. An alarm was sent out for the arrest of the youth.

New Patrol For La Habra Scouts

LA HABRA, Nov. 24. — A new patrol was formed at the Girl Scout meeting in La Habra this week. Girls in the new patrol are from the fifth grade and Joyce Priddis was appointed temporary patrol leader, with Dorothy Humborg as temporary scribe. Mrs. Nelson Launer is in charge of the group for the present.

The Fox patrol under the leadership of Miss Edith McClure, passed tests on cooking and compass, and made a further study of the Morse code.

Hold Card Party In La Habra Home

LA HABRA, Nov. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Stuart entertained a group of their friends with a bridge party this week. Thanksgiving decorations were used, carried out in the table covers and tallies and a two-course supper was served at midnight.

Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Norton Skinner, high, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Smith, low. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Proud, of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Clark.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula nad hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it one-fourth pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing, rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Brotherhood Federation Meets Dec. 9

LA HABRA, Nov. 24. — I. E. Wiede announced today that the next meeting of the State Federation of Brotherhoods, will be held at the Baptist church in Fullerton December 9. Reservations for the evening banquet should be sent to E. W. Moore, of Fullerton, before December 7, he said.

The quarterly meeting of the board of directors will be held in the afternoon preceding the meeting of the brotherhood in the evening.

LAGUNA BEACH C. OF C. BACKS PORT PROJECT

LAGUNA EACH, Nov. 23.—Following a talk by Dr. Thomas Spencer Miller, who referred to Newport bay as "the port of Laguna Beach," the directors of the chamber of commerce Wednesday went on record as favoring the passage of the $640,500 Orange counuty harbor bonds at the election, December 19, by an unanimous vote.

On motion of Perry E. McCullough, vice president, the directors also unanimously endorsed the report of a special committee, headed by John Jahle, and went on record as favoring the establishment of a high school in this city by September, 1934, by using the present and temporary buildings and with recourse to a bond issue. Previously, a meeting of the members had accepted the report of the committee without a dissenting vote.

Dr. Miller, who is president of the Coast Council on Beautification, and an engineer of distinction, said he wanted to see Laguna Beach and Newport each linked together in every possible way and suggested that all advertising by the chamber of commerce should call attention to the harbor as the city's ... t. He expressed the belief that many yachtsmen will be attracted from other sections of the country and that many of them will choose Laguna Beach for a place of residence. He said he would put the harbor project before the proposed breakwater for Laguna Beach, recently sponsored by the Lions club, and added that the harbor at Newport would be of national and international importance.

Mrs. Ada E. Purpus called the attention of the directors to a benefit dance to be held at the Cabrillo ballroom on the night of December 2 for the Red Cross. Admission will be by tickets or by two cans of food. The hall has been donated by Messrs. Brown and Farrell and the music by "Cally" Holden's orchestra.

The directors voted to have Capt. George A. Portus, executive secretary, write a leter to Councilman C. R. Clapp, park commissioner, requesting that the beach be kept free of kelp during the winter months.

Plan New Church Club In La Habra

LA HABRA, Nov. 24.—Rex Barr, radio pastor, is organizing a club in La Habra. The first meeting was held at the home of the Rev. H. O. Simmons and those who attended were Marjorie Stevens, Harriett, Catherine and Paul Simmons, Nedra and Mildred Montgomery, Gracia Stearman, Raymond Burbank, Juen Wiede and Winifred Sutton.

CITES HISTORY OF INFLATION IN BREA TALK

BREA, Nov. 24.—Wilfred Taylor, Santa Ana banker, was the guest speaker at the Brea Lions luncheon Thursday, speaking on "Inflation." Taylor dealt with the subject from the viewpoint of the banker, reviewing history back to a point antedating the Christian era to cite the fact that the inflation of the monetary system is not a new experiment. Ralph E. Barnes presided.

Howard Robinson, one of the committee on reconstruction of business faith in Brea, reported that Brea has 41 concerns with a payroll, these figures not including firms practically managed by one person. The payroll of the period from November 1, 1932, to November 1, 1933, he said totaled $950,000. The major portion of the payroll, Robinson said, is made up in the schools of Brea.

Another member of this committee, W. E. Fanning, will report at the next meeting on the Brea schools and the following meeting will be featured by a report from W. A. Culp on housing conditions.

J. B. Phillips reported on arrangements for the annual football dinner which Lions will sponsor at the high school on the evening of December 5. The coach and several of the team from Loyola college will be present.

No meeting of the club will be held next Thursday. Twenty members made up by attending the county council meeting at Costa Mesa on Monday evening, a report of which meeting was made by Frank Wharton. Others will make up by going to Laguna Beach on Thursday night, when C. O. Harvey will install officers.

Chorus Planning February Concert

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 24. — A concert is to be given the middle of February by the Westminster Community chorus, it was decided Tuesday evening at the regular weekly rehearsal at which 31 members were present. It is hoped to bring the chorus membership up to 40 before the concert date, and weekly rehearsals will be continued. The chorus is directed by Prof. Orion Bebermeyer of the Festminster school faculty.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation.

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be controlled. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the average person's bowels regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there's little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. All druggists, ready for use, in big bottles. Member N. R. A.

'GALLOPING ROMEO' STARS BOB STEELE

"Galloping Romeo," a western starring Bob Steele, comes to Walker's State theater for a two-day run starting today.

Steele's latest starring attraction introduces a new element in western pictures. It's a mystery plot in which the crux of the situation hinges on the mysterious disappearance of gold shipments from a California stage.

The mystery is enhanced by the introduction of numerous thrills, such as a running gun battle between holdup men and the crew of the stage, hair-raising scenes of a stage coach plunging over a cliff, and a stirring rescue from a rushing torrent in which one of the leading characters is carried away in a locked trunk.

ACCIDENT VICTIM SUES FOR $21,800

Injuries to Mrs. Mary C. Robinson, received in an automobile accident July 31, last, were the basis of a suit filed in superior court today demanding damages of $21,800 from Eugene Armstrong. The suit was filed by Mrs. Robinson and her husband Arthur C. Robinson.

The complaint alleged that Mrs. Robinson received injuries which, she alleges will be permanent and prevent her from following her occupation as an orange packer when her automobile, which she was driving at the time, was involved in a collision with the automobile driven by Armstrong. The accident happened at the intersection of South Glassell and Palmyra streets in Orange.

Mrs. Robinson is asking $5000 damages for her injuries; $10,000 because the injuries, she alleges, will be permanent and result in limitation of motion and action; an additional $5000 because, due to her injuries she can no longer follow her occupation as an orange packer; $50 damages to the automobile she was driving and $25 which is half the amount of alleged damage caused by the necessity of keeping the car in a garage for five days. Robinson is demanding $1000 for the loss of his wife's services, help, advice and normal comfort of his wife's love and affection. Robinson and his wife are demanding an additional $500 jointly for medical expenses incurred because of the accident.

REO DEVICE AIDS ALL TRUCK OWNERS

Based on the inter-relationships between controlling factors of truck performance, a slide rule copyrighted by the Reo Motor company and supplied to dealers, salesmen and operators is said to indicate instantly the proper or safe economical load carrying capacity, hill climbing ability and speed for any truck for which specifications are known.

Engine power or torque, axle and transmission gear ratios, and tire sizes all receive proper consideration. One side of the slide rule, which is of convenient pocket size, is printed in black and is used for determining load pulling and grade climbing ability. The other, printed in red, is used for speed calculations. Reo officials are confident that this device, by determining the fitness of a truck already in service to satisfy any given hauling requirements and by aiding in selection of new equipment suited to the needs, will help operators to effect hauling economies.

GOODRICH BATTERY PRAISED BY LYON

The Electro-Pak, an automobile storage battery of strikingly distinctive and unique new design, is announced by the B. G. Goodrich company, tire and rubber manufacturers of Akron, Ohio, through Orval Lyon, Santa Ana distributor.

A list of advantages claimed by the manufacturer for the new battery are high resistance to shorts, great reduction of corrosion and power leakage, sturdier construction, better appearance, greater power, longer life, distinctive design, protective cover, hard rubber case of uniform thickness and convenient hand grips.

Arrest Negroes On Assault Charge

Two Santa Ana negroes, wanted in Long Beach for assaulting and robbing a man, were arrested by Santa Ana police last night and booked at the county jail.

Robert N. Horton, 27, and Frank C. Ealey, 26, both living at 1905 West First street, were charged with hitting the Long Beach man with a blackjack and robbing him of 87 cents last week. Ealey was taken in custody while working on an RFC project at Orange Park Acres yesterday evening while Horton was arrested at his home late last night. Detective Sergeant Charles Wolford and Assistant Chief Harry Fink made the arrests.

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

DE-DOLED

Paste this up as a prediction.

A definite formula for taking cars of the unemployed by work rather than charity is going to grow out of the Civil Works administration experiment, designed to put 4,000,000 men in jobs by the first of the year. Federal breadline relief is about at an end.

The Roosevelt administration is evolving a long-range planning proposition that will put the payroll in place of the dole over a period of at least ten years.

The new New Deal—if that's not redundant—is aiming at "employment insurance" by the federal government rather than "unemployment insurance" as now undertaken in England and other countries.

Careful study of the British system has convinced the Roosevelt advisers that amputation of a portion of the pay of those working to take care of the unemployed merely breeds a desire among the unambitious to batten fast to the dole.

So they are looking for a series of irreproachable federal projects that will keep a large number of men continuously employed over the distress period and on into the normal small percentage of joblessness.

Still predicting, this will be worked out on a definite ratio of financial outlay by the national government and by the states, municipalities and counties. The bulk of the money as usual will come from the treasury.

Instead of giving a man a few dollars a week for bare food allowance, a strenuous effort is going to be made to put that man to work on a bare living wage—or better if possible. This will net the distressed family more income and at the same time give the nation and the community benefit of the man's labor.

The Roman emperors kept their people busy and fed in this way. It was tried in this country in 1830 but sabotaged. The 1933-34 attempt will seek to down the sabotage.

SAVINGS

In view of this anticipated decision it is still further predicted that not more than $100,000,000 will be asked of the coming congress for direct emergency relief.

Treasury money will be applied to continuing the fit but out o' luck in the jobs now being created for them. It will be up to the states, cities and counties to look after their "unemployables."

LIGHTENING

Between now and the time this ambitious movement takes hold Civil Works Administrator Harry Hopkins has one big problem.

That is to determine how many of the 3,500,000 families on relief rolls are destined to stay there because of old age, physical infirmity or other inability to do hard work.

In 1929 there were tens of thousands of elderly people who had saved enough money to secure them for the rest of their lives. The crash left them destitute and helpless.

This is the group that will be shouldered back on the community for care while the government gives employment to the able-bodied. The theory is that the community's load will be lightened sufficiently to harbor its own inefficients without further government aid.

This whole idea will be complicated seriously if the communities balk or fail to cooperate.

In foreign countries there are no state lines and the government arbitrarily puts its people to work. Here each state is jealous of the other's apportionment. Deep-rooted politics steps in to demand a pro-ratio cut regardless of merit.

BAIT

Now that the master code for the food industry has exploded square in front of the gentlemen running the Agricultural Adjustment administration, they are trying a new tack.

They couldn't get everybody under one tent because each group thought it could spot the twist of the knife.

Here's what's about to be proposed: A single distributing code that will embrace the wholesale and retail grocers; a blanket code for manufacturers of food products.

There is one big out in the manufacturers 'code.

It will be like the president's blanket NRA agreement in that any sub-division may enter a code of its own and work under it thereafter if approved.

This will be the bait to get an original agreement.

The highlight of the retail-wholesale grocers' distributing code will be a definite declaration that the grocers agree to prohibit "destructive price-cutting or use of loss-leaders." Amplifying clauses will set forth exactly what price-cutting and loss-leaders are.

If the NRA code for retail dry goods merchants is held legal in its stipulation that a reasonable mark-up should be added to actual cost to take care of wages, AAA may include a like paragraph in the distributing code.

If they do they will use the word "shall" instead of the foggy "should" that is causing all the trouble in the dry goods agreement.

NOTES

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

WAR

The truce between Washington and Wall Street—result of the spring emergency on Washington's terms—is over. Preliminary sniping will soon give way to a general engagement with publicity for bullets and "sound money" for battleground.

Local financial powers have recovered from the fear of general collapse which caused them to accept Roosevelt's leadership some months back. Recovery to date has changed their ideas of taking the veil permanently. So now they yearn to lead the nation back to "common sense."

The financial big shots are authentically interested in orthodox money but that's only part of the picture. Their real aim is the restoration of their own importance in the national scheme. The world is out of joint when they don't run it. The ancient slogan "less government in business" will be overhauled and given new motors.

Impartial New York observers size up the rebellion as poor strategy badly timed. They point out what a break the president gets with the Tory opposition out in the open. They predict it will effectively unite Congress behind him on monetary policy with a keener yen than ever for rigid regulation of the various phases of high finance.

An important part of the war will be fought in the air (waves). It is something more than poetic license to say that Father Coughlin—the radio priest—is an unofficial big gun for the government. Will Rogers is an important piece in the opposing battery.

The Wall Street generals prefer to direct things from an invisible dugout if possible. But it isn't likely that they can stay out of sight. They had a deft hand in arranging the sound money meeting at Carnegie Hall under the auspices of the American Legion, the Federation of Labor, and the Crusaders. The demonstration is local as far as these organizations are concerned. It is doubtful whether they will commit themselves nationally.

The inflationist comeback to the Carnegie gathering will probably be a mass meeting at Madison Square Garden with Father Coughlin as chief speaker. Madison Square holds about seven times as many people as Carnegie and they expect to pack it to the roof.

Local inflationists say they warned the opposition this would happen if they started anything. The opposition has gone ahead regardless.

Keen New York observers comment that the left wing radicals have failed to capture the Democratic or Republican party, the Federation or the Legion—any one of which would have put them on the map for keeps. But the Tories have captured the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers for whatever good it will do them.

• • •

The Silas Strawn-Julius Barnes leadership of the Chamber of Commerce anti-code drive is locally rated a big help to the administration. Both were staunch Hooverites. A leading New Yorker of the younger flight comments: "The main trouble with the Chamber is that it's too McKinley-minded."

There is a definite cleavage growing wider between the Stock Exchange crowd and the banking community. The brokers are more and more inclined to string along with the new monetary policy although opinion is by no means unanimous. The banks are still standing very pat.

The industries which staged the toughest battles before accepting their codes are now privately more pleased with them than anybody else. Steel, oil and coal executives are fairly purring at the prospects for national future development. That makes it sort of hard for the conservatives to prove that the codes are unjust monstrosities and that business must be handed back to its own control forthwith. It's like a temperance lecturer having his horrible example walk out on him.

• • •

The slump in the dollar has been peaches and cream to the motor industry. For the first time in years they are having trouble keeping export shipments up to date. Some companies have had to solve a crate shortage—having failed to stock up because they didn't see what was coming.

Some manufacturers may hold up their new models several weeks to take full advantage of this unexpected outlet for their surplus stock of current models.

Financial experts say that the Roosevelt monetary policy includes the purchase of gold from the Bank of France as a means of forcing the franc up. When it reaches a figure around 75 to the pound sterling they think it likely that France will have to abandon gold payments.

SIDELIGHTS

New York hears that Henry Morgenthau jr., will be a guest at Warm Springs from Thursday to Sunday (Nov. 23-26). . . . Shifts in the General Motors organization stress the rise of young executives. . . . Governor Lehman is credited on the inside with having arranged that Al Smith visit to the White House.

Based on the inter-relationships between controlling factors of truck performance, a slide rule copyrighted by the Reo Motor company and supplied to dealers, salesmen and operators is said to indicate instantly the proper or safe economical load carrying capacity, hill climbing ability and speed for any truck for which specifications are known.

Engine power or torque, axle and transmission gear ratios, and tire sizes all receive proper consideration. One side of the slide rule, which is of convenient pocket size, is printed in black and is used for determining load pulling and grade climbing ability. The other, printed in red, is used for speed calculations. Reo officials are confident that this device, by determining the fitness of a truck already in service to satisfy any given hauling requirements and by aiding in selection of new equipment suited to the needs, will help operators to effect haulig economies.

GOODRICH BATTERY PRAISED BY LYON

The Electro-Pak, an automobile storage battery of strikingly distinctive and unique new design, is announced by the B. G. Goodrich company, tire and rubber manufacturers of Akron, Ohio, through Orval Lyon, Santa Ana distributor.

A list of advantages claimed by the manufacturer for the new battery are high resistance to shorts, great reduction of corrosion and power leakage, sturdier construction, better appearance, greater power, longer life, distinctive design, protective cover, hard rubber case of uniform thickness and convenient hand grips.

Arrest Negroes On Assault Charge

Two Santa Ana negroes, wanted in Long Beach for assaulting and robbing a man, were arrested by Santa Ana police last night and booked at the county jail.

Robert N. Horton, 27, and Frank C. Ealey, 26, both living at 1905 West First street, were charged with hitting the Long Beach man with a blackjack and robbing him of 87 cents last week. Ealey was taken in custody while working on an RFC project at Orange Park Acres yesterday evening while Horton was arrested at his home late last night. Detective Sergeant Charles Wolford and Assistant Chief Harry Fink made the arrests.

WASHINGTON

Paste this up as a prediction.

A definite formula for taking cars of the unemployed by work rather than charity is going to grow out of the Civil Works administration experiment, designed to put 4,000,000 men in jobs by the first of the year. Federal breadline relief is about at an end.

The Roosevelt administration is evolving a long-range planning proposition that will put the payroll in place of the dole over a period of at least ten years.

The new New Deal—if that's not redundant—is aiming at "employment insurance" by the federal government rather than "unemployment insurance" as now undertaken in England and other countries.

Careful study of the British system has convinced the Roosevelt advisers that amputation of a portion of the pay of those working to take care of the unemployed merely breeds a desire among the unambitious to batten fast to the dole.

So they are looking for a series of irreproachable federal projects that will keep a large number of men continuously employed over the distress period and on into the normal small percentage of joblessness.

Still predicting, this will be worked out on a definite ratio of financial outlay by the national government and by the states, municipalities and counties. The bulk of the money as usual will come from the treasury.

Instead of giving a man a few dollars a week for bare food allowance, a strenuous effort is going to be made to put that man to work on a bare living wage—or better if possible. This will net the distressed family more income and at the same time give the nation and the community benefit of the man's labor.

The Roman emperors kept their people busy and fed in this way. It was tried in this country in 1830 but sabotaged. The 1933-34 attempt will seek to down the sabotage.

SAVINGS

In view of this anticipated decision it is still further predicted that not more than $100,000,000 will be asked of the coming congress for direct emergency relief.

Treasury money will be applied to continuing the fit but out o' luck in the jobs now being created for them. It will be up to the states, cities and counties to look after their "unemployables."

LIGHTENING

Between now and the time this ambitious movement takes hold Civil Works Administrator Harry Hopkins has one big problem.

That is to determine how many of the 3,500,000 families on relief rolls are destined to stay there because of old age, physical infirmity or other inability to do hard work.

In 1929 there were tens of thousands of elderly people who had saved enough money to secure them for the rest of their lives. The crash left them destitute and helpless.

This is the group that will be shouldered back on the community for care while the government gives employment to the able-bodied. The theory is that the community's load will be lightened sufficiently to harbor its own inefficients without further government aid.

This whole idea will be complicated seriously if the communities balk or fail to cooperate.

In foreign countries there are no state lines and the government arbitrarily puts its people to work. Here each state is jealous of the other's apportionment. Deep-rooted politics steps in to demand a pro-ratio cut regardless of merit.

BAIT

Now that the master code for the food industry has exploded square in front of the gentlemen running the Agricultural Adjustment administration, they are trying a new tack.

They couldn't get everybody under one tent because each group thought it could spot the twist of the knife.

Here's what's about to be proposed: A single distributing code that will embrace the wholesale and retail grocers; a blanket code for manufacturers of food products.

There is one big out in the manufacturers 'code.

It will be like the president's blanket NRA agreement in that any sub-division may enter a code of its own and work under it thereafter if approved.

This will be the bait to get an original agreement.

FOG

The highlight of the retail-wholesale grocers' distributing code will be a definite declaration that the grocers agree to prohibit "destructive price-cutting or use of loss-leaders." Amplifying clauses will set forth exactly what price-cutting and loss-leaders are.

If the NRA code for retail dry goods merchants is held legal in its stipulation that a reasonable mark-up should be added to actual cost to take care of wages, AAA may include a like paragraph in the distributing code.

If they do they will use the word "shall" instead of the foggy "should" that is causing all the trouble in the dry goods agreement.

NOTES

NEW YORK

WAR

The truce between Washington and Wall Street—result of the spring emergency on Washington's terms—is over. Preliminary sniping will soon give way to a general engagement with publicity for bullets and "sound money" for battleground.

Local financial powers have recovered from the fear of general collapse which caused them to accept Roosevelt's leadership some months back. Recovery to date has changed their ideas of taking the veil permanently. So now they yearn to lead the nation back to "common sense."

The financial big shots are authentically interested in orthodox money but that's only part of the picture. Their real aim is the restoration of their own importance in the national scheme. The world is out of joint when they don't run it. The ancient slogan "less government in business" will be overhauled and given new motors.

Impartial New York observers size up the rebellion as poor strategy badly timed. They point out what a break the president gets with the Tory opposition out in the open. They predict it will effectively unite Congress behind him on monetary policy with a keener yen than ever for rigid regulation of the various phases of high finance.

An important part of the war will be fought in the air (waves). It is something more than poetic license to say that Father Coughlin—the radio priest—is an unofficial big gun for the government. Will Rogers is an important piece in the opposing battery.

The Wall Street generals prefer to direct things from an invisible dugout if possible. But it isn't likely that they can stay out of sight. They had a deft hand in arranging the sound money meeting at Carnegie Hall under the auspices of the American Legion, the Federation of Labor, and the Crusaders. The demonstration is local as far as these organizations are concerned. It is doubtful whether they will commit themselves nationally.

The inflationist comeback to the Carnegie gathering will probably be a mass meeting at Madison Square Garden with Father Coughlin as chief speaker. Madison Square holds about seven times as many people as Carnegie and they expect to pack it to the roof.

Local inflationists say they warned the opposition this would happen if they started anything. The opposition has gone ahead regardless.

Keen New York observers comment that the left wing radicals have failed to capture the Democratic or Republican party, the Federation or the Legion—any one of which would have put them on the map for keeps. But the Tories have captured the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers for whatever good it will do them.

• • •

C. OF C.

The Silas Strawn-Julius Barnes leadership of the Chamber of Commerce anti-code drive is locally rated a big help to the administration. Both were staunch Hooverites. A leading New Yorker of the younger flight comments: "The main trouble with the Chamber is that it's too McKinley-minded."

There is a definite cleavage growing wider between the Stock Exchange crowd and the banking community. The brokers are more and more inclined to string along with the new monetary policy although opinion is by no means unanimous. The banks are still standing very pat.

The industries which staged the toughest battles before accepting their codes are now privately more pleased with them than anybody else. Steel, oil and coal executives are fairly purring at the prospects for national future development. That makes it sort of hard for the conservatives to prove that the codes are unjust monstrosities and that business must be handed back to its own control forthwith. It's like a temperance lecturer having his horrible example walk out on him.

EXPORTS

The slump in the dollar has been peaches and cream to the motor industry. For the first time in years they are having trouble keeping export shipments up to date. Some companies have had to solve a crate shortage—having failed to stock up because they didn't see what was coming.

Some manufacturers may hold up their new models several weeks to take full advantage of this unexpected outlet for their surplus stock of current models.

GOLD

Financial experts say that the Roosevelt monetary policy includes the purchase of gold from the Bank of France as a means of forcing the franc up. When it reaches a figure around 75 to the pound sterling they think it likely that France will have to abandon gold payments.

SIDELIGHTS

New York hears that Henry Morgenthau jr., will be a guest at Warm Springs from Thursday to Sunday (Nov. 23-26). . . . Shifts in the General Motors organization stress the rise of young executives. . . . Governor Lehman is credited on the inside with having arranged that Al Smith visit to the White House.

STOPPING HESTON

Failure of Michigan's football foes of the early 1900's to cope with the bull-like rushes of Willie Heston have been woven into legend . . . some of Hurry-Up Yost's best stories concern his great team when he had not only Heston but "Boss" Weeks "Shorty" Longman, the Hammond brothers, "Indian" Schulte and others.

There was, for instance, that mid-September game with West Virginia . . . the score was 135 to 0 . . . and Yost still feels that he was short-counted 50 or 60 points because his team wilted on him in the Indian summer heat.

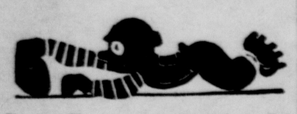
THAT'S RUNNING!

The Wolverines won the toss and elected to receive. . . . Heston caught the ball . . . Longman and Hammond formed his intelligence as he raced down the field for a touchdown . . . and not a tackler got near him . . . Heston had plenty of speed as well as power

West Virginia kicked off again . . . and Heston, following that wicked two-man wedge, repeated his touchdown performance . . . in the first four minutes of the game, Yost recalls, Heston had sprinted down the field for four touchdowns.

Then Willie, to whom training never was a sacred routine, started to weaken, . .puffing like a fat commuter who has had to run to make the 7:15, he looked appealingly toward the bench . . . all he got for his pains was a horse laugh.

Feigning injury, his teammates were relieved one by one . . . .



finally Heston was stretched flat on the turf . . . Keene Fitzpatrick, trainer of the team, walker out and surveyed the fallen gladiator . . . "Oh, no, Willie, not yet, old boy. Come on up and let's go!"

The harassed Heston struggled to his feet . . . they gave him the ball again . . . two more touchdowns . . . then the great man balked . . . he could endure no more . . . flattened on the sweet turf he refused to budge . . . Fitz went out again and surveyed the body . . . "Come on, Willie, one more touchdown and you can come out."

Heston arose . . . they gave him the ball on an end run . . . he swept down the field . . . pushing tacklers out of his way . . . crossed the goal line . . . put down the ball . . . and kept right on running to the dressing room. "The score should have been 200 to 0," says Yost, "if Heston had been in shape to play!"

STANFORD, CALIFORNIA MEET SATURDAY

Trojans, Notre Dame, In Traditional Game

TROY'S SQUAD WILL DRILL IN CHICAGO TODAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—(INS)—The Trojans of Southern California arrive here today on their journey to South Bend, Ind., to meet the Notre Dame football team in their annual intersectional battle.

Coach Howard Jones will direct his sun-tanned players today in their third workout since leaving Los Angeles. The squad will drill at Stagg field, University of Chicago.

Notre Dame's hopes of scoring their third victory of the season against the Pacific Coast foes received a setback when Tom Gorman, center, and Tom Roach, right tackle, went to the hospital with bad colds.

Heartly Anderson, Irish coach, said the two regulars would likely see action, but he gloomily admitted that they would not be in top form.

Forman's disability was felt most by the Notre Dame coaches, for the middle of the line has been perhaps the weakest spot in the Notre Dame defense. It was over center that Mike Sebastian tore for a 75 run and touchdown when Notre Dame met Pittsburgh.

Forty thousand or more persons are expected to witness the intersectional battle in Notre Dame's stadium tomorrow.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—(UP)—Michigan is a heavy favorite to defeat Northwestern's badly crippled team and complete the season unbeaten, but tied once. If Michigan wins, the Wolverines will retain the Big Ten title, although Minnesota, by virtue of its 0-0 tie with Michigan last week, will be considered as co-champions in some quarters if the Gophers beat Wisconsin. Minnesota is unbeaten but has played four conference ties, with Indiana, Purdue and Northwestern in addition to Michigan.

There is an outside chance that the winner of the Ohio State-Illinois game at Columbus may sneak in for a share of the Big Ten laurels. If Minnesota and Michigan are upset, the winner of the Illinois-Ohio State game will be in a position to claim a portion of the title with four victories and one defeat.

Minnesota can win the title outright by defeating Wisconsin providing Northwestern defeats Michigan, a far-fetched possibility in view of the fact that Ollie Olson, the Wildcats' kicking ace, is not likely to play because of injuries and five other regulars are still battered and bruised after the Notre Dame game.

In addition to the three conference games — Michigan - Northwestern, Minnesota-Wisconsin and Illinois-Ohio State—which will determine the Big Ten title, Purdue will play Indiana in the traditional game between those two institutions for the "Old Oaken Bucket." Purdue, which lost its first game since 1931 to Iowa last week, is favored to beat its state rivals.

MRS. ROBINSON, MRS. DRUMM TIE

Mrs. F. C. Drumm, with a score of 96-18-78-7-71, tied with Mrs. L. H. Robinson, who turned in a score of 86-9-77-6-71, for first place in the Class A division of the women's medal play at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday. Miss Lolita Mead ranked next in this class with a score of 92-12-80-8-72.

Class B winners were: Mrs. Jack Colbourn, 111-30-31-2-79; Miss Nan Mead, 108-24-84-3-81; Mrs. Ludy Schaffer, 105-26-79-2-81.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Walter Merrill Hall of New York has been nominated as president of the United States Lawn Tennis association to succeed Harry Knox of Hoquiam, Wash. Nomination is tantamount to election.

REDLANDS GRID SEASON TO END

REDLANDS, Nov. 24.—University of Redlands Bulldogs, 1933 champions of the Southern California conference, will close their season here Saturday afternoon when they tackle the powerful Whittier Poets.

Coach Cecil Cushman's Bulldogs have won six conference games to date and by reason of Whittier's defeat at the hands of La Verne Leopards last week, automatically become champions of the season. The tussle here is expected to be one of the most hotly contested tilts played on the Redlands gridiron this year. Whittier will be out to vindicate their defeat last week while the Bulldogs will be determined to maintain their undefeated records.

Max Baer To Wed Former Wife, Claim

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 24.—(UP)—Friends of Max Baer, heavyweight boxing title contender and movie actor, today predicted the fighter and Dorothy Dunbar Baer, his former wife, would again make the trip to the altar.

The couple returned to Sacramento last night, both declaring they had "patched things up." Max said the divorce Mrs. Baer secured in Mexico last summer didn't mean anything now and that "we're for each other stronger than ever."

RULES OF GOLF REVISED FIRST TIME 10 YEARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(UP)—The United States Golf association today announced a comprehensive revision and clarification of the rules of golf, the first of its kind in more than 10 years.

Virtually every department of the game is afefcted by changes made public by A. M. Reid, secretary of the association.

The changes—16 in "definition," 28 in general rules, 12 in stroke rules, and six in etiquette—were adopted at yesterday's meeting of the association's executive committee and become effective January 1. Official explanations fill 23 typewritten pages.

The revisions were approved in September by the Royal and Ancient Golf club of St. Andrews in Great Britain. Rules committees of the British club and the U. S. G. A. worked in conjunction on the revisions for two years. The last general revision was adopted by the U. S. G. A. in March, 1923.

The most important phase of revision covered the liberalizing of rules on obstructions, water hazards, casual waters, lost balls, addressing the ball, damaged balls, etc. These were aimed at keeping the ball in a playable position, to lessen the handicap of the unlucky stroker and to inject more of the element of fair play.

For example, when a ball is played from a teeing ground into a water hazard, it may be teed. Formerly it had to be dropped.

The new definition of player's "stance" requires that the player place both feet on the ground. This does away with placing bricks or stones beneath the feet or building earthen foot mounts to aid the stance. It also prevents kneeling for putting purposes, and other trick stances.

In tournament play, an umpire and referee formerly were used. Now the umpire is eliminated, and the referee takes the duties of both. The "marker," who often tried to infringe on the duties of other officials, now can do nothing but mark down the scores. The tournament committee is given absolute charge. These changes were to prevent official bickering.

Clever chaps who would avoid stymies on the green by putting out of turn are handcuffed. The revision says that a stroke "shall" at once be recalled if a player on the putting green plays when his opponent should have played. Formerly the word "may" was used instead of "shall."

Players now can have the position of the hole indicated at any time. The old rule said the flag stick could be removed "when approaching the hole." This caused much controversy over just "when" the hole was being approached.

The rule regarding playing the wrong ball has been modified. If a player in stroke competition played two consecutive strokes with the wrong ball, under the old rules, he was disqualified. Now he merely incurs a penalty of two strokes.

Pacific Northwest Grid Star Called

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 24. —(INS)—Pacific Northwest football fans were saddened today by the death of Frank Templeton, famous halfback of nearly 30 years ago and one of the five Templeton brothers whose fame is immortal in University of Oregon football tradition. Templeton failed to revive from an emergency operation.

DONS MAINTAIN TIGHT DEFENSE IN CONFERENCE

That a major portion of Santa Ana junior college's football success has been due to the brilliant efforts of Coach Bill Cook's freshman line was clearly indicated today in statistics showing the Dons with the best defensive record in the Eastern conference.

Santa Ana's regular forwards, all but one of whom are freshmen, have been decisively outweighed at times this season, yet have come through a series of nine games allowing their opposition only six touchdowns for an average of 4.2 points an assignment. Chaffey and Riverside are tied for second place with 5.9 points, Citrus fourth with 6.6, Fullerton fifth with 7.3, San Bernardino sixth with 12.6, while the weak Pomona team has allowed its opposition an average of 27.4 points for the season.

The title-bound Dons have limited their opponents to four touchdowns in league games for an average of 5 points, while scoring 10 touchdowns on offense for an average of 12.8.

Chaffey's Panthers, offensively dangerous with Quarterbacks Bob Smith and Jack Keough furnishing the touchdowns, lead the conference in scoring, with 104 points in league games for an average of 20.8. Riverside ranks second with an average of 15.6, Citrus third with 14.4, Santa Ana fourth with 12.8, Fullerton fifth with 7.6, San Bernardino sixth with 3.8, and Pomona last with 0. Experiencing their worst grid season in history, the Pomona Cossacks have failed to make a point all season, although they crossed the goal-line of LaVerne college in an informal scrimmage last month.

Bruce Handy, defensive star of virtually every Santa Ana contest this fall, is the only sophomore in Coach Cook's regular line of Ben Slavin and Paul Perinich, ends; Miles Norton and Walt Devine, tackles; Sam Tucker and Loren Lukens, guards. Handy plays center. When the efforts of these forwards have failed to stop the opposition, deadly tackling by "Porky" Bell and Wilburn Anderson, two of Cook's outstanding backs, has turned the trick. Harold Welty and Ray Hapes, too, have been particularly outstanding on defense.

Santa Ana's reserves were slated to engage Chaffey's second string this afternoon in a non-conference skirmish at Poly field. The Don regulars, awaiting their make-or-break game with Fullerton at the Bowl next Thursday afternoon, were to watch from the sidelines.

FOOTBALL CAMPS

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 24.—(INS)—Michigan's football squad, conference championship bound, was to arrive today for the final Big Ten game with Northwestern tomorrow in Dyche stadium. Northwestern's hopes of victory, slim at the best, received a further setback when it was announced that Ollie Olson, star Wildcat punter, is out with injuries.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—(INS)—Coach Edward P. "Slip" Madigan and his St. Mary's eleven were to arrive today to play the University of California at Los Angeles in the Coliseum tomorrow. The game rated a toss-up because of the in-and-out performances of both teams during the season.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 24—(INS)—Hugh McMillan, halfback who was thought through for the season, will be in the Princeton line-up against Rutgers, it was reported today.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 24.—(INS)—Indiana's passing attack was ready today for the Purdue battle with Huffman, speedy back, recovered from a leg injury. The two ancient rivals clash here tomorrow in a western conference battle.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.— (INS) —The University of Chicago football team, kicked around all season in the western conference, today was confident of either a tie or victory over Dartmouth college tomorrow. No injuries mar the Maroon squad. The Dartmouth team arrives today.

WASHINGTON TEAMS BATTLE TOMORROW

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 24.—(INS)—Three complete University of Washington grid teams were en route for their traditional and state championship battle with Washington State college at Pullman Saturday.

SAINTS PLAY AT LONG BEACH IN LAST GAME

Renewing a football rivalry dating back to 1911, Santa Ana and Long Beach high schools bring to a close their Coast Preparatory league season on Burcham Field in Long Beach tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. The varsity feature will be preceded by a Class B game between the two institutions at noon.

Coach Bill Foote's Saints, decisively outclassed by Alhambra here last week, must down Coach Orian Landreth's Jackrabbits if Santa Ana hopes to maintain its impressive record of having defeated Long Beach more times than the Hares have tripped the Saints.

Since 1911 Santa Ana and Long Beach have met 18 times, the Saints winning seven games, their rivals six. Five contests have resulted in draws. Santa Ana is the only team in the Coast league holding such an edge over the Hares.

Favored to win, Long Beach nevertheless will find the Saints no pushover. Coach Foote's inexperienced gridmen, in losing three conference assignments, have held the opposition to one touchdown each, in addition to passing their way to a 14-0 victory over Glendale. Santa Ana launched its league season by losing to Pasadena 6-0, dropped a thrilling 7-6 decision to Alhambra, then scored its two-touchdown triumph over Glendale, and lost to Alhambra by six points.

Long Beach's tentative lineup will find Elliott and Quinlivan at end, Parker and Hammond at tackle, Banks and Juratsch at guard, and Moore at center, with a backfield of Kelly, quarter; Woodruff and Carter, halves; and Chappel, full. Howard Hammond is a six foot three-inch tackle weighing 208 pounds. Dick Parker at the other tackle is a returning letterman. They are the standouts of the Jackrabbit line.

Outstanding in the Long Beach backfield are Walt McCowan and Kenny Woodruff, left halfbacks. McCowan, one of the best touchdown makers in the conference, sustained a twisted instep against Pasadena, and may remain on the bench tomorrow. Woodruff, whose speed gave him a tie for the Southern California Class B low hurdles championship last track season, is slated to replace the scoring star. Veteran Jim Chappel, brilliant passer, may trouble the Saints at fullback.

Helen Moody Cannot Play Until 1935

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—(UP)—Helen Wills Moody's back injuries will prevent her re-entering tournament tennis "at least, until 1935," the former queen of international tennis said today.

"I want to play but I can't," the "little poker face" of the tennis world told friends. "I must wait until I am entirely recovered. I don't want to be an invalid again."

She revealed that she has been swimming and doing other exercising as part of the treatment planned to restore her injured spinal vertebra to normal condition. The back injuries forced her to default in the final match against Helen Jacobs of Berkeley in the women's national championships last summer.

WILL PLAY FOR CHURCH LEAGUE TITLE TONIGHT

Contesting for the first-half championship of the Community church league, the First Christian and First Methodist basketball teams meet at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. tonight at 9 o'clock in a playoff resulting from a tie of six victories and one defeat.

The titular game will be preceded by a playoff for third place between Costa Mesa Federated and Santa Ana's Mormons, who won five games and lost two during the first half. The contest is slated for 7:30. A nominal admission price will be charged to provide a trophy for the winning team.

The First Christians possess the same strong team that ran a close second to M. E. South for the title last year. The five players who entered the playoff in '32 are listed in their lineup against First M. E. They are "Cotton" Bennett and Claude Williams, forwards; Bill Kolkhorst, center; Vernon Valentine and Joe Conkright, guards. Kolkhorst is the chief offensive threat. The team is exceedingly strong both on offense and defense.

Matching the skill of the fast-stepping Christian quintet is the Methodist lineup of Asa Herron and Ed Bragg, forwards; Harold Spangler, center; Russell Sullivan and Joe McChesney, guards. Spangler was regular center for the junior college here last fall. His four teammates are former Santa Ana Hi stars, Bragg now preparing for his second court year with the Dons.

PRINCETON'S COACH FEARS ELI, RUTGERS

PRINCETON, Nov. 24.—(INS)—'Both Rutgers and Yale will score on us," forecast Coach Fritz Crisler today as he contemplated the chances of his undefeated and unscored-on Princeton football team finishing the season with an uncrossed goal line.

EXPECT 90,000 TO SEE GAME: TEAMS RESTING

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—(UP)—"Big Game" fever swept Northern California today on the eve of the most important football game in recent years between the University of California and Stanford university who meet tomorrow at Palo Alto.

A sell-out attendance of 90,000 was expected.

The Stanford team rested at the Hotel Lyndon at Los Gatos, from which Coach Claude Thornhill issued the cryptic statement, "We'll score, and we're going to win." Stanford has not scored on their rivals in their last two meetings.

The California squad was at an unannounced hideaway. They were to "get the feel of the turf" in Stanford's splendid bowl sometime during the day.

Coach "Sailor Bill" Ingram, mentor of the Golden Bears, also had something to say at the last moment.

"The Bears are in better condition for this game than they were for either of the two previous big games for which I was coach. We're going to win," the bluff guardian of Berkeley football destinies said.

Betting commissioners made Stanford the favorite at 10 to 7 odds. Earlier quotations had read 10 to 8. No reason for the slight change was given, as both squads reported themselves physically fit with every early season "cripple" sound and ready to play.
adtport geetaoishrdlshrshrdcmfwyp

A Stanford victory would send the team, in Thornhill's first year as coach, into the Tournament of Roses game against an eastern representative for a mythical "national championship." The victory the Stanford team scored over U. S. C. accounted mostly for their being held as favorites and made them eligible for the Rose Bowl game and the Pacific Coast conference championship.

Headquarters of the ticket distribution reported that only 7000 seats were left of the 90,000 placed on sale. Most of the seats remaining were "behind the goal posts." Scalpers reportedly were obtaining prices ranging to $25 for choice seats around midfield.

Even the women's pages of the newspapers here caught the spirit and the enthusiasm and appeared with recipes for "halfback salad," "fullback sandwiches," and "guard toast."

Stanford was certain to represent the west in the Tournament of Roses provided the sophomore speedsters tutored by Claude Thornhill disposed of their Berkeley rivals. The Californians had an outside chance of squeezing into the game billed at "the national championship' by handing the Palo Alto team a decisive setback.

Both teams reported that every member of their respective squads was ready for the game.

STOP WINTER WEAR with

Here's the reason: Summer greases are "heavier," therefore become "thick" when exposed to cold. If left in your car they cause excessive winter wear, often ending in repair bills.

Be wise—let the nearest STOP-WEAR dealer relubricate your car with Winter friction-proof lubricants having wear resistance 5 times that of car manufacturer's specifications.

You'll find STOP-WEAR at hundreds of selected Independent Dealers and all UNION SERVICE STATIONS INC.

STOPPING HESTON

Failure of Michigan's football foes of the early 1900's to cope with the bull-like rushes of Willie Heston have been woven into legend . . . some of Hurry-Up Yost's best stories concern his great team when he had not only Heston but "Boss" Weeks "Shorty" Longman, the Hammond brothers, "Indian" Schulte and others.

There was, for instance, that mid-September game with West Virginia . . . the score was 135 to 0 . . . and Yost still feels that he was short-counted 50 or 60 points because his team wilted on him in the Indian summer heat.

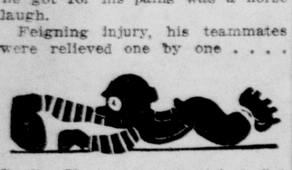
The Wolverines won the toss and elected to receive. . . . Heston caught the ball . . . Longman and Hammond formed his intelligence as he raced down the field for a touchdown . . . and not a tackler got near him . . . Heston had plenty of speed as well as power

West Virginia kicked off again . . . and Heston, following that wicked two-man wedge, repeated his touchdown performance . . . in the first four minutes of the game. Yost recalls, Heston had sprinted down the field for four touchdowns.

Then Willie, to whom training never was a sacred routine, started to weaken. . .puffing like a fat commuter who has had to run to make the 7:15, he looked appealingly toward the bench . . . all he got for his pains was a horse laugh.

Feigning injury, his teammates were relieved one by one . . . .



finally Heston was stretched flat on the turf . . . Keene Fitzpatrick, trainer of the team, walker out and surveyed the fallen gladiator . . . "Oh, no, Willie, not yet, old boy. Come on up and let's go!"

The harassed Heston struggled to his feet . . . they gave him the ball again . . . two more touchdowns . . . then the great man balked . . . he could endure no more . . . flattened on the sweet turf he refused to budge . . . Fitz went out again and surveyed the body . . . "Come on, Willie, one more touchdown and you can come out."

Heston arose . . . they gave him the ball on an end run . . . he swept down the field . . . pushing tacklers out of his way . . . crossed the goal line . . . put down the ball . . . and kept right on running to the dressing room. "The score should have been 200 to 0," says Yost, "if Heston had been in shape to play!"

STANFORD, CALIFORNIA MEET SATURDAY

TROY'S SQUAD WILL DRILL IN CHICAGO TODAY

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—(INS)—The Trojans of Southern California arrive here today on their journey to South Bend, Ind., to meet the Notre Dame football team in their annual intersectional battle.

Coach Howard Jones will direct his sun-tanned players today in their third workout since leaving Los Angeles. The squad will drill at Stagg field, University of Chicago.

Notre Dame's hopes of scoring their third victory of the season against the Pacific Coast foes received a setback when Tom Gorman, center, and Tom Roach, right tackle, went to the hospital with bad colds.

Heartly Anderson, Irish coach, said the two regulars would likely see action, but he gloomily admitted that they would not be in top form.

Forman's disability was felt most by the Notre Dame coaches, for the middle of the line has been perhaps the weakest spot in the Notre Dame defense. It was over center that Mike Sebastian tore for a 75 run and touchdown when Notre Dame met Pittsburgh.

Forty thousand or more persons are expected to witness the intersectional battle in Notre Dame's stadium tomorrow.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—(UP)—Michigan is a heavy favorite to defeat Northwestern's badly crippled team and complete the season unbeaten, but tied once. If Michigan wins, the Wolverines will retain the Big Ten title, although Minnesota, by virtue of its 0-0 tie with Michigan last week, will be considered as co-champions in some quarters if the Gophers beat Wisconsin. Minnesota is unbeaten but has played four conference ties, with Indiana, Purdue and Northwestern in addition to Michigan.

There is an outside chance that the winner of the Ohio State-Illinois game at Columbus may sneak in for a share of the Big Ten laurels. If Minnesota and Michigan are upset, the winner of the Illinois-Ohio State game will be in a position to claim a portion of the title with four victories and one defeat.

Minnesota can win the title outright by defeating Wisconsin providing Northwestern defeats Michigan, a far-fetched possibility in view of the fact that Ollie Olson, the Wildcats' kicking ace, is not likely to play because of injuries and five other regulars are still battered and bruised after the Notre Dame game.

In addition to the three conference games — Michigan - Northwestern, Minnesota-Wisconsin and Illinois-Ohio State—which will determine the Big Ten title, Purdue will play Indiana in the traditional game between those two institutions for the "Old Oaken Bucket." Purdue, which lost its first game since 1931 to Iowa last week, is favored to beat its state rivals.

MRS. ROBINSON, MRS. DRUMM TIE

Mrs. F. C. Drumm, with a score of 96-18-78-7-71, tied with Mrs. L. H. Robinson, who turned in a score of 86-9-77-6-71, for first place in the Class A division of the women's medal play at the Santa Ana Country club yesterday. Miss Lolita Mead ranked next in this class with a score of 92-12-80-8-72.

Class B winners were: Mrs. Jack Colbourn, 111-30-31-2-79; Miss Nan Mead, 108-24-84-3-81; Mrs. Ludy Schaffer, 105-26-79-2-81.

Max Baer To Wed Former Wife, Claim

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 24.—(UP)—Friends of Max Baer, heavyweight boxing title contender and movie actor, today predicted the fighter and Dorothy Dunbar Baer, his former wife, would again make the trip to the altar.

The couple returned to Sacramento last night, both declaring they had "patched things up." Max said the divorce Mrs. Baer secured in Mexico last summer didn't mean anything now and that "we're for each other stronger than ever."

RULES OF GOLF REVISED FIRST TIME 10 YEARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(UP)—The United States Golf association today announced a comprehensive revision and clarification of the rules of golf, the first of its kind in more than 10 years.

Virtually every department of the game is afefcted by changes made public by A. M. Reid, secretary of the association.

The changes—16 in "definition," 28 in general rules, 12 in stroke rules, and six in etiquette—were adopted at yesterday's meeting of the association's executive committee and become effective January 1. Official explanations fill 23 typewritten pages.

The revisions were approved in September by the Royal and Ancient Golf club of St. Andrews in Great Britain. Rules committees of the British club and the U. S. G. A. worked in conjunction on the revisions for two years. The last general revision was adopted by the U. S. G. A. in March, 1923.

The most important phase of revision covered the liberalizing of rules on obstructions, water hazards, casual waters, lost balls, addressing the ball, damaged balls, etc. These were aimed at keeping the ball in a playable position, to lessen the handicap of the unlucky stroker and to inject more of the element of fair play.

For example, when a ball is played from a teeing ground into a water hazard, it may be teed. Formerly it had to be dropped.

The new definition of player's "stance" requires that the player place both feet on the ground. This does away with placing bricks or stones beneath the feet or building earthen foot mounts to aid the stance. It also prevents kneeling for putting purposes, and other trick stances.

In tournament play, an umpire and referee formerly were used. Now the umpire is eliminated, and the referee takes the duties of both. The "marker," who often tried to infringe on the duties of other officials, now can do nothing but mark down the scores. The tournament committee is given absolute charge. These changes were to prevent official bickering.

Clever chaps who would avoid stymies on the green by putting out of turn are handcuffed. The revision says that a stroke "shall" at once be recalled if a player on the putting green plays when his opponent should have played. Formerly the word "may" was used instead of "shall."

Players now can have the position of the hole indicated at any time. The old rule said the flag stick could be removed "when approaching the hole." This caused much controversy over just "when" the hole was being approached.

The rule regarding playing the wrong ball has been modified. If a player in stroke competition played two consecutive strokes with the wrong ball, under the old rules, he was disqualified. Now he merely incurs a penalty of two strokes.

REDLANDS GRID SEASON TO END

REDLANDS, Nov. 24.—University of Redlands Bulldogs, 1933 champions of the Southern California conference, will close their season here Saturday afternoon when they tackle the powerful Whittier Poets.

Coach Cecil Cushman's Bulldogs have won six conference games to date and by reason of Whittier's defeat at the hands of La Verne Leopards last week automatically become champions of the season. The tussle here is expected to be one of the most hotly contested tilts played on the Redlands gridiron this year. Whittier will be out to vindicate their defeat last week while the Bulldogs will be determined to maintain their undefeated records.

Pacific Northwest Grid Star Called

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 24. —(INS)—Pacific Northwest football fans were saddened today by the death of Frank Templeton, famous halfback of nearly 30 years ago and one of the five Templeton brothers whose fame is immortal in University of Oregon football tradition. Templeton failed to revive from an emergency operation.

DONS MAINTAIN TIGHT DEFENSE IN CONFERENCE

That a major portion of Santa Ana junior college's football success has been due to the brilliant efforts of Coach Bill Cook's freshman line was clearly indicated today in statistics showing the Dons with the best defensive record in the Eastern conference.

Santa Ana's regular forwards, all but one of whom are freshmen, have been decisively outweighed at times this season, yet have come through a series of nine games allowing their opposition only six touchdowns for an average of 4.2 points an assignment. Chaffey and Riverside are tied for second place with 5.9 points, Citrus fourth with 6.6, Fullerton fifth with 7.3, San Bernardino sixth with 12.6, while the weak Pomona team has allowed its opposition an average of 27.4 points for the season.

The title-bound Dons have limited their opponents to four touchdowns in league games for an average of 5 points, while scoring 10 touchdowns on offense for an average of 12.8.

Chaffey's Panthers, offensively dangerous with Quarterbacks Bob Smith and Jack Keough furnishing the touchdowns, lead the conference in scoring, with 104 points in league games for an average of 20.8. Riverside ranks second with an average of 15.6, Citrus third with 14.4, Santa Ana fourth with 12.8, Fullerton fifth with 7.6, San Bernardino sixth with 3.8, and Pomona last with 0. Experiencing their worst grid season in history, the Pomona Cossacks have failed to make a point all season, although they crossed the goalline of LaVerne college in an informal scrimmage last month.

Bruce Handy, defensive star of virtually every Santa Ana contest this fall, is the only sophomore in Coach Cook's regular line of Ben Slavin and Paul Perinich, ends; Miles Norton and Walt Devine, tackles; Sam Tucker and Loren Lukens, guards. Handy plays center. When the efforts of these forwards have failed to stop the opposition, deadly tackling by "Porky" Bell and Wilburn Anderson, two of Cook's outstanding backs, has turned the trick. Harold Welty and Ray Hapes, too, have been particularly outstanding on defense.

Santa Ana's reserves were slated to engage Chaffey's second string this afternoon in a non-conference skirmish at Poly field. The Don regulars, awaiting their make-or-break game with Fullerton at the Bowl next Thursday afternoon, were to watch from the sidelines.

The complete log of Eastern conference teams follows:

FOOTBALL CAMPS

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 24.—(INS)—Michigan's football squad, conference championship bound, was to arrive today for the final Big Ten game with Northwestern tomorrow in Dyche stadium. Northwestern's hopes of victory, slim at the best, received a further setback when it was announced that Ollie Olson, star Wildcat punter, is out with injuries.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—(INS)—Coach Edward P. "Slip" Madigan and his St. Mary's eleven were to arrive today to play the University of California at Los Angeles in the Coliseum tomorrow. The game rated a toss-up because of the in-and-out performances of both teams during the season.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 24—(INS)—Hugh McMillan, halfback who was thought through for the season, will be in the Princeton line-up against Rutgers, it was reported today.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 24.—(INS)—Indiana's passing attack was ready today for the Purdue battle with Huffman, speedy back, recovered from a leg injury. The two ancient rivals clash here tomorrow in a western conference battle.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.— (INS) —The University of Chicago football team, kicked around all season in the western conference, today was confident of either a tie or victory over Dartmouth college tomorrow. No injuries mar the Maroon squad. The Dartmouth team arrives today.

WASHINGTON TEAMS BATTLE TOMORROW

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 24.—(INS)—Three complete University of Washington grid teams were en route for their traditional and state championship battle with Washington State college at Pullman Saturday.

Renewing a football rivalry dating back to 1911, Santa Ana and Long Beach high schools bring to a close their Coast Preparatory league season on Burcham Field in Long Beach tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. The varsity feature will be preceded by a Class B game between the two institutions at noon.

Coach Bill Foote's Saints, decisively outclassed by Alhambra here last week, must down Coach Orian Landreth's Jackrabbits if Santa Ana hopes to maintain its impressive record of having defeated Long Beach more times than the Hares have tripped the Saints.

Since 1911 Santa Ana and Long Beach have met 18 times, the Saints winning seven games, their rivals six. Five contests have resulted in draws. Santa Ana is the only team in the Coast league holding such an edge over the Hares.

Favored to win, Long Beach nevertheless will find the Saints no pushover. Coach Foote's inexperienced gridmen, in losing three conference assignments, have held the opposition to one touchdown each, in addition to passing their way to a 14-0 victory over Glendale. Santa Ana launched its league season by losing to Pasadena 6-0, dropped a thrilling 7-6 decision to Alhambra, then scored its two-touchdown triumph over Glendale, and lost to Alhambra by six points.

Long Beach's tentative lineup will find Elliott and Quinlivan at end, Parker and Hammond at tackle, Banks and Juratsch at guard, and Moore at center, with a backfield of Kelly, quarter; Woodruff and Carter, halves; and Chappel, full. Howard Hammond is a six foot three-inch tackle weighing 208 pounds. Dick Parker at the other tackle is a returning letterman. They are the standouts of the Jackrabbit line.

Outstanding in the Long Beach backfield are Walt McCowan and Kenny Woodruff, left halfbacks. McCowan, one of the best touchdown makers in the conference, sustained a twisted instep against Pasadena, and may remain on the bench tomorrow. Woodruff, whose speed gave him a tie for the Southern California Class B low hurdles championship last track season, is slated to replace the scoring star. Veteran Jim Chappel, brilliant passer, may trouble the Saints at fullback.

Helen Moody Cannot Play Until 1935

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—(UP)—Helen Wills Moody's back injuries will prevent her re-entering tournament tennis "at least, until 1935," the former queen of international tennis said today.

"I want to play but I can't," the "little poker face" of the tennis world told friends. "I must wait until I am entirely recovered. I don't want to be an invalid again."

She revealed that she has been swimming and doing other exercising as part of the treatment planned to restore her injured spinal vertebra to normal condition. The back injuries forced her to default in the final match against Helen Jacobs of Berkeley in the women's national championships last summer.

WILL PLAY FOR CHURCH LEAGUE TITLE TONIGHT

Contesting for the first-half championship of the Community church league, the First Christian and First Methodist basketball teams meet at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. tonight at 9 o'clock in a playoff resulting from a tie of six victories and one defeat.

The titular game will be preceded by a playoff for third place between Costa Mesa Federated and Santa Ana's Mormons, who won five games and lost two during the first half. The contest is slated for 7:30. A nominal admission price will be charged to provide a trophy for the winning team.

The First Christians possess the same strong team that ran a close second to M. E. South for the title last year. The five players who entered the playoff in '32 are listed in their lineup against First M. E. They are "Cotton" Bennett and Claude Williams, forwards; Bill Kolkhorst, center; Vernon Valentine and Joe Conkright, guards. Kolkhorst is the chief offensive threat. The team is exceedingly strong both on offense and defense.

Matching the skill of the fast-stepping Christian quintet is the Methodist lineup of Asa Herron and Ed Bragg, forwards; Harold Spangler, center; Russell Sullivan and Joe McChesney, guards. Spangler was regular center for the junior college here last fall. His four teammates are former Santa Ana Hi stars, Bragg now preparing for his second court year with the Dons.

PRINCETON'S COACH FEARS ELI, RUTGERS

PRINCETON, Nov. 24.—(INS)—'Both Rutgers and Yale will score on us," forecast Coach Fritz Crisler today as he contemplated the chances of his undefeated and unscored-on Princeton football team finishing the season with an uncrossed goal line.

EXPECT 90,000 TO SEE GAME; TEAMS RESTING

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—(UP)—"Big Game" fever swept Northern California today on the eve of the most important football game in recent years between the University of California and Stanford university who meet tomorrow at Palo Alto.

A sell-out attendance of 90,000 was expected.

The Stanford team rested at the Hotel Lyndon at Los Gatos, from which Coach Claude Thornhill issued the cryptic statement, "We'll score, and we're going to win." Stanford has not scored on their rivals in their last two meetings.

The California squad was at an unannounced hideaway. They were to "get the feel of the turf" in Stanford's splendid bowl sometime during the day.

Coach "Sailor Bill" Ingram, mentor of the Golden Bears, also had something to say at the last moment.

"The Bears are in better condition for this game than they were for either of the two previous big games for which I was coach. We're going to win," the bluff guardian of Berkeley football destinies said.

Betting commissioners made Stanford the favorite at 10 to 7 odds. Earlier quotations had read 10 to 8. No reason for the slight change was given, as both squads reported themselves physically fit with every early season "cripple" sound and ready to play. adtport geetaoishrdlshrshrdcmfwyp

A Stanford victory would send the team, in Thornhill's first year as coach, into the Tournament of Roses game against an eastern representative for a mythical "national championship." The victory the Stanford team scored over U. S. C. accounted mostly for their being held as favorites and made them eligible for the Rose Bowl game and the Pacific Coast conference championship.

Headquarters of the ticket distribution reported that only 7000 seats were left of the 90,000 placed on sale. Most of the seats remaining were "behind the goal posts." Scalpers reportedly were obtaining prices ranging to $25 for choice seats around midfield.

Even the women's pages of the newspapers here caught the spirit and the enthusiasm and appeared with recipes for "halfback salad," "fullback sandwiches," and "guard toast."

Stanford was certain to represent the west in the Tournament of Roses provided the sophomore speedsters tutored by Claude Thornhill disposed of their Berkeley rivals. The Californians had an outside chance of squeezing into the game billed at "the national championship' by handing the Palo Alto team a decisive setback.

Both teams reported that every member of their respective squads was ready for the game.

Here's the reason: Summer greases are "heavier," therefore become "thick" when exposed to cold. If left in your car they cause excessive winter wear, often ending in repair bills.

Be wise—let the nearest STOP-WEAR dealer relubricate your car with Winter friction-proof lubricants having wear resistance 5 times that of car manufacturer's specifications.

You'll find STOP-WEAR at hundreds of selected Independent Dealers and all

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

Wee Duncy eyed the Milky Way and then he loudly shouted, "Say, I thought the Milky Way was made of lots of milk, somehow.

"Of course, it's always puzzled me, as to how milk got up here. Gee, I must admit, up in the sky, I've never seen a cow."

The Star Man laughed, and then he said, "What queer thoughts pop into your head. The Milky Way is naught but stars. It's always been that way.

"Why, milk would never stay in air. 'Twould fall and splash 'round everywhere. However, one cow was up here, so I've heard people say.

* * *

Then Dotty said, "That's nothing new. I've heard that little story, too, but I have ne'er believed it. It is just a fairy tale."

Just then wee Goldy shouted, "Gee, the moon is smiling down at me. I only wish that I could go up there and say hello."

The Star Man said, "Well, let me see! If you will leave the plans to me, I'll very shortly fix it, little lass, so you can go."

* * *

He then brought forth a shooting star and cried, "Hop on. 'Twill take you far. When you reach Mister Moon Man you can crawl out on his chin.

"The star will linger, never fear, so it can bring you right back here. Now, this will surely be a trip to where you've never been."

It wasn't very long until the Tinymites all got a thrill from seeing Dotty sai lthrough air. She traveled 'bout a mile.

RETURNS FOR AVOCADO MEN UP 12 PERCENT

Southern California calavo- avocado growers will receive an average net return during 1933 that is 12 per cent higher than the 1932 average, George B. Hodgkin, general manager of the Calavo Growers' Exchange, announced today. This achievement of grower cooperation in marketing is in the face of the most difficult marketing year in history, he said.

Average net returns to growers this year, over all grades and all varieties, will be 9.5 cents per pound. Rerturns on "calavos" in some pools will run to approximately 20 cents per pound to growers. Returns on even the poorest fruit handled will be approximately 4 cents per pound, according to his report. Despite the crop being 34 per cent less than that of a year ago, and that therefor the marketing costs had to be absorbed by a materially smaller tonnage, the cooperative's costs were actually reduced 44 per cent under those of 1932, Hodgkin said.

Approximately $70,000, additional to pool payments, will be distributed to grower-members this year in partial and final refund "dividends." The total calavo "dividend" to growers is 3 cents per pound. The final dividend payment over last season's operations will go to growers by December 1, it is announced.

Junior Woman's Club Planned By Seal Beach Group

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 24.—The regular monthly social meeting and pot luck dinner of the Seal Beach Woman's club was held Wednesday in the auditorium of the city hall. In keeping with the plans to establish a junior division of the club here, the speakers, Mrs. White, district chairman, and Mrs. R. C. Harris, county chairman, told of the work of the younger women throughout the county. It was decided to appoint a committee to arrange for the organization of a junior department here.

Following the speakers a program was presented which included a humorous talk and impersonations by A. W. Armstrong, two vocal solos by Mrs. McKenzie, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Taylor.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Register: Will you kindly inform the general public why the fund known as the RFC fund is termed "charity". Can it be that Mr. Roosevelt means it as a "charity" fund even if those receiving it or any portion of it do work for what they get? According to the papers this money is furnished by the United States government to be used as payment for work done by the hosts of unemployed.

A small portion of this fund may be furnished by the county, we do not know, but even so why should they label it as "charity"? My impression is that these men work the required number of hours a day and if a man works for anything why should the remuneration he receives be stigmatized as "charity" It is no fault of his that he finds himself deprived of a position, or employment as the case may be. Some of these men are skilled in their trades; others are of the "white collar" class, such as accountants, bank clerks, some have been employed in various clerical capacities, and some are even artists of no mean ability, and yet they are all dubbed "laborers". Anyway they all have to live and if they work for a thing it should not be called "charity."

In the dignity of labor, skilled or otherwise, for nothing is great, nothing is small in the Divine economy. Further, however, we would like to know if the great staff or corps of workers employed, in one capacity or another, to handle this fund, paid out of Most people have come to believe the same money, and if so is it "charity" they are receiving? We suspect that had not the most of them been fortunate enough to have gotten in on these "white collar" jobs, they certainly would have been digging with the pick and shovel for their $2.50 a day and would perhaps be just as glad of their pro-rata of days a month as any of the rest of the "laborers". As it is, it seems to us that if their salaries are paid out of this RFC fund, for services rendered, then it is just as much "charity" as the portion paid to those working with the pick and shovel, etc. Please explain this to your reading public.

RETURNS FOR AVOCADO MEN UP 12 PERCENT

Southern California calavo- avocado growers will receive an average net return during 1933 that is 12 per cent higher than the 1932 average, George B. Hodgkin, general manager of the Calavo Growers' Exchange, announced today. This achievement of grower cooperation in marketing is in the face of the most difficult marketing year in history, he said.

Average net returns to growers this year, over all grades and all varieties, will be 9.8 cents per pound. Returns on "calavos" in some pools will run to approximately 20 cents per pound to growers. Returns on even the poorest fruit handled will be approximately 4 cents per pound, according to his report. Despite the crop being 34 per cent less than that of a year ago, and that therefor the marketing costs had to be absorbed by a materially smaller tonnage, the cooperative's costs were actually reduced 44 per cent under those of 1932, Hodgkin said.

Approximately $70,000, additional to pool payments, will be distributed to grower-members this year in partial and final refund "dividends." The total calavo "dividend" to growers is 3 cents per pound. The final dividend payment over last season's operations will go to growers by December 1, it is announced.

Junior Woman's Club Planned By Seal Beach Group

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 24.—The regular monthly social meeting and pot luck dinner of the Seal Beach Woman's club was held Wednesday in the auditorium of the city hall. In keeping with the plans to establish a junior division of the club here, the speakers, Mrs. White, district chairman, and Mrs. R. C. Harris, county chairman, told of the work of the younger women throughout the county. It was decided to appoint a committee to arrange for the organization of a junior department here.

Following the speakers a program was presented which included a humorous talk and impersonations by A. W. Armstrong, two vocal solos by Mrs. McKenzie, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Taylor.

Editor Register: Will you kindly inform the general public why the fund known as the RFC fund is termed "charity". Can it be that Mr. Roosevelt means it as a "charity" fund even if those receiving it or any portion of it do work for what they get? According to the papers this money is furnished by the United States government to be used as payment for work done by the hosts of unemployed.

A small portion of this fund may be furnished by the county, we do not know, but even so why should they label it as "charity"? My impression is that these men work the required number of hours a day and if a man works for anything why should the remuneration he receives be stigmatized as "charity". It is no fault of his that he finds himself deprived of a position, or employment as the case may be. Some of these men are skilled in their trades; others are of the "white collar" class, such as accountants, bank clerks, some have been employed in various clerical capacities, and some are even artists of no mean ability, and yet they are all dubbed "laborers". Anyway they all have to live and if they work for a thing it should not be called "charity."

In the dignity of labor, skilled or otherwise, for nothing is great, nothing is small in the Divine economy. Further, however, we would like to know if the great staff or corps of workers employed, in one capacity or another, to handle this fund, paid out of the same money, and if so is it "charity" they are receiving? We suspect that had not the most of them been fortunate enough to have gotten in on these "white collar" jobs, they certainly would have been digging with the pick and shovel for their $2.50 a day and would perhaps be just as glad of their pro-rata of days a month as any of the rest of the "laborers". As it is, it seems to us that if their salaries are paid out of this RFC fund, for services rendered, then it is just as much "charity" as the portion paid to those working with the pick and shovel, etc. Please explain this to your reading public.

SPEAKER AT LEAGUE MEET SUGGESTS VOTE

Reiterating the stand for splitting the state gasoline tax money three ways, one cent for county governments, one cent for cities and one cent for the state and declaring that a fight would be continued to bring this about, W. G. Baker, Los Angeles city councilman, addressed 115 officials of Southern California cities at a meeting sponsored by the League of Orange County Municipalities last night in the Green Cat cafe.

Baker emphasized that the one cent desired to be returned to the cities be sent directly to the city councils and expended on city streets by the councilmen. He said city councilmen are just as capable of spending the money for the interests of taxpayers as are boards of supervisors.

He deplored the small amounts of money which have been returned by boards of supervisors to the various cities. He said taxes could be decreased for city dwellers if the money were fairly divided.

"This program," he said, "is not approved by contractor's associations or the auto clubs. It is time the auto clubs realize it is the people's money which is being spent. Many roads start nowhere and go nowhere. City boards have brains enough to spend their share of the money properly. If the people vote on the matter, they will vote to split the funds three ways."

Prior to his talk on the gas tax situation, Councilman Baker congratulated Orange county on the courage and foresight in attempting to develop Newport Harbor. "It shows," he said, "that your people have not lost their vision."

ASK BIG SUM FOR HARBOR WORK AT L. A.

Orange county boosters, who at last have secured assurances of federal government aid for the harbor improvement at Newport Bay if the voters of the county approve a bond issue of $640,000 on December 19, next, to defray one-third of the cost, today were interested to learn that Los Angeles harbor is asking not less than $15,000,000 from the Washington government for harbor work.

An application for such a large amount to carry out additional projects in the nearby harbor, has been submitted to the Federal Public Works Administration and the Civil Works Administration, inquiries revealed.

Local harbor workers call attention to the fact that a huge total of $3,300,000 has been set aside by the Washington government to be expended upon public works as an unemployment relief measure, which circumstance offers Orange county an unusual opportunity of securing federal aid for the local harbor, an opportunity that may never come again, it was remarked by George Rogers, retired business man of Balboa, who has been actively identified with the local harbor improvement program.

In this connection, officials of the Orange County Harbor association, stressed the fact that unless Orange county gets a share of the federal unemployment relief fund, the money will go to Los Angeles and other harbors throughout the country, while this county, as a taxpaying unit to the federal government, pays just the same as if a portion of the money were expended here, it was observed.

The time to develop Orange county's harbor possibilities is right now when the federal government is willing to step in and pay the greater portion of the expense, besides supervising and directing the work it was pointed out.

In addition to attracting additional taxable wealth in form of seagoing yachts and other pleasure crafts, casinos and clubhouses, and new sections of beautiful homes, the development of the harbor area as a high class yacht harbor, will provide various motion picture companies with necessary settings and "locations" for filming society plays, which not only means the spending of money for accommodations of the players and employment of "extras" but also will give the harbor section much valuable publicity, it was stated by Rogers, commenting on the untold possibilities of the project.

INTERNAL REVENUE OFFICE TO CLOSE

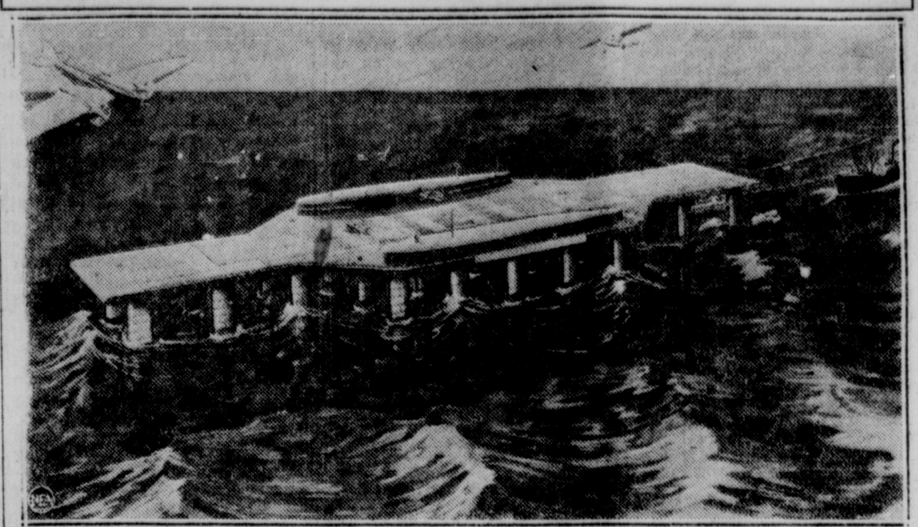
The internal revenue offices in the Santa Ana post office and federal building will be closed from November 27 to December 4, it was announced today.

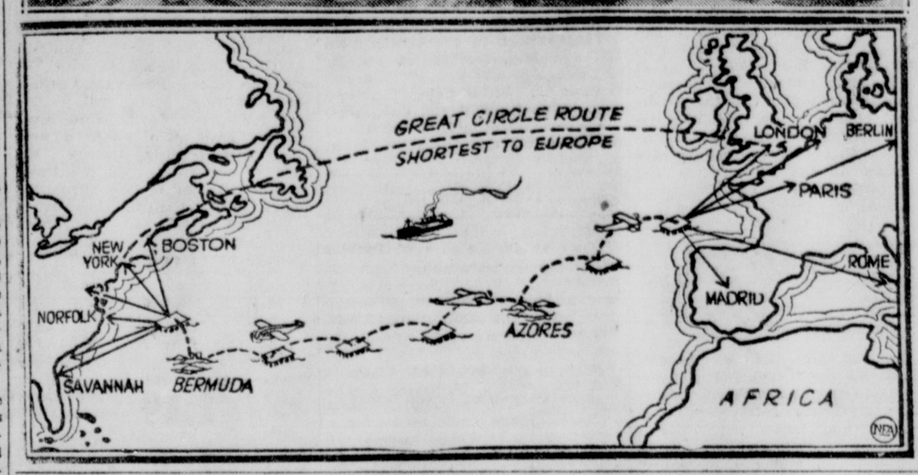
The office will be closed because A. B. Pilch, deputy collector in charge of Orange county, will be working on special work in the Los Angeles office during that time.

Pilch said special taxpayers whose returns are required to be filed on or before the last day of each month can pay them today or tomorrow or mail them to the Los Angeles office at 939 South Broadway street, where Pilch will be located for the next week.

PLAN OCEAN AIR LANE ISLANDS

A dream of man-made landing islands along a trans-Atlantic air route nears reality, with announcement that the U. S. department of commerce will build one seadrome 500 miles off the coast as a starter, with four more later if the first proves a success, for an air line from the vicinity of Norfolk, Va., to Spain. Top picture shows an artist's conception of the seadrome designed by Edward R. Armstrong, engineer. Possible route, with floating islands at 500-mile intervals, is shown in the sketch below. The department of commerce has allotted $1,500,000 for construction of a test seadrome. The entire project will cost $30,000,000, it is estimated.





STUDENT FORUM TO HEAR TALK ON BREAD LINES

Organized as an educational institution, the Students' Forum of Orange county will bring James Latham, of Los Angeles, sociologist and statistician, to Santa Ana tomorrow night to give a lecture on "Black Bread and White Bread Lines" in the Temple theater at Third and Bush streets.

Kenneth Frazer, jaycee student and organizer of the students group, pointed out today that the organization had no connection with the junior college or high school and that it was wholly formed by students. He announced that it was created to bring outstanding speakers to Orange county to present the various sides of the complex economic and political life of today.

Latham, educational director of Pen and Hammer in Los Angeles, a scientific research organization with branches in all large cities, will illustrate his talk tomorrow night with government statistical charts. He is a former newspaper man and has concluded considerable individual research along social lines, it was learned from Frazer.

Although students are especially invited to attend the lecture and take seats in the front of the auditorium, adults are welcome to attend and may hear the discussion. The program is entirely free and no sides will be taken on any of the issues presented from the platform, it was emphasized.

EARL DUTTON GETS LAND BANK POST

Earl C. Dutton, of Anaheim, field manager of the Calavo Growers' Exchange since 1928, has been appointed supervising appraiser of the Federal Land Bank and has assumed his new duties, it is announced today. Dutton has been given a 60-day leave from the growers' cooperative at it is not definite as yet whether the position will be permanent.

County Growers Named To Citrus Pact Committees

Orange county growers appointed on committees established under the California-Arizona marketing agreement by President C. C. Teague of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, were announced today.

These appointees all are directors in the exchange, and prominent growers. E. A. Beck, Placentia, was appointed a member of the growers' advisory committee, and C. C. Hillis, Orange, and G. Crawford were appointed on the distribution committee. Crawford is an alternate appointee.

Of all the states of the Union, Pennsylvania has the most cities exceeding a population of 5000.

DECORATIONS FOR CHRISTMAS ARE PLANNED

Plans for decorating the downtown business district during the holiday season, and for establishing uniform Christmas shopping practices were discussed at a meeting of the directors of the Santa Ana Merchants Association held yesterday afternoon at Reid's Cafe.

President Walter Swanberger presided over the session, which was attended by the following directors, Herbert Rankin, Hugh J. Lowe, Walter N. Vandermast, James N. Harding, Jerry Hall, Claude J. McDowell, J. L. Berll, J. Lucas, Pete Colenchick, F. L. Jones, J. Fisher, H. L. Silver, Sol Gonzales, Milton Foster and Gene Kahan.

In the matter of decorating the city for the holidays, it was decided to cooperate with the Business Men's association. James N. Harding, Claude McDowell and Jerry Hall, were appointed to a special committee to confer with the Business Men's association as to details of the decoration program, the placing of which has been set for December 8. It also was decided to keep the stores open until 9 p. m. one week before Christmas, this to give the shoppers, employed during the day, an opportunity of doing their purchases during the evenings.

Lew Wallace, of Newport, appeared before the directors and gave a brief outline of the proposed harbor improvement project, in which connection he pointed out that its realization would not only add millions to the taxable wealth but also stimulate home-building and business in general.

SHULER TO SPEAK AT JOINT MEETING

A record attendance is expected for a joint meeting of the Santa Ana Rotary and Lions clubs, to be held next Tuesday noon at James' cafe, at which the Rev. Bob Shuler, well known Los Angeles minister, will be the featured speaker, it was announced by E. M. Sundquist, secretary of the Lions club, which organization is in charge of the program for the joint meeting.

HEAD NRA UNION

General Hugh S. Johnson was confronted with a practical problem in NRA administration right "at home" when, on returning to Washington from the West, he found a movement in progress among the 1100 employes of his NRA staff to form a union for the right to bargain collectively for shorter hours and more pay. The employes, with the backing of the American Federation of Labor, have elected Miss Margaret S. Stabler (above) secretary-treasurer of the organization, and J. L. Donovan (below), president.

LARGE CHOIR TO TAKE PART IN ORATORIO

Presentation of "Elijah," the most admired of all Mendelssohn's compositions in the First Methodist church Sunday night at 7 o'clock, as a special Thanksgiving program, will be made with the vested choir of more than 50 voices under direction of Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, it was announced today.

Introduction to the oratorio is prefaced by a brief but impressive recitative, Elijah's prophecy of the drought, leading directly to the overture. Then a chorus, with duet for two sopranos, the chorus part of which is an old Jewish chant, sung alternately by male and female voices in unision. It is followed by Obadiah's tenor aria.

Following this phase, the angel summons Elijah to go to the widow's house at Zarephath, where the dramatic scene with her son ensues. A brilliant soprano solo develops into another melody of animation, leading to a chorus, after which the entire force of voices and organ join.

A grand yet pathetic phase is the aria in which the prophet prays for death, introducing the trio of angels.

With strength, the chorus announced the passing of the Lord, working from a pianissimo to a crescendo movement. Earthquake and fire pass by, each treated in a similar manner, when the "still, small voice" brings the Lord.

Conclusion comes with the joining of voices and instruments in a tumult of harmony, acclaiming "Thanks Be to God."

What the NRA Did to Us!

Here's what has happened to Men's and Boys' Wear since the NRA went into effect:

The Facts:

The reasons are plain and easy to see. The chiseling manufacturers NOW have to pay their labor the decent wages that the honest manufacturers paid in March and before!

Through all the depression, the profits have been made on cheap goods. Nevertheless, this store has firmly stood for decent, respectable standards of quality . . . not high priced, but honest value.

Another thing . . . 96% of our goods come direct from factory to our store! We haven't the great warehouse expense necessary to group stores. A comparison of our prices on standard goods tells the story!

We invite the patronage of men and women who believe in decent wages, reasonable hours, honest quality . . . yet, reasonable prices!

A dream of man-made landing islands along a trans-Atlantic air route nears reality, with announcement that the U. S. department of commerce will build one seadrome 500 miles off the coast as a starter, with four more later if the first proves a success, for an air line from the vicinity of Norfolk, Va., to Spain. Top picture shows an artist's conception of the seadrome designed by Edward R. Armstrong, engineer. Possible route, with floating islands at 500-mile intervals, is shown in the sketch below. The department of commerce has allotted $1,500,000 for construction of a test seadrome. The entire project will cost $30,000,000, it is estimated.

Organized as an educational institution, the Students' Forum of Orange county will bring James Latham, of Los Angeles, sociologist and statistician, to Santa Ana tomorrow night to give a lecture on "Black Bread and White Bread Lines" in the Temple theater at Third and Bush streets.

Kenneth Frazer, jaycee student and organizer of the students group, pointed out today that the organization had no connection with the junior college or high school and that it was wholly formed by students. He announced that it was created to bring outstanding speakers to Orange county to present the various sides of the complex economic and political life of today.

Latham, educational director of Pen and Hammer in Los Angeles, a scientific research organization with branches in all large cities, will illustrate his talk tomorrow night with government statistical charts. He is a former newspaper man and has concluded considerable individual research along social lines, it was learned from Frazer.

Although students are especially invited to attend the lecture and take seats in the front of the auditorium, adults are welcome to attend and may hear the discussion. The program is entirely free and no sides will be taken on any of the issues presented from the platform, it was emphasized.

EARL DUTTON GETS LAND BANK POST

Earl C. Dutton, of Anaheim, field manager of the Calavo Growers' Exchange since 1928, has been appointed supervising appraiser of the Federal Land Bank and has assumed his new duties, it is announced today. Dutton has been given a 60-day leave from the growers' cooperative at it is not definite as yet whether the position will be permanent.

County Growers Named To Citrus Pact Committees

Orange county growers appointed on committees established under the California-Arizona marketing agreement by President C. C. Teague of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, were announced today.

These appointees all are directors in the exchange, and prominent growers. E. A. Beck, Placentia, was appointed a member of the growers' advisory committee, and C. C. Hillis, Orange, and G. Crawford were appointed on the distribution committee. Crawford is an alternate appointee.

Of all the states of the Union, Pennsylvania has the most cities exceeding a population of 5000.

DECORATIONS FOR CHRISTMAS ARE PLANNED

Plans for decorating the downtown business district during the holiday season, and for establishing uniform Christmas shopping practices were discussed at a meeting of the directors of the Santa Ana Merchants Association held yesterday afternoon at Reid's Cafe.

In the matter of decorating the city for the holidays, it was decided to cooperate with the Business Men's association. James N. Harding, Claude McDowell and Jerry Hall, were appointed to a special committee to confer with the Business Men's association as to details of the decoration program, the placing of which has been set for December 8. It also was decided to keep the stores open until 9 p. m. one week before Christmas, this to give the shoppers, employed during the day, an opportunity of doing their purchases during the evenings.

Lew Wallace, of Newport, appeared before the directors and gave a brief outline of the proposed harbor improvement project, in which connection he pointed out that its realization would not only add millions to the taxable wealth but also stimulate home-building and business in general.

SHULER TO SPEAK AT JOINT MEETING

A record attendance is expected for a joint meeting of the Santa Ana Rotary and Lions clubs, to be held next Tuesday noon at James' cafe, at which the Rev. Bob Shuler, well known Los Angeles minister, will be the featured speaker, it was announced by E. M. Sundquist, secretary of the Lions club, which organization is in charge of the program for the joint meeting.

HEAD NRA UNION

General Hugh S. Johnson was confronted with a practical problem in NRA administration right "at home" when, on returning to Washington from the West, he found a movement in progress among the 1100 employes of his NRA staff to form a union for the right to bargain collectively for shorter hours and more pay. The employes, with the backing of the American Federation of Labor, have elected Miss Margaret S. Stabler (above) secretary-treasurer of the organization, and J. L. Donovan (below), president.

LARGE CHOIR TO TAKE PART IN ORATORIO

Presentation of "Elijah," the most admired of all Mendelssohn's compositions in the First Methodist church Sunday night at 7 o'clock, as a special Thanksgiving program, will be made with the vested choir of more than 50 voices under direction of Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, it was announced today.

Introduction to the oratorio is prefaced by a brief but impressive recitative, Elijah's prophecy of the drought, leading directly to the overture. Then a chorus, with duet for two sopranos, the chorus part of which is an old Jewish chant, sung alternately by male and female voices in unision. It is followed by Obadiah's tenor aria.

Following this phase, the angel summons Elijah to go to the widow's house at Zarephath, where the dramatic scene with her son ensues. A brilliant soprano solo develops into another melody of animation, leading to a chorus, after which the entire force of voices and organ join.

A grand yet pathetic phase is the aria in which the prophet prays for death, introducing the trio of angels.

With strength, the chorus announced the passing of the Lord, working from a pianissimo to a crescendo movement. Earthquake and fire pass by, each treated in a similar manner, when the "still, small voice" brings the Lord.

Conclusion comes with the joining of voices and instruments in a tumult of harmony, acclaiming "Thanks Be to God."

What the NRA Did to Us!

Here's what has happened to Men's and Boys' Wear since the NRA went into effect:

The Facts:

The reasons are plain and easy to see. The chiseling manufacturers NOW have to pay their labor the decent wages that the honest manufacturers paid in March and before!

Through all the depression, the profits have been made on cheap goods. Nevertheless, this store has firmly stood for decent, respectable standards of quality . . . not high priced, but honest value.

Another thing . . . 96% of our goods come direct from factory to our store! We haven't the great warehouse expense necessary to group stores. A comparison of our prices on standard goods tells the story!

We invite the patronage of men and women who believe in decent wages, reasonable hours, honest quality . . . yet, reasonable prices!

Retiring Star Matron Gives Dinner For Officers

Concluding a year as worthy matron of Santa Ana chapter, O. E. S., which has been decidedly successful and enjoyable for both the chapter and herself, Mrs. George Shipe this week entertained her officers, substitute officers and the "trailers" at a delightful dinner and card party in the Masonic temple.

Returning to the lounge for bridge, the diners found several unique features introduced, the merriest being the special prize of a "galloping breakfast," a frying pan filled with tempting bacon and a number of eggs, which went to one after another of the players holding all the honors in a single hand and was retained by the final successful player, Mrs. B. E. Dawson.

Prizes for high scores were presented Mrs. James Austin of Laguna Beach, and Larry Golden, with consolation gifts awarded Mrs. C. T. Cleland and H. G. Lycan. At the same time Mrs. Shipe gave farewell gifts to her officers, embroidered luncheon sets to the women and bronze ash trays and fine playing cards to the men.

The party was the final social event of the chapter year, since new officers so recently elected, will be installed on Monday night, December 11.

Chapter Has Program Following Luncheon

Mrs. Charles Brisco of this city and Mrs. Jordan of Long Beach joined as hostesses this week in the former's home, 421 East Bishop street, entertaining members of chapter AB, P. E. O. Luncheon served on individual trays preceded the program.

Mrs. Holmes Bishop, president, was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. T. E. Stephenson talked on "Objects and Aims of P. E. O." Mrs. Brisco gave vocal numbers, music for which has been composed by Mrs. Malcolm Macurda of this city to poems written by Mrs. George W. Bond, a member of AB chapter. Mrs. Bishop was at the piano.

Evening Party Serves As Announcement of July Wedding

An enjoyable party given Tuesday evening by Mrs. John O'Brien in her home on East Second street, Long Beach, had as its incentive, the formal announcement of the wedding of John Bexfield O'Brien, son of the hostess, to Miss Henrietta Scheffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scheffer, 155 South D street, Tustin.

Only members of the two families were bidden to the party, and announcement of the wedding was as complete a surprise as the young people had contemplated when they motored to Yuma on July 13, for the quiet rites.

The bride, a charming blonde, had donned the pretty chiffon frock in soft blue and white, which she wore on the important occasion of her marriage, completing her effective appearance with a corsage cluster of white gardenias. The senior Mrs. O'Brien introduced her son and her new daughter-in-law, and following the excitement, the bride was called upon to cut a towering wedding cake with its appropriate decorations which included a tiny bride and groom.

Decorations of the home were in white and silver, enhancing the general bridal atmosphere. Present in addition to the hostess, Mrs. O'Brien, and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. John Bexfield O'Brien, were the Misses Josephine and Julia O'Brien of the home, Mr. and Mrs. John Scheffer, Miss Ann Scheffer, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Woodruff, Mrs. Samuel Blassman and Mrs. C. D. Holmes of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien plan to leave soon for San Francisco where they will make their home. At present Mr. O'Brien is with the West Coast theater in Long Beach. His bride, a graduate of Santa Ana High school, has been connected with the Associated Optical company of this city. She has a fine soprano voice and has appeared on countless radio and entertainment programs in this and other Southland cities with her sisters, Miss Ann Scheffer and Mrs. Owen Woodruff (Gertrude Scheffer) as the Scheffer Trio.

Ebell Travelers Hear Informative Talk on Island Possessions

Preceding his address was an equally enjoyable interval when section members were luncheon guests of Mrs. John J. Harrison, Mrs. C. F. Crose and Mrs. P. L. Tople. Tables arranged in the section room were brightened with yellow button chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

Covers were laid for the section leader, Mrs. T. A. Winbigler, Mr. and Mrs. Nau, honor guests, Mrs. Anna Allen, a new member; Mrs. Victor Montgomery, especially welcomed after several months' absence due to illness; Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns, Mrs. Leo Borchard, Mrs. Minnie Collins, Mrs. G. W. Canter, Mrs. Emma French, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, Mrs. Mit Phillips, Mrs. George Reyburn, Mrs. May Thompson, Mrs. M. C. Williams, Mrs. Howard Wassum, and the three hostesses.

Various guests invited for the program hour, shared with section members the enjoyment of Mr. Nau's talk, in which he described the Islands from a geographical and scenic point, dwelling on sea level characteristics and the mountainous inland regions. He had spent much time studying native life, primitive customs, and educational facilities, and his accounts were fascinating to the audience, while his summing up of the place occupied by the Islands in government affairs, was highly educational.

In advance of the informative talk, the Honolulu Trio, secured through the co-operation of Sol Gonzales, played a varied group of effective Island melodies on their steel guitars, as approaching the typical native music of the Philippines.

Las Meninas

Following a five course dinner at which the combined place and tally cards reflected the charm of the Kitchen, tables were arranged for bridge. Miss Verona Swanson, scoring high, received a bouquet of deep red roses which were later used in the initiation ceremony conducted by Miss Dorothy Tedford. Miss Joy McPhee scored second high and was presented with a dainty gift.

Those who are now members are the Misses Willena Bell, Mary Jane Mitchell, Frankie Fern McDonald, Eloise Schrier, Janet Welty, Riba Myracle, Beulah Davis, Jane Crawford, Margaret Hoefner, Dolores Swenson, Verona Swanson, Martha Tuthill, Blanche Illingsworth and Lois Kiser. Members present were the advisors, Miss Genevieve Humiston and Miss Dorothy Decker, and the Misses Alline Buck, Dorothy Tedford, Leonore Walker, Ruth Crowl, Jo Derigo, Erma Seamans, Marian Liehy, Evelyn Furtsch, Frances Robinson and Kay Holmes. Alumnae members attending were the Misses Verna Helm, Betty Whitney, Joy McPhee and Norma Wilson.

Moav Club

Moav initiation was held in the home of Miss Lida Mitchell at Garden Grove. The formal ceremony was conducted by Miss Jeanne Leive and Miss Eulabelle Smith after which corsages of white sweet peas were presented new members.

At a short business session Miss Esther Vogt was appointed chairman of the annual Christmas alumnae party and new pins were ordered. Miss Smith sang several numbers accompanied by Miss Virginia Lee Harper. Miss Vogt concluded the short program with piano solos.

In charge of arrangements for the ceremony were the Misses Natalie Neff, Ardith Parham, Catherine Hull, Kay Gorath, Gertrude Chapman, Clarice Isenor and Ernestine Wakeham.

Initiates present were the Misses Virginia Lee Harper, Mildred Haskell, Lucille Scheifer, Barbara Allen, Frances Wilbur, Alice Stoner, Arden Murray, Roberta Chamness and Alta Fisher. Others present besides the advisors, Miss Mabel Whiting and Miss Marian Bruner, were the Misses Evelyn Richardson and Betty Heil.

Sisterhood of Spinsters

In the glow of tapers in the home of Miss Marian Brownridge, 1414 North Main street, pledges of Sisterhood of Spinsters became members of that organization at the formal sisterhood ceremony which Miss Florence Campbell conducted. Everyone present received a corsage of gardenias and violets.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to cards and refreshments were served.

Alumnae Spinsters

Miss Marian Parsons entertained members of Alumnae Sisterhood of Spinsters in her home at 106 East Chestnut street. The evening was devoted to various activities which included knitting and the serving of refreshments.

Those present were the Misses Nelle Grafton, Betty Wiswall, Ruth Owens, Florence Brownridge, Betty Hawk, Dora Tedford, Helen Mott, Loretta Spangler, Florence Turner, Saragrace Frampton, Iona de Remer and Marian Parsons.

Joint Meeting

Preceding the gathering of members of Los Gauchos and Las Gitanas in the home of Miss Naomi Wheeler, Anaheim, members of the latter club held formal initiation with Miss Doris Rockwell presiding. Los Gauchos met with Clarence Compton at Orange for a business discussion.

Dancing and cards provided an entertaining evening for the joint clubs and later Miss Wheeler served appetizing refreshments.

Buccaneers

Pledges of Buccaneers entertained members in the home of Dick Clark, Stanton, with amusing speeches, music and songs. Bob Campbell as pledge master instructed the "galley slaves" as to their conduct for the next two weeks. A dinner dance was planned and Tom Kistinger and John Wells were appointed to make definite arrangements for the affair.

Brotherhood of Bachelors

That pledges would be initiated at the next meeting of Brotherhood of Bachelors was announced at their meeting with Jack Havens in Orange. All regular members were asked to assist Havens in perfecting arrangements.

Following the usual kangaroo court for "scums," various forms of music were provided by pledges.

Junior Lions

Ralph Raitt as guest of honor at the meeting of Junior Lions with Bill Proctor, on North Van Ness avenue, invited members to be guests of Santa Ana Lions at a luncheon meeting Thursday. Plans were made for the traditional bonfire to be held Wednesday evening, November 29. It was decided that the club would give a dance in the near future and that pledges are to be initiated at the next meeting in two weeks.

Dinner Follows Formal Announcement of Engagement

Following formal announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Randall, 2650 North Main street, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jerusha Ann Randall to Nicholas Neno Platt of Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Platt, was the party with which Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Rankin entertained last night in their home, 2106 North Main street.

Miss Patricia Rankin, daughter of the hosts, is to be one of the junior bridesmaids for the marriage of Miss Randall and Mr. Pratt on December 14 at 8 p. m. in the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale.

An intimate little group took part in the affair, which included a delicious turkey dinner served at a large table spread with lace, centered with a bowl of colorful autumn fruits and lighted with four bronze-hued tapers. Chrysanthemums arranged throughout the rooms of the home were in autumnal tones ranging from soft yellow to deep mahogany.

Following the dinner the group sat around the open fireplace and enjoyed viewing photographs Mr. Rankin had taken this summer while on a trip to the High Sierras with the Sierra club of California, of which he is a member. The pictures had just been returned to Mr. Rankin following their exhibition in Santa Barbara, San Jose, Riverside, San Francisco and other points.

Taking part in the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Rankin and daughter and son, Patricia and Danny; J. H. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Randall and daughters, the Misses Jerusha Ann and Dorothy Randall, and Nicholas Platt.

Relief Corps

Following a luncheon served Wednesday in Knights of Pythias hall to a large group of guests, members of Sedgwick W. R. C. held a business session, with the president, Mrs. Julia Cozad, in charge. Fifteen officers and 27 members were present.

It was reported that 70 calls had been made; 12 bouquets distributed; $87.75 expended in child welfare. Plans were made for a reception to be held December 8 in K. P. hall honoring Russell G. Martin of Los Angeles, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R.

The next meting of the corps will be held December 12, at which time election of officers will take place.

Announcement was made that W. R. C. Federation No. 1 will meet Monday in the Costa Mesa Woman's clubhouse. This will be past presidents' day. There will be election of officers.

Young Couple Wedded At Morning Service In Bride's Home

On Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Alva W. Martin home, 814 Cypress street, occurred the wedding of Miss Hildred Martin, daughter of the home, to Roy Lovejoy Irvin of El Centro.

Although simplicity prevailed in the quiet service read by the Rev. G. E. Waddle, pastor of the Nazarene church, the scene was very lovely. An archway of asparagus plumosis fern and yellow chrysanthemums was formed between living and dining rooms, flanked by white lattice work entwined with greenery and rising from baskets of pink roses.

A large wedding bell swayed from the archway, and there the young people stood to take their vows. Miss Martin wore a smart blue tailleur whose gray fur trimming had its color repeated in her hat, gloves, slippers and purse. She wore, to complete her effective appearance, a corsage cluster of gardenias.

The Misses Beulah, Eva and Vena Martin, sisters of the bride, acted as hostesses at the reception which followed the rites, serving bridal refreshments which included a decorated cake. The new Mrs. Irvin cut the first slice of this cake before it was served to the many relatives and family friends assembled for the nuptials.

After a honeymoon in San Diego and other Southland points, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin will return here for a few days before leaving for El Centro where a new home awaits their arrival. Mr. Irvin is connected with the business department of the citrus industry in El Centro. His bride, a talented artist, had her education and artistic training in Kansas, her former home.

Junior Music Club

Billy Gulley was in charge of the latest meeting of the Junior Music club held in the studio of Marie Stanton Eyerly, 501 South Van Ness avenue.

After the business meeting a program was given. Mildred Day, Ralph Tippin and Ruth Rawley gave piano numbers, after which open criticism of each player's technique was made. Mrs. Eyerly gave readings, "The Best Cure" and "On the Piano."

Betty Read and Marilyn Kyte were taken in as new members of the club.

Refreshments were served.

Mildred Day will be in charge of the next club meeting.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon

Salad Plate:

3 Tbsps. tomato jelly
1 diced celery heart
1 Tbsp. chopped sweet pickle
Lettuce heart
2 Tbsps. mineral oil mayonnaise
2 slices bran bread toast with
1 tsp. butter
Clear tea, no sugar. Lemon and saccharine allowed
Calory total, 270.

Don't turn up your pretty nose at the tomato jelly and think it too much bother. Let's pretend that you are home alone today, and that your luncheon salad in lesser amounts will be the salad for dinner tonight. Here is how you can make it.

Take a can of tomato puree, run it through a sieve, put over the fire and bring to a boil. For 2 cups of tomato juice add 1 envelope of gelatine dissolved over hot water and enough of the envelope of fruit acid (comes with the gelatine you know) to make the jelly tart. Season with salt, a little sugar, and a dash of celery salt. Pour into a shallow pan and chill until firm enough to cut in cubes.

See how simple the operation is? And how good . . . how colorful . . . and all full of health and vitamins!

Now, when you come to serve the family dinner salad you might add quarters of hard cooked egg for an extra garnish, and, of course, oil mayonnaise.

Here's an idea for your meat dish for dinner: get nice loin pork chops, put them in a pan, season nicely and spread with a tasty poultry dressing. Bake in a slow oven 1 hour.

Deviled Oysters
1 quart large oysters
1 cup thin cream
1 Tbsp. butter
2 Tbsps. flour
2 egg yolks
2 Tbsps. minced green pepper
1 tsp. grated onion
½ tsp. celery salt
¼ tsp. cayenne
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 tsp. salt
1 cup buttered crumbs

Drain oysters and cut them in large pieces. Slip them into a little boiling water to poach for not more than 3 minutes, then drain (save liquor for broth.) Make a sauce out of cream, butter and flour, add the oysters, minced vegetables and egg yolks, with which you must beat the dry seasonings. Mix well, arrange in buttered scallop shells or other baking dishes, cover top with buttered crumbs and bake about 10 minutes in a hot oven.

• • •

A delicious way to bread oysters for frying is to have a quantity of grated cheese on hand. Wash and dry the oysters, dip each into beaten egg, then in the cheese, set aside to dry for 20 minutes, dip again in egg, then in crackers meal, and fry.

We'll have to coin a word to describe how good oysters done this way can really be!

Oysters being an extremely low value protein, you can get out your calory list and make an estimate for yourself on the trimmings. The deviled variety will run around 300 per serving.

Parent-Teachers

Committee chairmen of Woodrow Wilson P.-T. A. met Tuesday afternoon in the school kindergarten to select members for their various committees. Mrs. H. C. Drown is president of the association.

Tea and fudge squares were served at the close of the meeting. Those present were Mesdames George Calhoun, H. I. Thornburgh, Carl Edgar, E. W. Eggleston, Russell Adkinson, Warren McCarty, H. R. Hendrie, Harry Becker, Paul Ragan, Gilbert Brown, L. J. Nesbitt and David Carmichael.

CHURCH CLUBS FRATERNAL WOMEN - SOCIETY - THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

Retiring Star Matron Gives Dinner For Officers

Concluding a year as worthy matron of Santa Ana chapter, O. E. S., which has been decidedly successful and enjoyable for both the chapter and herself, Mrs. George Shipe this week entertained her officers, substitute officers and the "trailers" at a delightful dinner and card party in the Masonic temple.

Returning to the lounge for bridge, the diners found several unique features introduced, the merriest being the special prize of a "galloping breakfast," a frying pan filled with tempting bacon and a number of eggs, which went to one after another of the players holding all the honors in a single hand and was retained by the final successful player, Mrs. B. E. Dawson.

Prizes for high scores were presented Mrs. James Austin of Laguna Beach, and Larry Golden, with consolation gifts awarded Mrs. C. T. Cleland and H. G. Lycan. At the same time Mrs. Shipe gave farewell gifts to her officers, embroidered luncheon sets to the women and bronze ash trays and fine playing cards to the men.

The party was the final social event of the chapter year, since new officers so recently elected, will be installed on Monday night, December 11.

Chapter Has Program Following Luncheon

Mrs. Charles Brisco of this city and Mrs. Jordan of Long Beach joined as hostesses this week in the former's home, 421 East Bishop street, entertaining members of chapter AB, P. E. O. Luncheon served on individual trays preceded the program.

Mrs. Holmes Bishop, president, was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. T. E. Stephenson talked on "Objects and Aims of P. E. O." Mrs. Brisco gave vocal numbers, music for which has been composed by Mrs. Malcolm Macurda of this city to poems written by Mrs. George W. Bond, a member of AB chapter. Mrs. Bishop was at the piano.

Evening Party Serves As Announcement of July Wedding

An enjoyable party given Tuesday evening by Mrs. John O'Brien in her home on East Second street, Long Beach, had as its incentive, the formal announcement of the wedding of John Bexfield O'Brien, son of the hostess, to Miss Henrietta Scheffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scheffer, 155 South D street, Tustin.

Only members of the two families were bidden to the party, and announcement of the wedding was as complete a surprise as the young people had contemplated when they motored to Yuma on July 13, for the quiet rites.

The bride, a charming blonde, had donned the pretty chiffon frock in soft blue and white, which she wore on the important occasion of her marriage, completing her effective appearance with a corsage cluster of white gardenias. The senior Mrs. O'Brien introduced her son and her new daughter-in-law, and following the excitement, the bride was called upon to cut a towering wedding cake with its appropriate decorations which included a tiny bride and groom.

Decorations of the home were in white and silver, enhancing the general bridal atmosphere. Present in addition to the hostess, Mrs. O'Brien, and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. John Bexfield O'Brien, were the Misses Josephine and Julia O'Brien of the home, Mr. and Mrs. John Scheffer, Miss Ann Scheffer, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Woodruff, Mrs. Samuel Blassman and Mrs. C. D. Holmes of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien plan to leave soon for San Francisco where they will make their home. At present Mr. O'Brien is with the West Coast theater in Long Beach. His bride, a graduate of Santa Ana High school, has been connected with the Associated Optical company of this city. She has a fine soprano voice and has appeared on countless radio and entertainment programs in this and other Southland cities with her sisters, Miss Ann Scheffer and Mrs. Owen Woodruff (Gertrude Scheffer) as the Scheffer Trio.

Ebell Travelers Hear Informative Talk on Island Possessions

Preceding his address was an equally enjoyable interval when section members were luncheon guests of Mrs. John J. Harrison, Mrs. C. F. Crose and Mrs. P. L. Tople. Tables arranged in the section room were brightened with yellow button chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

Covers were laid for the section leader, Mrs. T. A. Winbigler, Mr. and Mrs. Nau, honor guests, Mrs. Anna Allen, a new member; Mrs. Victor Montgomery, especially welcomed after several months' absence due to illness; Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns, Mrs. Leo Borchard, Mrs. Minnie Collins, Mrs. G. W. Canter, Mrs. Emma French, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, Mrs. Mit Phillips, Mrs. George Reyburn, Mrs. May Thompson, Mrs. M. C. Williams, Mrs. Howard Wassum, and the three hostesses.

Various guests invited for the program hour, shared with section members the enjoyment of Mr. Nau's talk, in which he described the Islands from a geographical and scenic point, dwelling on sea level characteristics and the mountainous inland regions. He had spent much time studying native life, primitive customs, and educational facilities, and his accounts were fascinating to the audience, while his summing up of the place occupied by the Islands in government affairs, was highly educational.

In advance of the informative talk, the Honolulu Trio, secured through the co-operation of Sol Gonzales, played a varied group of effective Island melodies on their steel guitars, as approaching the typical native music of the Philippines.

Las Meninas

Following a five course dinner at which the combined place and tally cards reflected the charm of the Kitchen, tables were arranged for bridge. Miss Verona Swanson, scoring high, received a bouquet of deep red roses which were later used in the initiation ceremony conducted by Miss Dorothy Tedford. Miss Joy McPhee scored second high and was presented with a dainty gift.

Those who are now members are the Misses Willena Bell, Mary Jane Mitchell, Frankie Fern McDonald, Eloise Schrier, Janet Welty, Riba Myracle, Beulah Davis, Jane Crawford, Margaret Hoefner, Dolores Swenson, Verona Swanson, Martha Tuthill, Blanche Illingsworth and Lois Kiser. Members present were the advisors, Miss Genevieve Humiston and Miss Dorothy Decker, and the Misses Alline Buck, Dorothy Tedford, Leonore Walker, Ruth Crowl, Jo Derigo, Erma Seamans, Marian Liehy, Evelyn Furtsch, Frances Robinson and Kay Holmes. Alumnae members attending were the Misses Verna Helm, Betty Whitney, Joy McPhee and Norma Wilson.

Moav Club

Moav initiation was held in the home of Miss Lida Mitchell at Garden Grove. The formal ceremony was conducted by Miss Jeanne Leive and Miss Eulabelle Smith after which corsages of white sweet peas were presented new members.

At a short business session Miss Esther Vogt was appointed chairman of the annual Christmas alumnae party and new pins were ordered. Miss Smith sang several numbers accompanied by Miss Virginia Lee Harper. Miss Vogt concluded the short program with piano solos.

In charge of arrangements for the ceremony were the Misses Natalie Neff, Ardith Parham, Catherine Hull, Kay Gorath, Gertrude Chapman, Clarice Isenor and Ernestine Wakeham.

Initiates present were the Misses Virginia Lee Harper, Mildred Haskell, Lucille Scheifer, Barbara Allen, Frances Wilbur, Alice Stoner, Arden Murray, Roberta Chamness and Alta Fisher. Others present besides the advisors, Miss Mabel Whiting and Miss Marian Bruner, were the Misses Evelyn Richardson and Betty Heil.

Sisterhood of Spinsters

In the glow of tapers in the home of Miss Marian Brownridge, 1414 North Main street, pledges of Sisterhood of Spinsters became members of that organization at the formal sisterhood ceremony which Miss Florence Campbell conducted. Everyone present received a corsage of gardenias and violets.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to cards and refreshments were served.

Alumnae Spinsters

Miss Marian Parsons entertained members of Alumnae Sisterhood of Spinsters in her home at 106 East Chestnut street. The evening was devoted to various activities which included knitting and the serving of refreshments.

Those present were the Misses Nelle Grafton, Betty Wiswall, Ruth Owens, Florence Brownridge, Betty Hawk, Dora Tedford, Helen Mott, Loretta Spangler, Florence Turner, Saragrace Frampton, Iona de Remer and Marian Parsons.

Joint Meeting

Preceding the gathering of members of Los Gauchos and Las Gitanas in the home of Miss Naomi Wheeler, Anaheim, members of the latter club held formal initiation with Miss Doris Rockwell presiding. Los Gauchos met with Clarence Compton at Orange for a business discussion.

Dancing and cards provided an entertaining evening for the joint clubs and later Miss Wheeler served appetizing refreshments.

Buccaneers

Pledges of Buccaneers entertained members in the home of Dick Clark, Stanton, with amusing speeches, music and songs. Bob Campbell as pledge master instructed the "galley slaves" as to their conduct for the next two weeks. A dinner dance was planned and Tom Kistinger and John Wells were appointed to make definite arrangements for the affair.

Brotherhood of Bachelors

That pledges would be initiated at the next meeting of Brotherhood of Bachelors was announced at their meeting with Jack Havens in Orange. All regular members were asked to assist Havens in perfecting arrangements.

Following the usual kangaroo court for "scums," various forms of music were provided by pledges.

Junior Lions

Ralph Raitt as guest of honor at the meeting of Junior Lions with Bill Proctor, on North Van Ness avenue, invited members to be guests of Santa Ana Lions at a luncheon meeting Thursday. Plans were made for the traditional bonfire to be held Wednesday evening, November 29. It was decided that the club would give a dance in the near future and that pledges are to be initiated at the next meeting in two weeks.

Dinner Follows Formal Announcement of Engagement

Following formal announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Randall, 2650 North Main street, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jerusha Ann Randall to Nicholas Neno Platt of Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Platt, was the party with which Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Rankin entertained last night in their home, 2106 North Main street.

Miss Patricia Rankin, daughter of the hosts, is to be one of the junior bridesmaids for the marriage of Miss Randall and Mr. Pratt on December 14 at 8 p. m. in the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale.

An intimate little group took part in the affair, which included a delicious turkey dinner served at a large table spread with lace, centered with a bowl of colorful autumn fruits and lighted with four bronze-hued tapers. Chrysanthemums arranged throughout the rooms of the home were in autumnal tones ranging from soft yellow to deep mahogany.

Following the dinner the group sat around the open fireplace and enjoyed viewing photographs Mr. Rankin had taken this summer while on a trip to the High Sierras with the Sierra club of California, of which he is a member. The pictures had just been returned to Mr. Rankin following their exhibition in Santa Barbara, San Jose, Riverside, San Francisco and other points.

Taking part in the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Rankin and daughter and son, Patricia and Danny; J. H. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Randall and daughters, the Misses Jerusha Ann and Dorothy Randall, and Nicholas Platt.

Relief Corps

Following a luncheon served Wednesday in Knights of Pythias hall to a large group of guests, members of Sedgwick W. R. C. held a business session, with the president, Mrs. Julia Cozad, in charge. Fifteen officers and 27 members were present.

It was reported that 70 calls had been made; 12 bouquets distributed; $87.75 expended in child welfare. Plans were made for a reception to be held December 8 in K. P. hall honoring Russell G. Martin of Los Angeles, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R.

The next meting of the corps will be held December 12, at which time election of officers will take place.

Announcement was made that W. R. C. Federation No. 1 will meet Monday in the Costa Mesa Woman's clubhouse. This will be past presidents' day. There will be election of officers.

Young Couple Wedded At Morning Service In Bride's Home

On Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Alva W. Martin home, 814 Cypress street, occurred the wedding of Miss Hildred Martin, daughter of the home, to Roy Lovejoy Irvin of El Centro.

Although simplicity prevailed in the quiet service read by the Rev. G. E. Waddle, pastor of the Nazarene church, the scene was very lovely. An archway of asparagus plumosis fern and yellow chrysanthemums was formed between living and dining rooms, flanked by white lattice work entwined with greenery and raising from baskets of pink roses.

A large wedding bell swayed from the archway, and there the young people stood to take their vows. Miss Martin wore a smart blue tailleur whose gray fur trimming had its color repeated in her hat, gloves, slippers and purse. She wore, to complete her effective appearance, a corsage cluster of gardenias.

The Misses Beulah, Eva and Vena Martin, sisters of the bride, acted as hostesses at the reception which followed the rites, serving bridal refreshments which included a decorated cake. The new Mrs. Irvin cut the first slice of this cake before it was served to the many relatives and family friends assembled for the nuptials.

After a honeymoon in San Diego and other Southland points, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin will return here for a few days before leaving for El Centro where a new home awaits their arrival. Mr. Irvin is connected with the business department of the citrus industry in El Centro. His bride, a talented artist, had her education and artistic training in Kansas, her former home.

Junior Music Club

Billy Gulley was in charge of the latest meeting of the Junior Music club held in the studio of Marie Stanton Eyerly, 501 South Van Ness avenue.

After the business meeting a program was given. Mildred Day, Ralph Tippin and Ruth Rawley gave piano numbers, after which open criticism of each player's technique was made. Mrs. Everly gave readings, "The Best Cure" and "On the Piano."

Betty Read and Marilyn Kyte were taken in as new members of the club.

Refreshments were served.

Mildred Day will be in charge of the next club meeting.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Salad Plate:

3 Tbsps. tomato jelly
1 diced celery heart
1 Tbsp. chopped sweet pickle
Lettuce heart
2 Tbsps. mineral oil mayonnaise
2 slices bran bread toast with 1 tsp. butter
Clear tea, no sugar. Lemon and saccharine allowed

Don't turn up your pretty nose at the tomato jelly and think it too much bother. Let's pretend that you are home alone today, and that your luncheon salad in lesser amounts will be the salad for dinner tonight. Here is how you can make it.

Take a can of tomato puree, run it through a sieve, put over the fire and bring to a boil. For 2 cups of tomato juice add 1 envelope of gelatine dissolved over hot water and enough of the envelope of fruit acid (comes with the gelatine you know) to make the jelly tart. Season with salt, a little sugar, and a dash of celery salt. Pour into a shallow pan and chill until firm enough to cut in cubes.

See how simple the operation is? And how good . . . how colorful . . . and all full of health and vitamins!

Now, when you come to serve the family dinner salad you might add quarters of hard cooked egg for an extra garnish, and, of course, oil mayonnaise.

Here's an idea for your meat dish for dinner: get nice loin pork chops, put them in a pan, season nicely and spread with a tasty poultry dressing. Bake in a slow oven 1 hour.

Deviled Oysters
1 quart large oysters
1 cup thin cream
1 Tbsp. butter
2 Tbsps. flour
2 egg yolks
2 Tbsps. minced green pepper
1 tsp. grated onion
½ tsp. celery salt
¼ tsp. cayenne
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 tsp. salt
1 cup buttered crumbs

Drain oysters and cut them in large pieces. Slip them into a little boiling water to poach for not more than 3 minutes, then drain (save liquor for broth.) Make a sauce out of cream, butter and flour, add the oysters, minced vegetables and egg yolks, with which you must beat the dry seasonings. Mix well, arrange in buttered scallop shells or other baking dishes, cover top with buttered crumbs and bake about 10 minutes in a hot oven.

* * *

A delicious way to bread oysters for frying is to have a quantity of grated cheese on hand. Wash and dry the oysters, dip each into beaten egg, then in the cheese, set aside to dry for 20 minutes, dip again in egg, then in crackers meal, and fry.

We'll have to coin a word to describe how good oysters done this way can really be!

* * *

Oysters being an extremely low value protein, you can get out your calory list and make an estimate for yourself on the trimmings. The deviled variety will run around 300 per serving.

Parent-Teachers

Committee chairmen of Woodrow Wilson P.-T. A. met Tuesday afternoon in the school kindergarten to select members for their various committees. Mrs. H. C. Drown is president of the association.

Tea and fudge squares were served at the close of the meeting. Those present were Mesdames George Calhoun, H. I. Thornburgh, Carl Edgar, E. W. Eggleston, Russell Adkinson, Warren McCarty, H. R. Hendrie, Harry Becker, Paul Ragan, Gilbert Brown, L. J. Nesbitt and David Carmichael.

WELLES TO BE CALLED HOME FROM HAVANA

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 24. — (UP) —President Roosevelt today moved for early reestablishment of tranquility in Cuba as he defined in clear language his policy toward that island republic and at the same time announced withdrawal of Sumner Welles as American ambassador.

Welles, a thorn in the side of the provisional government of President Grau San Martin, will return in the near future to resume his original duties as assistant secretary of state. Jefferson Caffery, now an assistant secretary, will replace him.

In going to Cuba Caffery will be following out an original intention of the president that he serve as envoy. Meanwhile, it was insisted that the dispatch of a new ambassador did not constitute recognition of the present Havana regime.

Announcing the early return of Welles, Mr. Roosevelt said:

Welles Ousted

"Ambassador Welles is returning to Havana in the next few days. As previously announced, upon the termination of his mission which will be in the near future he will return to Washington to resume his former duties as assistant secretary of state, and will be replaced by Mr. Jefferson Caffery, now serving as assistant secretary of state."

Among close observers of the Cuban situation the pronouncement by Mr. Roosevelt at this time was regarded as a reaffirmation of his policies of good neighborliness, of particular importance to all Latin-American nations at this time in view of the nearness of the Montevideo conference.

Concerning the question of recognition of the Cuban government, the president wrote that the United States "will welcome any provisional government in Cuba in which the Cuban people demonstrate their confidence."

Hopes for Peace

"We earnestly hope," he said, "that in the near future through a spirit of compromise on all sides, the Cuban people themselves will reach a peaceful agreement which may result in general support of a government and thus avoid continued civil disturbance with its attendant tragic loss of life and grave prejudice to the social and economic interests of the republic."

The president's statement also was construed to mean that intervention was an instrument to be used only in the direst cases and that every opportunity was being afforded the Cuban people to work out a problem decidedly an internal one and of their own making.

"We feel," he explained in this connection, "that no official action of the United States should at any time operate as an obstacle to the free and untrammelled determination by the Cuban people of their own destinies."

OPEN CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Plans for the 1933 Christmas Seals sale have been completed and the 1934 program activities depend on the success of the sale, it was anounced today by R. W. Balch, president of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association.

The sales campaign will be in charge of Miss Irene Carlson, field representative of the California Tuberculosis Association, assisted by voluntary workers, it was added. Seal Sale chairmen in every community of the county are planning to arrange short talks before club and group meetings, which form of publicity will be supplemented by school plays and window displays, it was explained.

RELIEF DISCUSSED BY WAR VETERANS

Because of the fact that a greater percentage of the nation's disabled and destitute war veterans live in California than in any other state, the taxpayers of California eventually will be called upon to shoulder a greater burden for veteran relief than taxpayers in other states, was the substance of a discussion that featured the monthly meeting of the Past Commanders club of the United Spanish War Veterans, held last night at the residence of Commander U. Sherman Glaze, in Orange.

PROTECTION OF FORESTS URGED AT LIONS' MEET

"It's better to prevent crimes and forest fires, than to make an arrest afterwards.

"The forests are yours, and the forest rangers are appointed by you to preserve them for you, your children, and your children's children.

This was the message delivered to Santa Ana Lions yesterday noon at James' cafe by Stephen Chalmers of Laguna Beach, noted playwright and novelist, and friend of President Roosevelt, who was introduced by Homer Chaney.

Rolla Hays explained briefly the Orange County Harbor bond proposal which will be voted on December 19, and urged passage of the harbor bonds as a source of new taxation, a means of creating new employment, and a way to take advantage of the government's offer to assist by paying two-thirds of the cost.

"By voting for these bonds, we will get our share of the national public works fund, which we will have to help pay for whether it is spent in Orange county or not," Hays declared.

President Carson Smith announced that inasmuch as the next meting date would fall on Thanksgiving, the Lions will meet with the Santa Ana Rotary club next Tuesday, with Rev. Bob Shuler as the speaker, and that the following week the Elks Double-Quartet will provide the entire program for the club.

ICKES ALLOTS HUGE SUM FOR PROJECTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(UP) —Public Works Administrator Ickes today announced the allotment of $5,082,200 to 38 non-federal projects in 23 states and Hawaii.

The list was expected to provide 30,145 man months of direct employment.

The county of Alameda, Calif., was granted $190,000 to aid in the replacement of an old bridge with a new structure of 250 feet total span having a double leaf through truss, electrically operated, bascule lift span. The total cost of this project is $633,250 and 120 men will be given employment for two and one-half years. Work can start in 60 days.

JOHNSON DEFENDS MONETARY POLICY

ATLANTA, Nov. 24.—(UP) — General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, today vigorously defended the monetary policy of the president in an interview here, characterizing recent resignations from the administration as "an attempt to strut across the stage."

Johnson, who made his statement just before leaving for Warm Springs to confer with President Roosevelt, branded as "silly" all talk of impairment of federal credit through operations of the administration's monetary policies.

He delivered an address here last night in which he asserted the NRA had pulled America 25 per cent out of the depression.

GETS JAIL TERM

H. S. Doyle, charged with uttering fictitious checks, pleaded guilty in justice court yesterday, waived his preliminary examination and was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail, which will be suspended if he pay the sum of $109.50 to the court.

Social Science Club Hears Talk On County History

Covering the history of Orange county from the early Indian period through the Mexican reign to the American invasion, Postmaster Terry Stephenson spoke before members of jaysee Phi Sigma Alpha, social science organization, at their meeting held in the home of the advisor, L. L. Beeman, 910 French street.

Stephenson stated that there is hardly anything of importance happening in the state that does not seem in some way to affect this county not only in the present day but as far back as the Mexican period. He spoke of the old families that settled here, the hardships encountered in the beginning of the citrus industry and other difficulties.

DAMAGE TO CRUISER TOTALS $364,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—(UP)—Damage to the U. S. cruiser Chicago in a collision at sea was estimated today at $364,000 in an amended bill of libel filed by the U. S. government against the Silver Line, Ltd., owners of the motorship Silverpalm.

The amended government suit also asked $15,000 damages for pay of officers and crew during the repair period, $10,000 as storage costs, $13,500 for loss of personal belongings of the crew. The government asked the court to assess damages for relatives of the three naval officers killed in the crash.

The Chicago and the Silverpalm collided during a heavy fog between Monterey and San Francisco. Both ships were able to make port to be sent to dry docks for repairs. Owners of the motorship filed a counter suit for damages against the government.

HORSES SOUGHT

Two horses, reported to be missing from the W. H. Porter ranch near Hansen Station on Bali road, were being sought by sheriff's officers today. Porter's horse was described as a bay mare, weighing 1150 pounds with a white spot on her forehead, while the second animal, owned by a Japanese boy, was black, weighed 1250 pounds and was branded on the hind leg.

NEW UNIT OF TOASTMASTERS GETS CHARTER

El Camino Toastmasters Smedley No. 2 chapter joined the family of clubs making up Toastmasters International as No. 15 when members and visitors to the number of nearly 125 saw International President W. H. Johnson hand Ernest Layton of the youngest member club the official charter last night at James' cafe.

Toastmasters clubs are peculiarly a Santa Ana product and project, the first club having been launched in this city by Ralph Smedley, secretary o fthe Y. M. C. A. The work has spread without any special propaganda work of activity and without any aid officials or organizers, it was pointed out by Smedley in his talk at the presentation meeting. Santa Ana now boasts two clubs, the only city with this record. It was reported that a new club has just been organized in Tucson, Ariz., and will soon receive its charter. Huntington Park witnessed a similar ceremony last week.

Only about a year ago Smedley Chapter No. 1, the original club, received its charter. The International now has its second set of officers, of which Frederick K. Eley of Santa Ana is International treasurer. Other International officers present were Jean Bordeaux, secretary, and Past President Paul Demaree. Among visitors introduced were William Wright, president of the first club, and J. F. Burke.

The program of the evening brought two members from the Pasadena club, J. Barnes and D. Saunders; two from the first Santa Ana club, D. H. Tibbals and William Iverson; and Guy Penn and Roy Coleman of the No. 2 club. Toastmaster for the evening was M. Macurda, treasurer of the new club, who introduced the speakers.

Topics of the speakers were as follows: "Was It a Mistake or an Error " Tibbals; "G e r many," Barnes; "Up in the Air," Penn; "Be Kind to Your Pay Envelope," Saunders; and "The Parable of the Cow," Iverson. Coleman introduced the novelty of wood turning machines to demonstrate his talk on hobbies and made out a case for the utilizing of spare time to good advantage. Machinery was loaned by Wendel Jolivette. Critics were Edie Weidler for Tibbals, Ernest S. Wooster for Barnes; Harry Lebard for Penn; Dick Whitney for Saunders; Paul Roberts for Coleman; H. Erwin Whipple for Iverson. Dr. E. Lee Russell was general critic for the speakers, the president, the toastmaster and the critics.

AL SMITH ATTACKS ROOSEVELT POLICY

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(UP)—In a public statement bitterly attacking President Franklin D. Roosevelt's monetary program, Alfred E. Smith, his opponent for the presidential nomination, today declared flatly for "sound money," and flayed the president's "baloney dollar."

Smith's statement comprised an open letter to the chamber of commerce of the state of New York, to be published in the December issue of the magazine he edits, the New Outlook.

MOTHER ACCUSED OF KILLING CHILDREN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—(UP) —Mrs. Hazel Ruth O'Brien, 35, former wife of a motion picture technician, was charged formally today with murdering her two sons, William, 15, and Willis jr., 14, whom she shot in a frenzy of despondency several weeks ago.

A murder complaint was issued by the district attorney's office after the grand jury had refused to indict the mother who is reported in a serious condition with tuberculosis in the prison ward of General hospital.

Mrs. O'Brien, who also shot herself, told police after the killings that she feared she would die of tuberculosis and feared leaving her two boys alone.

DIES IN HOSPITAL

Louis Bowman, 49, died yesterday at the Orange county hospital. He was picked upon the street Monday by Police Officer Crilley of Fullerton and taken to the hospital for treatment. It is understood the man has no relatives. The body is at the McAulay and Sutera Funeral home in Fullerton.

H. L. Stuart of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., and John E. Otterson of the American Telephone and Telegraph became trustees for the Fox estate December 3, 1929. Thy called a meeting of the eleven bankers which were Fox creditors.

Fox said he became ill and while he was bed-ridden five days the trustees began to re-organize his companies.

"They got Harold B. Franklin, a Fox employe who had been managing the West Coast Theaters company, for $50,000 a year," Fox said, "and they made him president of Fox Theaters corporation at $150,000 a year plus 10 per cent of the profits.

"I was to be deposed from a job I had been filling without compensation."

Later counsel for Fox told the United Press that the eleven bank creditors, the records of any of which may be subpoenaed to prove or disprove the former movie millionaire's story were:

Chase National bank; Corn Exchange bank; Manufacturers Trust company; Public National bank; Harriman National bank; Bank of United States; Bankers Trust company; Trust Company of New Jersey; Chelsea Exchange bank; Fidelity Trust company and the Chemical National bank.

WELLES TO BE CALLED HOME FROM HAVANA

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 24.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today moved for early reestablishment of tranquility in Cuba as he defined in clear language his policy toward that island republic and at the same time announced withdrawal of Sumner Welles as American ambassador.

Welles, a thorn in the side of the provisional government of President Grau San Martin, will return in the near future to resume his original duties as assistant secretary of state. Jefferson Caffery, now an assistant secretary, will replace him.

In going to Cuba Caffery will be following out an original intention of the president that he serve as envoy. Meanwhile, it was insisted that the dispatch of a new ambassador did not constitute recognition of the present Havana regime.

Welles Ousted

"Ambassador Welles is returning to Havana in the next few days. As previously announced, upon the termination of his mission which will be in the near future he will return to Washington to resume his former duties as assistant secretary of state, and will be replaced by Mr. Jefferson Caffery, now serving as assistant secretary of state."

Among close observers of the Cuban situation the pronouncement by Mr. Roosevelt at this time was regarded as a reaffirmation of his policies of good neighborliness, of particular importance to all Latin-American nations at this time in view of the nearness of the Montevideo conference.

Concerning the question of recognition of the Cuban government, the president wrote that the United States "will welcome any provisional government in Cuba in which the Cuban people demonstrate their confidence."

Hopes for Peace

"We earnestly hope," he said, "that in the near future through a spirit of compromise on all sides, the Cuban people themselves will reach a peaceful agreement which may result in general support of a government and thus avoid continued civil disturbance with its attendant tragic loss of life and grave prejudice to the social and economic interests of the republic."

The president's statement also was construed to mean that intervention was an instrument to be used only in the direst cases and that every opportunity was being afforded the Cuban people to work out a problem decidedly an internal one and of their own making.

"We feel," he explained in this connection, "that no official action of the United States should at any time operate as an obstacle to the free and untrammelled determination by the Cuban people of their own destinies."

OPEN CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Plans for the 1933 Christmas Seals sale have been completed and the 1934 program activities depend on the success of the sale, it was anounced today by R. W. Balch, president of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Heaith association.

The sales campaign will be in charge of Miss Irene Carlson, field representative of the California Tuberculosis Association, assisted by voluntary workers, it was added. Seal Sale chairmen in every community of the county are planning to arrange short talks before club and group meetings, which form of publicity will be supplemented by school plays and window displays, it was explained.

RELIEF DISCUSSED BY WAR VETERANS

Because of the fact that a greater percentage of the nation's disabled and destitute war veterans live in California than in any other state, the taxpayers of California eventually will be called upon to shoulder a greater burden for veteran relief than taxpayers in other states, was the substance of a discussion that featured the monthly meeting of the Past Commanders club of the United Spanish War Veterans, held last night at the residence of Commander U. Sherman Glaze, in Orange.

PROTECTION OF FORESTS URGED AT LIONS' MEET

"It's better to prevent crimes and forest fires, than to make an arrest afterwards.

"The forests are yours, and the forest rangers are appointed by you to preserve them for you, your children, and your children's children.

This was the message delivered to Santa Ana Lions yesterday noon at James' cafe by Stephen Chalmers of Laguna Beach, noted playwright and novelist, and friend of President Roosevelt, who was introduced by Homer Chaney.

Mentioning the recent Griffith Park tragedy, and other disastrous fires, Chalmers declared that "what this great western country needs is a corps of trained fire fighters."

He bestowed great praise upon the training being given young men in the C. C. C. camps.

Rolla Hays explained briefly the Orange County Harbor bond proposal which will be voted on December 19, and urged passage of the harbor bonds as a source of new taxation, a means of creating new employment, and a way to take advantage of the government's offer to assist by paying two-thirds of the cost.

"By voting for these bonds, we will get our share of the national public works fund, which we will have to help pay for whether it is spent in Orange county or not," Hays declared.

President Carson Smith announced that inasmuch as the next meting date would fall on Thanksgiving, the Lions will meet with the Santa Ana Rotary club next Tuesday, with Rev. Bob Shuler as the speaker, and that the following week the Elks Double-Quartet will provide the entire program for the club.

ICKES ALLOTS HUGE SUM FOR PROJECTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(UP)—Public Works Administrator Ickes today announced the allotment of $5,082,200 to 38 non-federal projects in 23 states and Hawaii.

The list was expected to provide 30,145 man months of direct employment.

The county of Alameda, Calif., was granted $190,000 to aid in the replacement of an old bridge with a new structure of 250 feet total span having a double leaf through truss, electrically operated, bascule lift span. The total cost of this project is $633,250 and 120 men will be given employment for two and one-half years. Work can start in 60 days.

OOK REVIEW ON PROGRAM OF HOME SOCIETY

ORANGE, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Dora allace reviewed several chapters "Christianity and Industry in merica," by Alva W. Taylor, the udy book of the Women's Home issionary society of the First ethodist church, when the group et Thursday. The chapters told the progress of labor throughout the intervening centuries since e beginning of the Christian era.

In the chapters the progress om slavedom and serfdom to age earner is traced and the rogressive steps for the welfare f the wage earner shown.

OOK REVIEW ON PROGRAM OF HOME SOCIETY

ORANGE, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Dora Wallace reviewed several chapters of "Christianity and Industry in America," by Alva W. Taylor, the study book of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church, when the group met Thursday. The chapters told of the progress of labor throughout the intervening centuries since the beginning of the Christian era.

In the chapters the progress from slavedom and serfdom to wage earner is traced and the progressive steps for the welfare of the wage earner shown.

Mrs. W. B. Nuckols, president, presided. Two new members were welcomed, Mrs. Emma Koss and Mrs. Amelia Bidlemeier. Miss Leah Fernald, Miss Lulu Thornburg and Mrs. Nuckols gave reports of a recent missionary rally at La Jolla.

Miss Sabra Batchelor and Miss Elvia Worden, members of the Girls Missionary society of the church, were presented in a short play and Miss Marytom Cox, Miss Barbara Pease and Miss Janice Winget sang, accompanied by Miss Carol Mae Larson. Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Dunning sang a duet, "Hidden Years."

Mrs. Wallace asked that anyone having current magazines in good condition send one of them by mail to Mrs. R. C. Block, 3567 Ray street, San Diego. Mrs. Block, it was stated, has organized a number of Indian P.-T. A. associations to help Mexican mothers. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. L. A. Bortz, Mrs. Frank Batchelor, Mrs. Mary Gross, Mrs. W. H. Hall and Mrs. H. M. Elliott. Tea was served with small cakes at the close of the meeting.

TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Nov. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. James H. Blee and baby son, Charles, plan to spend Thanksgiving day with Mr. Blee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blee, in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. McCulla will entertain with a turkey dinner on November 30. Relatives who will share the event are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. Bennet Johnson and Philip Ferguson, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Jennie Bailey and daughter, Dorothy, of Van Nuys; Frank Macy and son, Dwight, of Long Beach; E. T. Hinds, Mrs. Maude Ferguson and daughter, Miss Helen Ferguson, of Tustin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hamilton of Pomona were Sunday dinner guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cadett Hamilton. In the afternoon the group motored to Lynwood to visit Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hamilton.

Mrs. Linna Hanson of Ord, Neb., and her brother, Fred C. Schellhat, of Honolulu, are house guests of Mrs. Hanson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Cleary.

WESTMINSTER

Mr. and Mrs. P. DeLaCruz and family have rented the Doyle Bader place on Seventeenth street and are leaving the Bould ranch in Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Bould called on friends in Westminster Sunday from Alhambra.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nausbalmer, of Riverside, were entertained at dinner recently in the home of Mrs. Nausbalmer's brother, Percy Lawrence.

IMPORTANT!

One important thing to remember in buying a bran product for the relief of constipation — is to look at the label. The Food and Drug Administration has advised that bran products should state clearly on the package just what they contain.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN — because it is all bran with only flavor added, gives you the generous amount of "bulk" needed to promote proper elimination.

THOUSANDS of people "kept on the sunny side of life" last winter. They kept themselves free from common constipation — the ailment that so frequently tears down resistance to "colds" and other winter infections.

Stand guard over the health of your family this winter. Correct common constipation the safe way — by proper diet. Serve them frequently with a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN is also rich in blood-building iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in severe cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, omelets, breads, etc. Sold by all grocers, in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Keep on the sunny side of life

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 24.—The J. W. McIntosh home is under quarantine for scarlet fever, Sarah Jean McIntosh being ill. Other children of the family are staying in another house that they may continue their school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beem and Mrs. Lillie Shaffer Moore have returned from Northern California, where they were guests of Mrs. Beem's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George McGirk.

ATWOOD

ATWOOD, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Erna Keloffer, of Whittier, is spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Pat Goff and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Sollie F. Schrunk have as their house guest, Mrs. Amelia Jones, of Sacramento.

Claire Hurst, of Brea, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. John L. Carr and daughter, Ruth, and son, George.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, Nov. 24. — Relatives of both Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips were entertained by them this week. Mrs. Phillips had her nieces, Mrs. George Buehn and Mrs. Walter Gates, of Norwalk, for a day while George Buehn visited another day. Mr. Phillips' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Bramley, and their mother, Mrs. Eliza Phillips, of Santa Ana, were guests Sunday. Dr. Hawkins and Leo McLaughlin, of Pasadena, were overnight guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lewis were recent visitors in Los Angeles in the home of Mr. Lewis' mother, Mrs. Laura Lewis.

Use a Drip Coffee Maker in which boiling water drips through a specially prepared coffee and a filter paper. Specially prepared Schilling Drip Coffee. Schilling Drip Coffee is specially blended, specially roasted and specially ground for the immediate extraction of all its rich, fragrant flavor. Coffee intended for a percolator is not adapted for the drip process in which the water drips through the coffee but once. A filter paper rests below the coffee to let through nothing but the delicious healthful amber drops. Real Drip Coffee cannot be made otherwise. For your convenience, filter papers are packed in each Schilling tin.

Schilling Drip

Introductory Offer! Special model Drip Coffee Maker and 1 lb. Schilling Drip Coffee, $1.20 at your grocer's. If he cannot supply you, send his name and $1.20 to A. Schilling & Company, San Francisco.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Eve Bayless, pretty assistant to Carle Barnes, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries Dick Rader, a construction superintendent temporarily working in Lake City. Dick wants Eve to give up working but she refuses.

Unknown to Dick, Eve has been playing the stock market on money borrowed from her mother. Mona Allen, copy writer, dislikes Eve and tries to make trouble for her. When an error, costing the store $2000, appears in an advertisement Mona is really responsible but the blame falls on Eve.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXVII

Saturday evening Dick took Eve to dinner at a popular restaurant known as the Old Plantation. The atmosphere was that of the hospitable old south. Pretty mulatto girls, wearing bandanas and checked gingham dresses, served Maryland fried chicken and corn fritters. A string quartet played lively tunes and Eve soon found herself dancing with spirit.

Later they were joined by a group of Dick's business friends and she enjoyed the evening so much she was almost able to forget that Bixby's had lost $2000 through a mistake in her department.

The next day she and Dick went for a long ride in the country. Office cares seemed far away and Eve arrived home tired and sleepy from being so long in the fresh air. But Monday morning as she neared the office she began to feel nervous. Barnes would be back today and the dreaded interview must take place.

"I scarcely need tell you, Mrs. Rader," he began, "that the price error in Saturday's coat advertisement was the worst of the kind the store has ever had. I am amazed that you should have permitted such a blunder."

Eve started to speak but he silenced her with a curt gesture. "It is one of the things that simply cannot be explained away or smoothed over," he continued.

Eve was determined to explain. She had decided to tell of Mona's treachery even at the risk of being considered "catty."

"But you don't understand—!" she began.

"I undrestand the result of the mistake and results are what count in this department," he went on. "I feared your marriage would interfere with your interest in your work here. All I have to say now is—don't let anything of the sort happen again!" There was a grim threat in the words.

Furious that he had not permitted her to defend herself, Eve returned to her desk. Mona had scored against her at every point. Eve was tempted to go to Mr. Bixby about the affair; tempted, too, to resign. But she knew that was exactly what Mona had hoped might happen and therefore it was the one thing Eve determined not to do.

At 10:30 a rosy-cheeked little woman with a youthful face and graying hair appeared and asked for Mr. Barnes. Arlene escorted her to his office.

A few moments later the buzzer sounded for Eve and she was introduced to the newcomer. "This is Mrs. Penney," said Barnes. "She will take Miss Vlad's place."

Eve took the new artist into the outer office and introduced her to the rest of the advertising staff and to her new duties.

"At first I felt sorry for her," Eve told Dick that night, "but after she began to work I knew why Barnes had hired her. That woman has genius!"

Mrs. Penney adjusted herself easily to the office routine and Eve blessed her for that. With things running smoothly again Barnes resumed a more pleasant attitude toward his co-workers and the tension was lifted.

Apparently mild and yielding, Mrs. Penney proved to be firm and self-reliant to a surprising degree. Even Mona, who usually found some means of gaining her own ends in such matters, could neither outwit nor wheedle Mrs. Penney into taking care of minor details of office routine which were Mona's responsibility or exchanging lunch periods to suit Mona's whims.

Mrs. Penney was a widow with a young daughter who was in college. Every stroke of the artists's pencil was for the sole object of assuring her daughter's education. Mrs. Penney worked swiftly and untiringly eight hours a day—longer when necessary. But she managed to turn out smart, finished drawings at a speed which usually enabled her to leave the office promptly at closing time.

Eve, looking ahead, felt that Mrs. Penney would be very helpful in putting the office routine on a prompt and efficient basis whenever the time came that Barnes should leave and Eve herself be in charge of the advertising office.

And then Eve's mother came to visit her. Kate Bayless made an inspection tour of the apartment, then shook her head and decided to spend the morning doing the things Eve found little time for. Painstakingly she "did up" all the ruffled curtains and washed the delicate crocheted rugs. To Dick's delight, she discharded the "bachelor buttons" which Eve had been snapping on his clothes and replaced them with buttons sewed on firmly with heavy thread. She spent three mornings darning heels and toes and catching runners in hosiery. And she made orange marmalade and a supply of noodles calculated to last into the summer.

Every noon Kate met her daughter in the ladies' lounge at Bixby's. Here, while she waited, Kate sat at one of the desks and addressed postal cards to relatives, neighbors and friends at home. During luncheon Eve planned the afternoon's entertainment for her mother—usually either a shopping tour or a matinee. Later Dick would meet her and take her home in time to prepare an old-fashioned, appetizing dinner before Eve's arrival.

"Why, I could almost forget there is such a place as home," Kate said one day, "if it wasn't for worrying whether Pa is getting enough to eat and if he remembers to feed the canary! I'll bet my plants will be all dried up, too, for want of a little attention."

At the end of a week no amount of persuasion could keep her in Lake City any longer. "I've fixed you up a bit and that will give you a good start again," she told Eve. "I'd much rather you'd stay at home and not try to do too much. No good can come of it—and I'm worried about your nerves."

The week had passed so swiftly that her mother's departure had been unexpected. Eve regretted that she had not found time to take her mother to the stock exchange and the brokerage office. "Mother gets such a kick out of seeing what makes the wheels go 'round and she's such a good sport that I like to show her new things," Eve told herself.

She was watching the activities of the market anxiously these days. Pure Soap, Inc., had fallen four points and then, following brisk selling, had resumed its former high and plunged ahead. This fluctuation caused a similar one in Eve's spirits. She looked at fellow passengers on the trolley with a new interest as she rode to the store each morning. She wondered if some of them were similarly concerned over the market news. It did not occur to her that men and women might suffer huge financial loss an dstill maintain their bearings.

And then Pure Soap, Inc., reached the point Eve had been hoping for. Lest it take another slump she hurried to the bank that noon and arranged to sell.

She felt rich as she figured her gain. After all, one had to pay some price for success and this had cost her only anxiety. She was eager for a new venture in finance.

Eve, still exulting over her financial gains, set light-heartedly to work to cook the dinner. It would be nice to surprise Dick by having the meal ready when he came. But scarcely had she started her preparations when the telephone rang.

There was a perceptible pause after Eve answered. She was almost certain she heard a sharp intake of breath at the other end of the line and then a girl's voice said, "Oh, I'm sorry They must have given me the wrong number."

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Eve Bayless, pretty assistant to Carle Barnes, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, marries Dick Rader, a construction superintendent temporarily working in Lake City. Dick wants Eve to give up working but she refuses.

Sam Holeridge, an advertising man employed by another store, becomes infatuated with Arlene Smith, stenographer at Bixby's, but she fancies herself in love with George Bliss. Handsome Theron Reece has been forcing unwelcome attentions on Eve. Unknown to Dick, Eve has been playing the stock market on money borrowed from her mother. Mona Allen, copy writer, dislikes Eve and tries to make trouble for her. When an error, costing the store $2000, appears in an advertisement Mona is really responsible but the blame falls on Eve.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXVII

Saturday evening Dick took Eve to dinner at a popular restaurant known as the Old Plantation. The atmosphere was that of the hospitable old south. Pretty mulatto girls, wearing bandanas and checked gingham dresses, served Maryland fried chicken and corn fritters. A string quartet played lively tunes and Eve soon found herself dancing with spirit.

Later they were joined by a group of Dick's business friends and she enjoyed the evening so much she was almost able to forget that Bixby's had lost $2000 through a mistake in her department.

The next day she and Dick went for a long ride in the country. Office cares seemed far away and Eve arrived home tired and sleepy from being so long in the fresh air. But Monday morning as she neared the office she began to feel nervous. Barnes would be back today and the dreaded interview must take place.

Eve started to speak but he silenced her with a curt gesture. "It is one of the things that simply cannot be explained away or smoothed over," he continued.

Eve was determined to explain. She had decided to tell of Mona's treachery even at the risk of being considered "catty."

"But you don't understand—!" she began.

"I undrestand the result of the mistake and results are what count in this department," he went on. "I feared your marriage would interfere with your interest in your work here. All I have to say now is—don't let anything of the sort happen again!" There was a grim threat in the words.

Furious that he had not permitted her to defend herself, Eve returned to her desk. Mona had scored against her at every point. KREG NOTES

"Gajeski's Music Album" to be broadcast from KREG tonight at 7:30, will feature three musical gems by master composers. The selections, familiar to most lovers of music, are "The Glow Worm," Lincke, and "The Broken Melody," Van Biene, as played by the Columbia Concert Orchestra, and "The Sacred Hour," a reverie by Ketelbey as played by Albert W. Ketelbey and His Light Concert Orchestra with Organ. The program is sponsored by the Gajeski Furniture company of Santa Ana.

A highly dramatic sketch entitled 'Retribution" will be enacted by an all-star cast tonight at 7:45. It is a story about a romantic, old Bohemian journalist who, wishing to advance the career of a struggling young actress with whom he was madly in love, and to get her front page publicity, goes to the extent of even sacrificing his life to gain it for her. The sketch, a dramatization of a true story, will feature Howard Smith, noted stage and radio star.

The entertaining and educational historical drama series, "American Presidents," will be heard in another episode at 8 o'clock tonight from KREG through the facilities of the California Broadcasting company. The serial is now describing the experiences of Washington when he was waging war against the French in the middle west.

"Dr. Reed's Rhythme" will be heard at 7 o'clock tonight on KREG, featuring popular hit songs and melodies of the day.

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, Orange county health officer, will speak in behalf of the Christmas Seal sale campaign by the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association during their broadcast from 12 noon to 12:15 tomorrow morning.

Bonnie Mae Martin's presentation of classics tomorrow morning from KREG at 1:45 will comprise the "Po-Ling and Ming Toy" suite by Rudolf Friml.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

President Roosevelt's annual visit to Warm Springs, Ga., and his participation in the Georgia Bicentennial will be dramatized during the presentation of the March of Time over a nation-wide Columbia network including KHJ, at 5:30 this evening. Other news highlights of the week to be reenacted will probably include the outcome of the Litvinoff negotiations in regard to recognition of Soviet Russia, the continuation of NRA and AAA drives toward recovery, preparations for the official ending of repeal, and Secretary of State Hull's trip to Montevideo for the Pan-American conference.

The folk song, "Shortenin' Bread," which always brings a smile or two, has been chosen by Tommy McLaughlin as one of his numbers with "And So Goodbye" as his concluding number for the "Threads of Happiness" program to be broadcast over a nation-wide Columbia network including KHJ at 6:15 tonight.

Howard Jones, gridiron mentor of the University of Southern California, will speak during the broadcast of the All-American Football Show at 6:30 tonight over KHJ. He will be interviewed by Christy Walsh in Chicago on the eve of the annual U. S. C.-Notre Dame game.

President Roosevelt will officially dedicate Georgia Hall, part of the Warm Springs Foundation for the treatment of infantile paralysis victims, in a ceremony which will be broadcast over an NBC network including KFSD at 7:30 tonight.

A Chuhaldin, conductor of the "Symphonic Strings" concert, broadcast from Toronto in the series of Columbia-Canadian exchange programs, will open the program with the Overture to Mozart's highly colored opera, "Il Seragilo," during the presentation at 8 tonight over the Columbia chain including KHJ.

Soft music and sweet melodies is the musical fare served tonight by KHJ when "Mellowed Melodies," 8:15 to 8:30, features Raymond Paige and his Orchestra and the melodious harmonies of Hazel Warner and Norman Nielsen.

One of the most thriling and colorful programs of the current season over KPO, the Big Game Football Rally, will be broadcast at 9:30 tonight as a prelude to the Stanford-California game Saturday. Replete with the names of personalities from the campuses of both colleges, the Rally will be extended to a full hour on this occasion.

No. 31101
NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Stella Menges, Plaintiff,

Under and by virtue of an order of sale and decree of foreclosure and writ for the enforcement of judgment issued out of the above entitled Court in the above entitled action on the 17th day of November, 1933, wherein the above named plaintiff obtained a judgment and decree on the 13th day of November, 1933, which said judgment and decree was on the 16th day of November, 1933, entered and recorded in Judgment Book 31, of said Court, at Page 238 et seq., to which judgment and decree reference is hereby made, I am commanded to sell at public auction all that certain real property situate in the Rancho Santiago de Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, and described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point 49 6-26 rods East of the Northwest corner of Section Seventeen (17), Township Five (5) South, Range Nine (9) West, S. B. B. & M.; as per map in partition of the Rancho Santiago de Santa Ana, running thence East 34 rods to G. B. Lyon's Sub.; thence South 65 rods; thence West 34 rods to the East line of lands of the L. C. Birch Estate; thence North 65 rods to the point of beginning.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 11th day of December, 1933, at 11:45 A. M. of that day, at the South Front Door of the County Court House, in the City of Santa Ana, California, in obedience to said order of sale and decree of foreclosure and writ for the enforcement of judgment, I will sell the above described real property or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment with interest and costs and expenses of sale, at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States.

BEN BLEE.
Commissioner Appointed by Said Court.
HARVEY & HARVEY,
Santa Ana, California,
Attorneys for Plaintiff.

ORDINANCE NO. 988

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, CALLING A SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD IN SAID CITY ON THE 19TH DAY OF DECEMBER, 1933, AND PROVIDING FOR THE SUBMISSION TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF SAID CITY OF THE PROPOSITION OF INCURRING INDEBTEDNESS FOR THE ERECTION AND CONSTRUCTION OF A CITY HALL ON CITY OWNED PROPERTY, PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS THEREFOR, FOR THE LEVYING OF A TAX FOR THE PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS, CONSOLIDATING SAID SPECIAL ELECTION WITH THE STATE SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD ON DECEMBER 19TH, 1933, DESIGNATING THE POLLING PLACES, AND APPOINTING ELECTION OFFICERS FOR SAID ELECTION.

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Santa Ana, California, at an adjourned regular meeting, held on the 13th day of November, 1933, by a vote of more than two-thirds of its members, duly passed and adopted a Resolution determining:

That the public interest and necessity demand the erection and construction of a City Hall and necessary appurtenances thereto, upon City owned property; and

WHEREAS, said Resolution was duly approved by the Mayor of said City of Santa Ana on the 13th day of November, 1933, and duly attested and certified to by the City Clerk of said City on the 13th day of November, 1933;

NOW, THEREFORE, the City Council of the City of Santa Ana ordains as follows:

SECTION 1. That the proposition of incurring a bonded debt for the purposes set forth in Resolution No. 2370, adopted by the City

KREG NOTES

"Gajeski's Music Album" to be broadcast from KREG tonight at 7:30, will feature three musical gems by master composers. The selections, familiar to most lovers of music, are "The Glow Worm," Lincke, and "The Broken Melody," Van Biene, as played by the Columbia Concert Orchestra, and "The Sacred Hour," a reverie by Ketelbey as played by Albert W. Ketelbey and His Light Concert Orchestra with Organ. The program is sponsored by the Gajeski Furniture company of Santa Ana.

A highly dramatic sketch entitled 'Retribution" will be enacted by an all-star cast tonight at 7:45. It is a story about a romantic, old Bohemian journalist who, wishing to advance the career of a struggling young actress with whom he was madly in love, and to get her front page publicity, goes to the extent of even sacrificing his life to gain it for her. The sketch, a dramatization of a true story, will feature Howard Smith, noted stage and radio star.

The entertaining and educational historical drama series, "American Presidents," will be heard in another episode at 8 o'clock tonight from KREG through the facilities of the California Broadcasting company. The serial is now describing the experiences of Washington when he was waging war against the French in the middle west.

"Dr. Reed's Rhythms" will be heard at 7 o'clock tonight on KREG, featuring popular hit songs and melodies of the day.

Dr. K. H. Sutherland, Orange county health officer, will speak in behalf of the Christmas Seal sale campaign by the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association during their broadcast from 12 noon to 12:15 tomorrow morning.

Bonnie Mae Martin's presentation of classics tomorrow morning from KREG at 1:45 will comprise the "Po-Ling and Ming Toy" suite by Rudolf Friml.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

President Roosevelt's annual visit to Warm Springs, Ga., and his participation in the Georgia Bicentennial will be dramatized during the presentation of the March of Time over a nation-wide Columbia network including KHJ, at 5:30 this evening. Other news highlights of the week to be reenacted will probably include the outcome of the Litvinoff negotiations in regard to recognition of Soviet Russia, the continuation of NRA and AAA drives toward recovery, preparations for the official ending of repeal, and Secretary of State Hull's trip to Montevideo for the Pan-American conference.

The folk song, "Shortenin' Bread," which always brings a smile or two, has been chosen by Tommy McLaughlin as one of his numbers with "And So Goodbye" as his concluding number for the "Threads of Happiness" program to be broadcast over a nation-wide Columbia network including KHJ at 6:15 tonight.

Howard Jones, gridiron mentor of the University of Southern California, will speak during the broadcast of the All-American Football Show at 6:30 tonight over KHJ. He will be interviewed by Christy Walsh in Chicago on the eve of the annual U. S. C.-Notre Dame game.

President Roosevelt will officially dedicate Georgia Hall, part of the Warm Springs Foundation for the treatment of infantile paralysis victims, in a ceremony which will be broadcast over an NBC network including KFSD at 7:30 tonight.

A Chuhaldin, conductor of the "Symphonic Strings" concert, broadcast from Toronto in the series of Columbia-Canadian exchange programs, will open the program with the Overture to Mozart's highly colored opera, "Il Seraglio," during the presentation at 8 tonight over the Columbia chain including KHJ.

Soft music and sweet melodies is the musical fare served tonight by KHJ when "Mellowed Melodies," 8:15 to 8:30, features Raymond Paige and his Orchestra and the melodious harmonies of Hazel Warner and Norman Nielsen.

One of the most thrilling and colorful programs of the current season over KPO, the Big Game Football Rally, will be broadcast at 9:30 tonight as a prelude to the Stanford-California game Saturday. Replete with the names of personalities from the campuses of both colleges, the Rally will be extended to a full hour on this occasion.

SATURDAY
Football Broadcast

A rich menu of college football is scheduled for broadcasting Saturday as follows: Army-Navy—KHJ, parade from 9-9:30, game 10:45; KECA, 10:15; KFI, 10:15 to 11:15. U. S. C.-Notre Dame—KHJ, last half after Army-Navy game ends; KFI, 11:15, play by play telegraph reports of first half, balance direct. Stanford-California—KHJ, 1:45. U. C. L. Here Is News
For Buying a Home
An easy plan of finance for that home lying dormant in the storeroom of your dreams.
Just imagine buying your home on a budget plan (like rent) and at only 6% interest—At prices so low that NOT to investigate would be folly. A large listing (all modern) that insures you of a choice in size, locality and architecture. In other words, a home that will fit every possible demand, at a price that is lower than low and a means of payment that you cannot resist—THINK OF IT! All this in the face of the fact that values are bound to rise.

BANKING POWERS AGAINST HAND THAT FED THEM

The Federal Reserve Board is out openly against the administration's program of a free market for gold and his failure to "peg" the dollar in terms of gold. The government has been buying gold, as is well known, in the open market, endeavoring thereby to raise its price in terms of the dollar. The price has been raised, as on the whole, the price of all commodities has been raised in terms of currency.

The President has declared his determination to reach the point where the country has a dollar of such value, in terms of commodities, whether corn or cotton and other staples, of equal value to what the dollar was at the time when the debts of the country were incurred. The President has steadfastly worked toward that end. He has not done what the extreme inflationists would like to have him do.

He has proceeded along this program, however, with a definite purpose, and those who are determined that the dollar shall not reach such a point, where it would be on an equitable basis in relation to commodities as it was at the time the most of the borrowings were made, are out to organize public opinion against the administration.

Within the past few days, the predictions have been freely made by leading bankers in the country, that the President's procedure was undermining, and had undermined, the confidence of the country in the government's credit. Now it appears that while during this period the Treasury department of the government has been sustaining the credit of the country by buying bonds, the Federal Reserve, in the open market, has been selling these bonds, very apparently doing their level best to create the very condition which it was predicted would come to pass, and very apparently doing so for the purpose of producing the condition of lack of confidence which it desired to produce, in order to defeat the administration in its aim.

The government, through the Treasury department, has taken over some of the powers that have been exercised by the Federal Reserve. The big banking interests of the East are at the present in serious grips with the President, which may have an outcome much farther reaching than the bankers and the Federal Reserve leaders now imagine. We can hardly believe it possible that this group can be so ignorant of the sentiment of the people of the United States as to do such a foolhardy thing as they are now doing.

Incidentally, we recall how the banks of the country fought the organization of the Federal Reserve, because they felt that they were going to lose some of their power through its operation. The Federal Reserve was designed and has fulfilled a great purpose, but the private interests which control it, in our judgment, have found a way to manipulate currency and credit, so that by joining in with the British interests, through the process of deflation in this country, they are carrying on to the people's downfall and to their own aggrandizement. They soon will be fighting equally hard and as futilely against the government taking over the functions which belong to it entirely, and thereby removing any possibility of such treasonable acts as are now being exposed.

One of the most serious criticisms has even been that the President should have taken over the banks on the 4th of March and the things they are now doing will increase that sentiment. There has been no doubt in the minds of many millions of people that many of the functions of the government itself, as granted by the Constitution, in the determination of the value of money, have practically been usurped by certain elements in the banking fraternity.

The exposure of what has happened with the people's money, by those in position of power at the head of our banks, has destroyed almost the last vestige of confidence that the people have had in the institutions. And whatever confidence now remains is rather tied to the President, in his effort to correct the outstanding evils, and to bring back a condition where there will be some degree of justice in the currency and credit system.

For this group to attempt to head off the President, and throttle his efforts, in our judgment, instead of accomplishing its purpose, will force the President to take more severe and far-reaching measures, in which he will have the approval of the people and of Congress, which represents the people.

We have congratulated ourselves as a people, that the seat of power had been transferred from Wall Street in New York to the end of Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington. But now it appears that the usurpers of power in Wall Street only supposed that they had released their grip temporarily, and had been dismayed at the earnestness with which the President has pursued his course. Now they propose to "show him." And they are "showing him" by unloading the securities of the government on the market, in order to beat down the value and thereby arouse public sentiment against the government.

It can't be done. The searchlight of truth and publicity will be turned on it. The President and his friends are not even dependent for publicity upon the publications issued from the press of many of our great cities, which press is controlled by the enemies of the President, for over the radio, as nowhere else, he can reach the ears and the hearts of his countrymen. And they not only have faith in him, because of what he has done, and the manner in which he has done it, but a tremendously increased confidence because of the character of the enemies he is making. If anything were needed to demonstrate to the people that they have a Chief Executive who is devoted to their cause, this attitude of the United States Chamber of Commerce and the bankers certainly completes the picture. Isn't it singular that after all the government has done and is doing for the banks, that this is the reward that the governmen should receive?

SMITH ATTACKS BOOTLEGGER

Ex-governor Smith has finally come out against the bootleggers. After encouraging them for years; after ridiculing the efforts of law-abiding citizens to get the law enforced, Smith has turned against his former friends and certainly political "pals." He signed a law in New York state when he was Governor, destroying all power of the state to co-operate with the Federal government in the enforcement of the law. He did more to encourage and protect bootleggers, through that single act, in our judgment, than any other group of men were able to accomplish.

Not only so, but consistently by taking a position against the Constitution, his attitude was a steady encouragement to the bootlegging fraternity. But now notice, he says:

> Now that the 18th Amendment is repealed, there is no reason why any decent citizen should lend support to any group seeking to violate the law. American people are a patriotic people.

Does Mr. Smith imagine that whether the 18th amendment is repealed, or whether it isn't repealed, there is any reason why any decent citizen should support a group who violate the law? But further in his anxiety to prevent the present condition from reaching the point where the revulsion of public opinion will drive some of these erstwhile leaders into political oblivion, he says:

> Even if the taxation of liquor becomes so great that the bootlegger will be in a position to tempt the people to avoid payment, the good citizen will prefer to support his government rather than to support any group attempting to cheat the government.

Did Mr. Smith take this position in other days? Has he any right to appeal to good citizens to obey the law and support the government upon this question?

He says the people now have the opportunity, not only to be law abiding, but the opportunity to help our country by increasing the taxation revenue so the budget can be balanced. Think of it! They have the opportunity now to be good citizens and to buy booze, so the government can get the money, and the more they buy, the more patriotic they will be.

Mr. Smith was all the time for the liquor producers and the liquor sellers. He was aiding in breaking down the law of the Federal government before, in order to get the liquor fellows into business. He is now pleading with the very fellows whom he formerly encouraged, in a way, to violate the law, to keep the law, in order to help the fellows who are now manufacturing and selling the liquor.

We are in favor of the enforcement of the law as it is upon the statute books. We are not in favor of the government making money out of the misery and poverty of the people. The people should obey the law, not to put money into the treasury of the government, but because it is the decree of democracy.

Bootleggers should be put down. But it is infinitely more difficult to determine today who the bootlegger is than it was when it was illegal to sell liquor. A drunk pedestrian or a drunk driver we knew before was in such condition because of a bootlegger. Today we do not know whether it is the bootlegger who has made him drunk or the legal seller of liquor.

CAFFERY SUCCEEDS WELLES

The President, it appears, has determined to remove Ambassador Welles from his duties in Cuba, returning him to the State Department, and appointing Jefferson Caffery, now Assistant Secretary of State, in his place.

We do not understand why the President does not counsel with Cuba as to who would be agreeable to them. The interests in this country that are anxious to have a certain group in power in Cuba, and to keep the island in turmoil, until they get their wish, are so clear that the administration certainly cannot be deceived as to the intent. If there is doubt concerning the stability of the government, and it is desired that we shall not recognize it until that doubt is removed, keep our representative out entirely. But when that doubt is removed, then recognize the government and place there some representative who is persona grata to the government itself.

To send a representative of the United States to Cuba, when it has a government, which our government has not recognized, and which it refuses to recognize, because of disorder, and that disorder to a very considerable extent is fostered and encouraged by the interests in the United States which do not like the new government of Cuba, is directly against everything that we believe President Roosevelt stands for.

Changing from Welles to Caffery, we are afraid, is not changing the real attitude of the government in respect to Cuba, and our recollections of Caffery in relation to Colombian oil and Mellon, are not such that we can have the most unbounded faith that he is going in with terribly high ideals.

THE AUTUMN SHOW

When the frost of autumn closes
All the petals of the roses,
When the asters droop and dangle
On their stalks,
When there are no lovely bowers
Of belated summer flowers
To lighten up the quiet
Garden walks,
When, except the chirping sparrows,
There is not a bird to sing,
Then it is the solemn forests
Have their fling.

Then the dignified old fellows
Clad in reds and pinks and yellows—
Every slim and tossing twiglet,
Every limb—
Flaunt the robes that they are wearing
For their brilliant autumn airing
Till they almost make the rainbow
Dull and dim.
They are lovely in the summer
In their shining verdant pall,
But they gleam in all their glory
In the Fall.

But the iris-tinted leaf time
Only lingers for a brief time,
Soon the leaves come falling, falling
Crisp and sere,
And nobody will remember
In the chill days of December
With their cheer,
Till the birds come hurrying homeward
Robin, oriole and wren,
And the Spring is in its glory,
Once again.

Founders' Day was observed at the meeting of Santa Ana Ebell society in celebration of its twenty-fifth anniversary. Miss Theresa Cogswell of Pomona, recently returned from war work overseas, addressed the clubwomen.

At a congregational meeting held in Tustin Presbyterian church, plans for building a fine new church were considered. W. L. Leihy, chairman of the board of trustees, conducted the business session and the Rev. W. S. McDougall was elected moderator.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kilson, formerly of Ventura, had purchased a 20-acre walnut tract on McFadden street, where ground was broken for the erection of a modern bungalow which would be their home. The grove was one of the banner groves of budded walnuts, and the year's crop just harvested, brought in more than $9,000.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

REVERTING TO TRIBALISM

The current stampede towards a policy of relatively isolated nationalism will, in my judgment, be interpreted by the historian a hundred years from now as the beginning of the civilized modern's retreat to tribalism. That is, it will be so interpreted if the stampede is sustained and the nations generally go in for exclusive economic nationalism. At the moment it seems as if this is in the cards.

This reversion to economic nationalism is a confession upon the part of statesmanship the world around that it simply is not up to the job of administering this age of plenty, created by science and technology, for the maximum possible benefit of humanity the world around. It means that a baffled statesmanship is setting out to liquidate the age of plenty and lead humanity back to an age of scarcity.

For a time science and technology opened up to us the possibility of a higher and higher standard of living based upon more goods at lower prices. Exclusive economic nationalism, the scaling down of our industrial and agricultural plant to domestic needs, is already moving in the direction of less goods at higher prices.

Look for a moment at the problem economic nationalism puts to American agriculture. If we assume a relatively isolated nationalism, we must concede that we have, so far as present market possibilities are concerned, a grave agricultural surplus. And we must, in consequence, concede the necessity of scaling our agricultural production on American farms. A twenty-cow dairy farm, cut to ten cows, cannot hope to operate, with its stubborn overhead, as efficiently as before. A rise in the cost of production must mean a rise in prices. This rise in prices will almost inevitably reduce consumption. And in the long run will, I am convinced, reduce the actual purchasing power of the farmer. And this same cycle will work itself out with the factory worker.

It will not prove possible permanently to subsidize the farmer out of taxes upon other classes. Both the men of the farms and the men of the factories want more goods, not less. And at lower prices, not at higher prices. Also it has filtered down to the man in the street and the man in the furrow that science and technology have made more goods at lower prices possible if we can only master instead of being mastered that much of the rebellion evident by our machinery. I am convinced in some farm circles today is due to a dim sensing of the fact that exclusive economic nationalism will inevitably shove the American farmer back to subsistence farming. That would not only lower the farmer's standard of living, but would strike a staggering blow at American industry, for the subsistence farmer will not be a good customer for industry's output.

I am quite aware that the nature and sources of world trade have changed profoundly as, following the war, other nations have entered production fields from which we formerly exported heavily. When the whole wide world has become industrialized, the separate nations will doubtless face the problem of profund readjustments. Trade will then properly shrink drastically. A leisure civilization now undreamed of will have to be organized. But we have not reached that point yet. We are not ready for it. Asia and the East generally hold incredible trade opportunity for us. More than enough to absorb all that we must forget in Europe. We may have to find ways of taking Indian and Chinese silver. But that is not impossible.

We are at least a century, and probably more, too early to talk about exclusive economic nationalism.

Our Children By Angelo Patri

A PRESENT

"I brought you a fine book, Simon. I hope you like it as much as I did."

"Thank you, Aunt Mildred. What's it about?"

"Yes, Aunt Mildred."

Simon took the beautiful book and carried it to his room. One swift glance confirmed his suspicions. "What a gyp. As if I cared about cathedrals. And I thought I had a dandy book. She could have bought me the new one about Desert Islands. Gee, I'd like to own that book. Or the one about the airplane voyages. That's a good one. Cathedrals. What a gyp."

It is always too bad when a devoted friend or relative buys a present for a child to please himself. Plenty of people do that. Do they like history? All the nephews and nieces get history books at Christmas or on anniversary dates. Do they like perfume? The children get perfume. If they collect coins the children get an old coin for a starter in the collection they will never make. The only person who is pleased is the giver. The child is disappointed.

Presents can be such a source of joy when they are rightly given. Nothing lifts a child to such a height of delight as a surprise present. The sight of a neatly tied box with his name on, the sight of the smiling postman holding out a package to him, is just about the jolliest sight his eyes can ever behold. We all like to make children happy, but we are all likely to spoil our gift by making it to ourselves.

Give a little thought to the kind of child for whom you are selecting the present. Maybe he doesn't like books at all. Then don't buy him a book. Don't argue with yourself that he ought to like books. You aren't reforming him, you are making him a present to make him happy. Get him what he likes most and is likely to use.

Clothes are a very usual present. "That's a love of a little hat. I'll buy it for Grace." "Isn't that a sweet little dress? I'm going to get it for Helen." That's all right if the hat suits the child and the dress is one that Helen can wear. I have known dresses to be sent to children who could have no possible use for them. Party gowns intended for a city miss sent to a child in the mountains who needed clothes for school. A dark blue silk dress with severe cuffs and collar sent to a fourteen year old girl who was starving for a party gown.

Presents can be a source of great joy and again, they can be the source of great bitterness. A little thought settles the question. Buy the gift for the child and not for yourself and there it is.

BANKING POWERS AGAINST HAND THAT FED THEM

The Federal Reserve Board is out openly against the administration's program of a free market for gold and his failure to "peg" the dollar in terms of gold. The government has been buying gold, as is well known, in the open market, endeavoring thereby to raise its price in terms of the dollar. The price has been raised, as on the whole, the price of all commodities has been raised in terms of currency.

The President has declared his determination to reach the point where the country has a dollar of such value, in terms of commodities, whether corn or cotton and other staples, of equal value to what the dollar was at the time when the debts of the country were incurred. The President has steadfastly worked toward that end. He has not done what the extreme inflationists would like to have him do.

He has proceeded along this program, however, with a definite purpose, and those who are determined that the dollar shall not reach such a point, where it would be on an equitable basis in relation to commodities as it was at the time the most of the borrowings were made, are out to organize public opinion against the administration.

Within the past few days, the predictions have been freely made by leading bankers in the country, that the President's procedure was undermining, and had undermined, the confidence of the country in the government's credit. Now it appears that while during this period the Treasury department of the government has been sustaining the credit of the country by buying bonds, the Federal Reserve, in the open market, has been selling these bonds, very apparently doing their level best to create the very condition which it was predicted would come to pass, and very apparently doing so for the purpose of producing the condition of lack of confidence which it desired to produce, in order to defeat the administration in its aim.

The government, through the Treasury department, has taken over some of the powers that have been exercised by the Federal Reserve. The big banking interests of the East are at the present in serious grips with the President, which may have an outcome much farther reaching than the bankers and the Federal Reserve leaders now imagine. We can hardly believe it possible that this group can be so ignorant of the sentiment of the people of the United States as to do such a foolhardy thing as they are now doing.

Incidentally, we recall how the banks of the country fought the organization of the Federal Reserve, because they felt that they were going to lose some of their power through its operation. The Federal Reserve was designed and has fulfilled a great purpose, but the private interests which control it, in our judgment, have found a way to manipulate currency and credit, so that by joining in with the British interests, through the process of deflation in this country, they are carrying on to the people's downfall and to their own aggrandizement. They soon will be fighting equally hard and as futilely against the government taking over the functions which belong to it entirely, and thereby removing any possibility of such treasonable acts as are now being exposed.

One of the most serious criticisms has even been that the President should have taken over the banks on the 4th of March and the things they are now doing will increase that sentiment. There has been no doubt in the minds of many millions of people that many of the functions of the government itself, as granted by the Constitution, in the determination of the value of money, have practically been usurped by certain elements in the banking fraternity.

The exposure of what has happened with the people's money, by those in position of power at the head of our banks, has destroyed almost the last vestige of confidence that the people have had in the institutions. And whatever confidence now remains is rather tied to the President, in his effort to correct the outstanding evils, and to bring back a condition where there will be some degree of justice in the currency and credit system.

For this group to attempt to head off the President, and throttle his efforts, in our judgment, instead of accomplishing its purpose, will force the President to take more severe and far-reaching measures, in which he will have the approval of the people and of Congress, which represents the people.

We have congratulated ourselves as a people, that the seat of power had been transferred from Wall Street in New York to the end of Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington. But now it appears that the usurpers of power in Wall Street only supposed that they had released their grip temporarily, and had been dismayed at the earnestness with which the President has pursued his course. Now they propose to "show him." And they are "showing him" by unloading the securities of the government on the market, in order to beat down the value and thereby arouse public sentiment against the government.

It can't be done. The searchlight of truth and publicity will be turned on it. The President and his friends are not even dependent for publicity upon the publications issued from the press of many of our great cities, which press is controlled by the enemies of the President, for over the radio, as nowhere else, he can reach the ears and the hearts of his countrymen. And they not only have faith in him, because of what he has done, and the manner in which he has done it, but a tremendously increased confidence because of the character of the enemies he is making. If anything were needed to demonstrate to the people that they have a Chief Executive who is devoted to their cause, this attitude of the United States Chamber of Commerce and the bankers certainly completes the picture. Isn't it singular that after all the government has done and is doing for the banks, that this is the reward that the government should receive?

SMITH ATTACKS BOOTLEGGER

Ex-governor Smith has finally come out against the bootleggers. After encouraging them for years; after ridiculing the efforts of law-abiding citizens to get the law enforced, Smith has turned against his former friends and certainly political "pals." He signed a law in New York state when he was Governor, destroying all power of the state to co-operate with the Federal government in the enforcement of the law. He did more to encourage and protect bootleggers, through that single act, in our judgment, than any other group of men were able to accomplish.

Not only so, but consistently by taking a position against the Constitution, his attitude was a steady encouragement to the bootlegging fraternity. But now notice, he says:

> Now that the 18th Amendment is repealed, there is no reason why any decent citizen should lend support to any group seeking to violate the law. American people are a patriotic people.

Does Mr. Smith imagine that whether the 18th amendment is repealed, or whether it isn't repealed, there is any reason why any decent citizen should support a group who violate the law? But further in his anxiety to prevent the present condition from reaching the point where the revulsion of public opinion will drive some of these erstwhile leaders into political oblivion, he says:

> Even if the taxation of liquor becomes so great that the bootlegger will be in a position to tempt the people to avoid payment, the good citizen will prefer to support his government rather than to support any group attempting to cheat the government.

These poor devils read themselves into an erly grave in order that the average reader may suffer a little less, and in the herly berly of modern life we shouldn't scorn the litterary critics any more than we should scorn any other labor saving devices, he said.

Yes sir that's what I thawt, I said. I saw a book in the lyberry today, and the title of it looked pritty good but it didn't have any pictures, and I was wondering to myself whether to take it out or not, and I noticed somebody had wrote on the ferst page, This is a swell book, I said.

Well, that mite come under the head of litterary criticism, pop said. A bit unorthodox, perhaps even radical, but no doubt sincere and werthy of consideration, he said, and I said, Yes, sir that's what I thawt, and I was just deciding to take the book home and reed it and I looked to see how many pages there was and there was 209 and somebody had wrote on the last page, This book is punk.

By gollies, that put you in a quandary almost amounting to a dilemma, didn't it? pop said, and I said, Sir? Yes sir, so I didn't know wich to bleeve so I decided to be broad minded and take the book and reed at least the ferst half and by that time I'll proberly know whether to reed the 2nd half to or just skip it.

That's a splendid ideer and I think more people awt to apply it to their reeding, pop said.

In the Long Ago

14 Years Ago Today

NOVEMBER 24, 1919

Founders' Day was observed at the meeting of Santa Ana Ebell society in celebration of its twenty-fifth anniversary. Miss Theresa Cogswell of Pomona, recently returned from war work overseas, addressed the clubwomen.

At a congregational meeting held in Tustin Presbyterian church, plans for building a fine new church were considered. W. L. Leihy, chairman of the board of trustees, conducted the business session and the Rev. W. S. McDougall was elected moderator.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kilson, formerly of Ventura, had purchased a 20-acre walnut tract on McFadden street, where ground was broken for the erection of a modern bungalow which would be their home. The grove was one of the banner groves of budded walnuts, and the year's crop just harvested, brought in more than $9,000.

Thoughts On Modern Life

REVERTING TO TRIBALISM

The current stampede towards a policy of relatively isolated nationalism will, in my judgment, be interpreted by the historian a hundred years from now as the beginning of the civilized modern's retreat to tribalism. That is, it will be so interpreted if the stampede is sustained and the nations generally go in for exclusive economic nationalism. At the moment it seems as if this is in the cards.

This reversion to economic nationalism is a confession upon the part of statesmanship the world around that it simply is not up to the job of administering this age of plenty, created by science and technology, for the maximum possible benefit of humanity the world around. It means that a baffled statesmanship is setting out to liquidate the age of plenty and lead humanity back to an age of scarcity.

For a time science and technology opened up to us the possibility of a higher and higher standard of living based upon more goods at lower prices. Exclusive economic nationalism, the scaling down of our industrial and agricultural plant to domestic needs, is already moving in the direction of less goods at higher prices.

Look for a moment at the problem economic nationalism puts to American agriculture. If we assume a relatively isolated nationalism, we must concede that we have, so far as present market possibilities are concerned, a grave agricultural surplus. And we must, in consequence, concede the necessity of scaling our agricultural production on American farms. A twenty-cow dairy farm, cut to ten cows, cannot hope to operate, with its stubborn overhead, as efficiently as before. A rise in the cost of production must mean a rise in prices. This rise in prices will almost inevitably reduce consumption. And in the long run will, I am convinced, reduce the actual purchasing power of the farmer. And this same cycle will work itself out with the factory worker.

It will not prove possible permanently to subsidize the farmer out of taxes upon other classes. Both the men of the farms and the men of the factories want more goods, not less. And at lower prices, not at higher prices. Also it has filtered down to the man in the street and the man in the furrow that science and technology have made more goods at lower prices possible if we can only master instead of being mastered that much of the rebellion evident by our machinery. I am convinced in some farm circles today is due to a dim sensing of the fact that exclusive economic nationalism will inevitably shove the American farmer back to subsistence farming. That would not only lower the farmer's standard of living, but would strike a staggering blow at American industry, for the subsistence farmer will not be a good customer for industry's output.

I am quite aware that the nature and sources of world trade have changed profoundly as, following the war, other nations have entered production fields from which we formerly exported heavily. When the whole wide world has become industrialized, the separate nations will doubtless face the problem of profund readjustments. Trade will then properly shrink drastically. A leisure civilization now undreamed of will have to be organized. But we have not reached that point yet. We are not ready for it. Asia and the East generally hold incredible trade opportunity for us. More than enough to absorb all that we must forget in Europe. We may have to find ways of taking Indian and Chinese silver. But that is not impossible.

We are at least a century, and probably more, too early to talk about exclusive economic nationalism.

Our Children

A PRESENT

"I brought you a fine book, Simon. I hope you like it as much as I did."

"Thank you, Aunt Mildred. What's it about?"

"The cathedrals of the Middle Ages. The illustrations are particularly good. The whole book is well done. It's really lovely."

Simon took the beautiful book and carried it to his room. One swift glance confirmed his suspicions. "What a gyp. As if I cared about cathedrals. And I thought I had a dandy book. She could have bought me the new one about Desert Islands. Gee, I'd like to own that book. Or the one about the airplane voyages. That's a good one. Cathedrals. What a gyp."

It is always too bad when a devoted friend or relative buys a present for a child to please himself. Plenty of people do that. Do they like history? All the nephews and nieces get history books at Christmas or on anniversary dates. Do they like perfume? The children get perfume. If they collect coins the children get an old coin for a starter in the collection they will never make. The only person who is pleased is the giver. The child is disappointed.

Presents can be such a source of joy when they are rightly given. Nothing lifts a child to such a height of delight as a surprise present. The sight of a neatly tied box with his name on, the sight of the smiling postman holding out a package to him, is just about the jolliest sight his eyes can ever behold. We all like to make children happy, but we are all likely to spoil our gift by making it to ourselves.

Give a little thought to the kind of child for whom you are selecting the present. Maybe he doesn't like books at all. Then don't buy him a book. Don't argue with yourself that he ought to like books. You aren't reforming him, you are making him a present to make him happy. Get him what he likes most and is likely to use.

Clothes are a very usual present. "That's a love of a little hat. I'll buy it for Grace." "Isn't that a sweet little dress? I'm going to get it for Helen." That's all right if the hat suits the child and the dress is one that Helen can wear. I have known dresses to be sent to children who could have no possible use for them. Party gowns intended for a city miss sent to a child in the mountains who needed clothes for school. A dark blue silk dress with severe cuffs and collar sent to a fourteen year old girl who was starving for a party gown.

Presents can be a source of great joy and again, they can be the source of great bitterness. A little thought settles the question. Buy the gift for the child and not for yourself and there it is.

Here and There

The strange inability of a child to learn to read and understand written or printed words, though normal in all other faculties, is known as word blindness and is caused not by defective vision but by a congenital brain lesion.
